

The Washington-Merry-Go-Round —

Russians Recently Get Advice from Nadolny, Former German Ambassador

By DREW PEARSON

Reds Get Advice

Biggest question mark in the minds of every diplomat is whether the Russians have merely got soft temporarily or have made a major shift toward long-term cooperation with the rest of the world.

No diplomat, to date, dares venture a definite answer. However, uncensored reports from Germany give one significant clue which may reveal part of the answer.

Recently the Russians have been getting advice from Rudolf Nadolny, former German ambassador to Russia. Nadolny is not a Communist, is a German of Hungarian extraction, and a disciple of Bismark, who always favored close cooperation between Germany and Russia.

Nadolny's advice to Moscow has been to cut out the diplomatic bluster, and talk softly to the West, while simultaneously strengthening Russian-German ties.

If Moscow extends the olive branch to Western Europe and the United States, Nadolny is reported to have advised, Western opinion will be lulled and congress will not appropriate full funds for the North Atlantic pact.

German-Russian Pact?

In addition, Nadolny also met with German leaders last month and gave them significant advice that Germany's future lay with Russia. The way Nadolny sized it up was reported to be about as follows:

If there is peace, Russia can give far more to Germany than the allies for two reasons:

1. She controls Silesia and can return it.
2. Britain and the USA are hungry for markets. If there is no war this competition for markets will become keener, and Britain and the USA will keep Germany an agrarian state. Meanwhile, Russia has ample markets in China and offers no competition to Germany.

If, on the other hand, there is war, Nadolny said he had positive assurances that Germany would be spared. The Red army, he promised, would advance either through Norway or Italy. Therefore close German-Russian cooperation was essential.

Results was the stiff position taken by the Western German leaders at Bonn, when they first turned down Gen. Lucius Clay's proposals for a Western German state. It was only after the Big Three foreign ministers granted concessions that the German charter of government finally was accepted.

Phony Telegram Lobby

Not since the holding-company fight of 1935, when the private utility lobby bombarded congress with telegrams signed with names taken from a telephone directory, has Capitol Hill been deluged with so many phony telegrams and letters as in the current drive against public housing.

One of the lobby's most ingenious schemes is being worked on California congressmen by an organization with the high-sounding name, "Committee for home protection." Congressmen may not realize it, but this is merely a front for the powerful national association of home builders.

Its general chairman, Frederick C. Dockweiler, also happens to be general council of the Los Angeles Calif. home builders institute, while in the background is multimillionaire Fritz B. Burns, biggest West coast builder and former president of National Home Builders.

However, California congressmen would be even more amazed if they knew how the folks are being used by the "committee for home protection." Here is how the lobby operates:

Committee agents approach

citizens on the street, give them a "fact sheet," containing 10 sample telegrams denouncing public-housing legislation, and ask them to select one, copy it on a telegram blank provided by the lobby's agent, and sign it.

When 20 such "canned" telegrams have been collected, they are sent to a member of congress. The latter assumes the telegrams are legitimate messages from the voters back home.

In addition to the "fact sheet," which lobby agents hand to the public, they also have an "instruction sheet," which they are very careful not to hand out. These confidential instructions are a dead giveaway.

- "1. Select your prospect. Get a man who has absolutely no connection with the building or real estate business. This is a 'grass roots' campaign; so look for laborers, white-collar workers, veterans, housewives, small-shop keepers—people in the middle- and lower-income brackets.

- "2. Show your prospect your fact sheet.

- "3. Ask him to write his message on a telegram blank. Get him to select his favorite argument and state that in a maximum of 25 words."

Deming Hill Gets Attention

SANDCREEK—Vincent Osborne, of Atkinson, has been doing some work on the Deming hill. The cut has been widened and the hill cut down and prepared for graveling.

This is going to be a big aid to travelers as the road has been impassable during wet weather.

Other Sandcreek News

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lofquest and son and Mrs. Lofquest's mother, Mrs. Lottie Lofquest, drove to DeSmet, S. D., on Saturday, June 25, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Philbrick. Mrs. Lofquest plans on visiting several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Philbrick was the former Valera Lofquest.

Mrs. Russell Hipke, Roy and Keith were Saturday afternoon, June 19, callers at the Leonard Chaffin and J. B. Mellor homes.

Mrs. Alvin Lofquest and "Chucky" were Monday afternoon, June 20, callers at the Russell Hipke home.

Herbert Sweet called on Alvin Lofquest's Tuesday evening, June 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Allyn and Larry were Atkinson callers Saturday evening, June 18. The Progressive club held its annual Father's day dinner at the Cleveland church basement on Sunday, June 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fullerton and grandchildren, Bob Fullerton, Margery and Mary Clare Seger spent Tuesday, June 21, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Merrill Smith, her husband and family.

Mrs. Alvin Lofquest and Charles spent Thursday afternoon, June 23, visiting her sister, Mrs. Rollo Berry.

