'Teeners' of Yesteryear Have Jolly Time in Doing Square Dances, Having Parties

BY PAT BRENNAN

Hi, Teens! Have a happy, safe and sane Fourth of July! Do you know that over two hundred people will be killed during this weekend? Don't any of you be responsible, if you drive the family car. Drive carefully. Never more than three in the front seat, don't ever crowd the driver, or don't do anything to take his mind off the road ahead.

The parade Saturday night was something to be proud of! Every teenager taking part deserves congratulations. Special congratulations to the leaders — they did a grand performance.

coln. I like O'Neill best, too, and I think most of us do.

The "teens" of 50 years ago had more fun (some of the oldtimers tell me) but we enjoy life, too, most of the time. These are lovely Summer days for picnics.

In the old days they had lots of fun at parties, dancing all the square dances. Everyone would be there, with no one left out, and they all had a jolly time.

There are some interesting books at the library for any of you boys or girls that like to read adventure stories. "Bob Clifton, Elephant Hunter," by Dock Hogue, is very interesting. Also there are: "High Trail," by Bibian Breck. "Swamp Boy," by M. B. M. Cormack, and "The Purple Tide," by Leland Silliman, and "Son of the Valley," by John R. Tunis.
