Contributors to Jubilee Edition Include Homer Campbell, Mrs. Melvin, Miss Brennan

Homer Campbell, an early day printer and band man who advanced to become a member of the editorial staff of the Seattle (Wash.) Post-Intelligencer, furnishes some of the pioneer classics that add sparkle to The Frontier's Diamond Jubilee Edition, which will mark the 75th anniversary of the arrival of the first colony in O'Neill.

Mrs. John Melvin and Miss Bernadette Brennan, both daughters of early O'Neill colonists, also have contributed interesting features for the Jubilee edition. There's also the story about the few stragglers on the nearly deserted streets who were frozen in their tracks, then galvanized into action when the scream of a woman burst out on the calm Summer night. The incident occurred on O'Neill's Fourth street in the days of yesteryear.
