Political Kettle Boils
The long-simmering political kettle has reached the boiling point. On the national stage, the cooking started when Harry Truman and Thomas Dewey formally squared off before Labor day audiences. Simultaneously, a number of equally exciting and significant state contests were joined.

To the smart politicoes, these local battles are second in importance only to the "big top" melee. For the politicoes know that what happens in these state arenas will profoundly affect not only the national contest but also the shape of things afterward.

The control of congress, of powerful organizations in key states, and, in the event Mr. Truman loses, of the national Democratic machinery, are at stake in these tests.

Intensifying the concern of the political generalissimos are 2 factors: The great body of "undecided" voters, manifest in every important poll; and the spectacular upset of Memphis Boss Crump by crusading Rep. Estes Kefauver. To the professional politicoes, these 2 items spell uncertainty. Anything can happen. The general public is itchy and new and fresher-sounding voices have a strong appeal.

Rank Surprise

High-ranking officers are in for a surprise when the report of the advisory commission on service pay is published.

The commission will recommend increases for enlisted men and junior officers, but none for the top grades. In fact, they actually may face a pay cut in the recommended elimination of tax deductions and certain allowances.

A previous committee of generals and admirals had recommended pay boosts for all ranks, with the top echelons getting the biggest increases. Defense Secretary Forrestal didn't even bother to send this report to congress. Instead he appointed the civilian commission to make a new study.

Shipping Ban Violated

The U. S. still is shipping vital war materials to countries behind the iron curtain. And these shipments still are being made with approval of the commerce department's office of international trade. This is the agency that formerly was headed by William Remington, leading figure in the Russian "spy" disclosures of the house un-American activities committee.

This astounding trade still is going on despite the administration's announced policy of banning it, despite the warlike aggressions and provocations of Russia and also despite the world-wide furor over the congressional revelations and their attending fantastic ramifications.

This column definitely has established the following facts regarding the continued export of war potentials to Communist-ruled countries:

The OIT has secretly issued a license for export of a large quantity of ball bearings and steel balls (for the manufacture of bearings) to Czechoslovakia. This license was issued to the Overseas Mercantile company, N. Y.

Satellite Czechoslovakia is today one of Russia's major munitions producers. The great Skoda plant has been converted entirely to military output. Further, ball bearings are a key essential in the making of war goods. Two of the most costly air force raids into Germany during the recent war were for the purpose of knocking out ball-bearing plants.

An official of the Overseas Mercantile company admitted that the ball bearings being shipped to Czechoslovakia could be used in war preparations.

Eye Poppers in Budget

Preliminary budget estimates submitted by the army and navy for next year are eye-poppers.

The 2 services are asking for approximately 5 billion dollars more than the 16 billion dollars congress voted them this year. The navy wants more than 11 billion dollars and the army more than 10 billion dollars.

This stupendous 21 billion dollar total does not include air force estimates. They are still to come and are sure to be not less than 7 billion dollars.

The 1949 budget is already in preparation. It will be submitted to the new congress in January by President Truman, whether he is re-elected or not. If they win, GOP leaders privately are planning to demand a voice in preparation of the budget.

Horse with Sprained Ankle Kicks So Hard Severs Foot Entirely and Has to Be Shot

62 YEARS AGO
August 26, 1886

Breaking wild horses on our main streets is not the proper thing to do. Someone may get hurt and then the natural result would be a suit for damages. If the boys must show their prowess and daring as riders let them secure the fair grounds and invite their friends to witness the performance. You might charge a small fee, just to keep the thing moving you know.

Last evening about 6 o'clock a team belonging to Mr. Hagerty got loose from his hired man and ran away, coming up the alley back of this office and running into Mr. Hagerty's barnyard and out into Douglas street where they were caught. In going through the barnyard they ran between the well curbing and nearly ran over Mrs. H. Sullivan. One of the horses got its right foreleg quite badly cut, though not seriously injured. No other damage to speak of was done.

Dr. Morris purchased a pair of horses out of the herd and Sunday afternoon was taking them to the fair grounds for the purpose of having them broke when one of them stepped into a ditch or hole and sprained one of the ankle joints of its hind legs. This gave it so much pain that it began kicking and finally kicked its foot off entirely and had to be shot.

The reunion at Norfolk is attracting considerable attention throughout north Nebraska and the state at large. Tuesday morning 2 carloads of color troops and 1 carload of Indian bucks and squaws went down to take part in the exercises. A great many people have already gone from O'Neill and this morning many more took advantage of the cheap rates and went.

While in Stuart Monday night we noticed that George Bowring's new mill was enclosed and painted outside and presented a very fine appearance. The machinery is not all in as yet, but they expect to be ready for work in a few weeks or more.

During the rainstorm Monday morning lightning struck the corner of O. F. Biglin's implement house and in a few seconds a good sized fire had started, but it was discovered by Nightwatchman Kane, who sounded the alarm and the department soon had it under control. The damage to the building will not exceed $100.

The foundation of the Naylor building on Douglas street is completed and work on the building proper will commence next week. The building will be of cement blocks, instead of brick as at first intended.

The work of excavating for the post office building was completed yesterday and Andrew Schmidt, who has the contract for the brick work, will begin laying brick the first of the week.

Yesterday was one of Judge Malone's busy days, having been called upon to perform 2 marriage ceremonies during the afternoon. The second couple to be joined in wedlock was Eli H. Hashaw, 80, of Page, to Mrs. Murcy E. Ha-

Charles Pruss has just completed his new stockyards on the Northwestern tracks and says that he is now better prepared than ever to take care of his many patrons. Later in the fall he expects to put a cement floor in the yards and will then be able to get into the yard without any danger of being mired in the mud.

L. C. Chapman and H. W. Tomlinson drove to the 600-acre ranch belonging to Mr. Chapman, located about 15 miles southwest of O'Neill, the first of the week. Mr. Chapman expected to find everything dried up but was agreeably surprised to find corn standing 10 feet high, covered with large ears of bright green color; the garden truck was plentiful; lack of rain had not seriously affected things in that locality.

Holt county was pretty well soaked up with rain during the past week with the exception of O'Neill which received only .16 on Friday night and .32 on Sunday evening; other