Miss Margie Ann Montgomery, of Valentine, was a guest of Mrs. Elsie Sweet and family a few days last week. Miss Montgomery also visited at the Rollo Berry home and other relatives in the Stuart vicinity. Miss Montgomery is a niece of Mrs. Sweet and the Berry's.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Smith and family were Sunday evening, June 19, supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. F. Seger and family, of Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dobias, jr., Roger and Rodney attended the wedding of Mrs. Dobias' sister, Miss Jeanne Scott, on Sunday afternoon, June 19, in Atkinson.

Mrs. James Deming and Robert were O'Neill callers on Wednesday, June 22.

Roger and Rodney Dobias spent Friday, June 24, with Neal, Doris and Darrel Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Allyn and family and Mrs. Munson were O'Neill visitors on Friday, June 24.

Charles Dobias, jr., was in O'Neill on business Friday, June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dobias, jr., drove to Sioux City Monday evening, June 20, returning Tuesday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Samms, of the Celia community. Roger and Rodney Dobias visited their grandmother, Mrs. D. F. Scott, while their parents were gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hipke, Roy and Keith were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hipke, of Springview. Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hipke operate the Glen Forge ranch, North of Springview. Mrs. Hipke was Maude Mellor before her marriage and both Mr. and Mrs. Hipke are former residents of this community.

James Deming and Robert were callers at the Russell Hipke home Wednesday evening, June 22. The men went on to the river fishing later in the evening.

Congratulations City of O'Neill

1859 . . . 1949

This Year Is Our . . .

90th Anniversary

Since Pony Express Days!

This week we celebrate 90 years of continuous quality brewing . . . 90 years in which the first small Goetz brewery has grown into two great modern establishments, and Goetz Country Club Pilsener Beer has become widely recognized as the "Pilsener of Perfection".

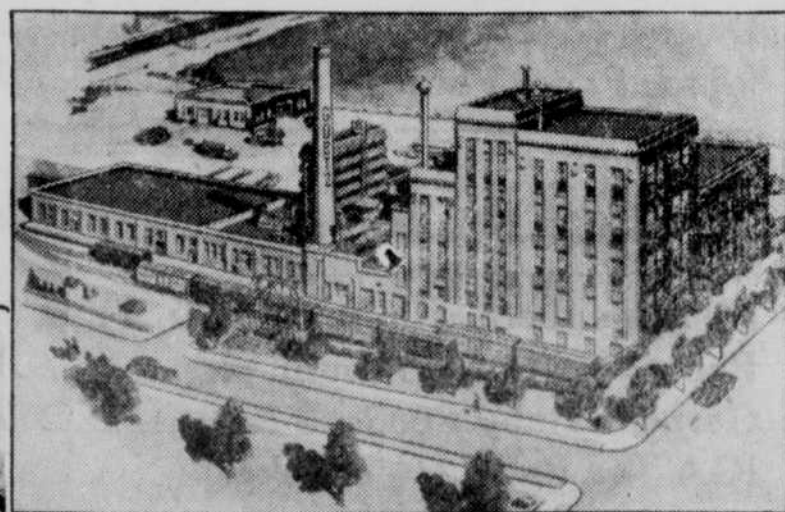

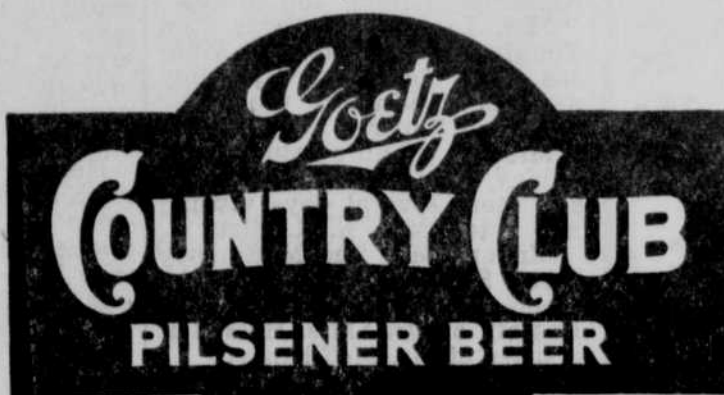

It was in 1859 . . . one year before the first Pony Express ride . . . that Michael Karl Goetz founded his brewery in St. Joseph, Missouri, and created a new high standard of beer quality. Through the years this exceptional quality standard has been faithfully maintained . . . the same rigid code of brewing practices has been followed by the Goetz family, now in its third generation.

Only such abundant experience could produce a beer of the supreme quality, mellow smoothness, excellence of character and popular flavor so distinctive of Goetz Country Club Pilsener Beer.

Today, all this accumulation of knowledge, wisdom and practiced skill goes into the blending, brewing and ageing of every drop of Goetz Country Club Pilsener Beer. Enjoy its supreme quality often.

