Hynes-Nissen Nuptials Said

Miss Margaret Hynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Hynes, of O'Neill, and Dale A. Nissen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nissen, of Page, exchanged marriage vows on Thursday, June 9. The nine o'clock ceremony took place at St. Patrick's Catholic church in O'Neill with Rev. C. J. Werner officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a shirred bodice, long pointed sleeves and a round neckline of illusion lace set off by scalloped lace. Her full skirt fell into a chapel-length train. A beaded tiara held her finger-tipped veil in place. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary Hynes, sister of the bride, attended her as maid-of-honor. Her off-the-shoulder gown was of blue Swiss polka dot with a hoop skirt trimmed with small red bows. Her bouquet was of red-and-white roses.

Miss Bernadette Hynes, a nd Miss Kitty Reinhardt, of Omaha, cousins of the bride, acted as bridesmaids. Miss Hynes wore a pink off-the-shoulder gown. Her arm bouquet was of green-and-white carnations. Miss Reinhardt's gown was of orchid net over taffeta. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow-and-white carnations. The bridesmaids wore headbands of matching carnations and long matching nylon mitts.

The bridegroom was attired in a grey business suit. Edward Thurnish, a friend, was his only attendant. He wore a brown pin-stripe business suit. Both men wore carnation boutonnières. The ushers were John, brother of the bride, and Robert Hynes, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Hynes, mother of the bride, appeared in a beige crepe street-length dress complemented with white accessories. Her corsage was of rose snapdragons. Mrs. Nissen, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black crepe street-length dress with light accessories. Her corsage was, also, of rose snapdragons.

Miss Joanne Simonson, a friend of the bride, sang the "Agnus Dei." Misses Marie Birmingham and Lorraine Simonson sang the "Ave Maria." They were accompanied by Mrs. Gene Wolfe at the organ.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and their immediate families, followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nissen, Mr. and Mrs. Don Nissen, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Nissen; Otto Wahleth, of Page; Mr. and Mrs. George Fuelberth, of Hartington; Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Fuelberth, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Fuelberth, all of Osmond; Mr. and Mrs. William Nissen, of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skradski, Mrs. Floyd Reinhardt and son, James, Carl Lomatch, all of Omaha; Joseph Rotherham, of West Burlington, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Langan, Mrs. J. Langan and Mrs. Bud Schneider, all of Stuart; and Mrs. John Rotherham and son, James, of Inman.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy with the class of 1949.

Mr. Nissen is a graduate of Page high school. He spent a year in the army.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will be at home in O'Neill where the bridegroom is employed by Consumers public power district.

Harvest time is the time when you want truck dependability. You can count on it... 'round the clock and day after day... if your trucks are GMCs.

These rugged haulers have real truck engines... GMC-built valve-in-heads of the same basic design as those that powered nearly 600,000 GMC "Army Workhorse" trucks. They have tough, truck-built brakes, frames, axles, transmissions, clutches and springs... all designed and engineered to work with the engines to give top performance and economy on the heaviest, hardest harvest-hauling jobs.

GMCs are products of the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles. They benefit from the industry's finest truck engineering skills and manufacturing facilities. They're your best bet for farm work... harvest time or any time.

GMCs for farm work are offered in all standard light and medium duty body types... pickups, platforms, stakes, specialized tractors... plus medium-heavy duty chassis for special equipment installation.