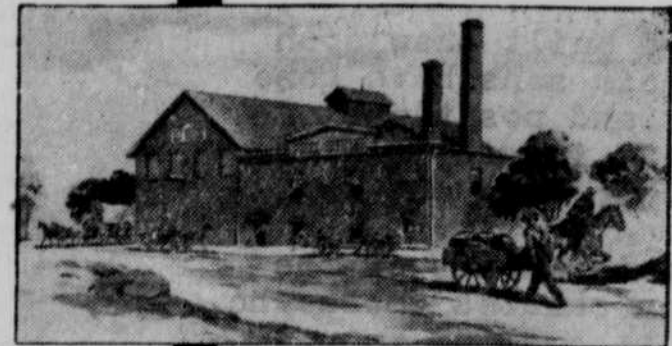

- Order a case of Country Club from your dealer.
- Pick up a supply of Country Club the next time you shop.
- Ask for Country Club wherever beer is served.

M. K. GOETZ BREWING COMPANY
St. Joseph, Mo. Kansas City, Mo.

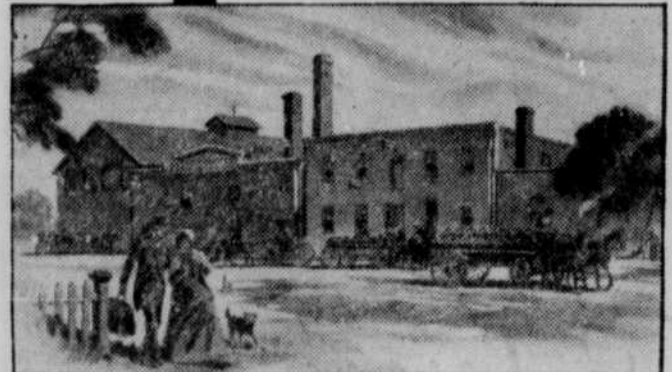

TODAY

The illustration at left of the present St. Joseph brewery shows the industrial growth which has been attained since 1859. Above is shown the modern Goetz brewery at Kansas City, Missouri.

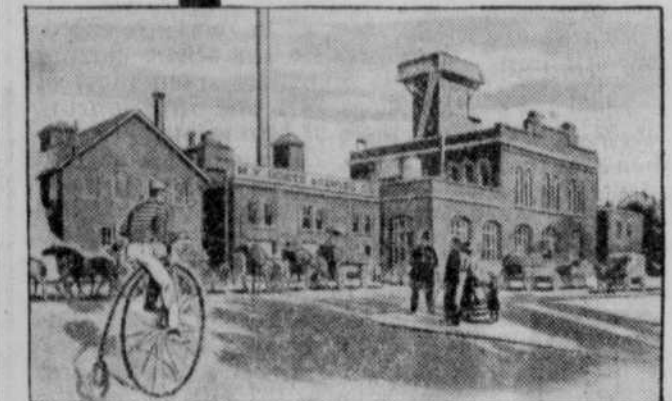

1859

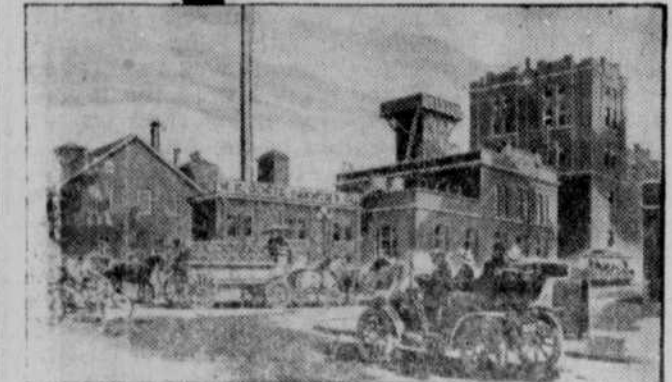

1870

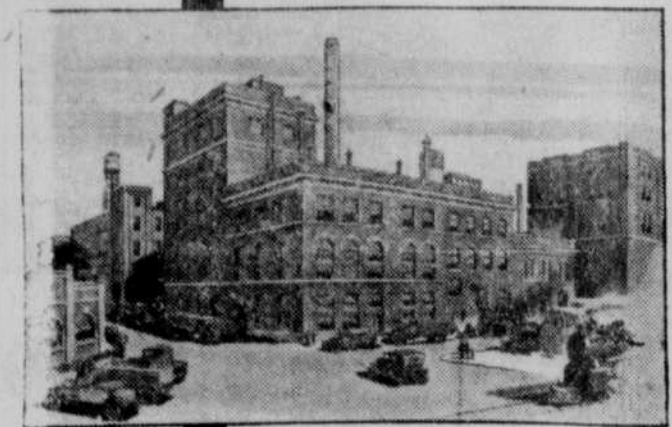

1880

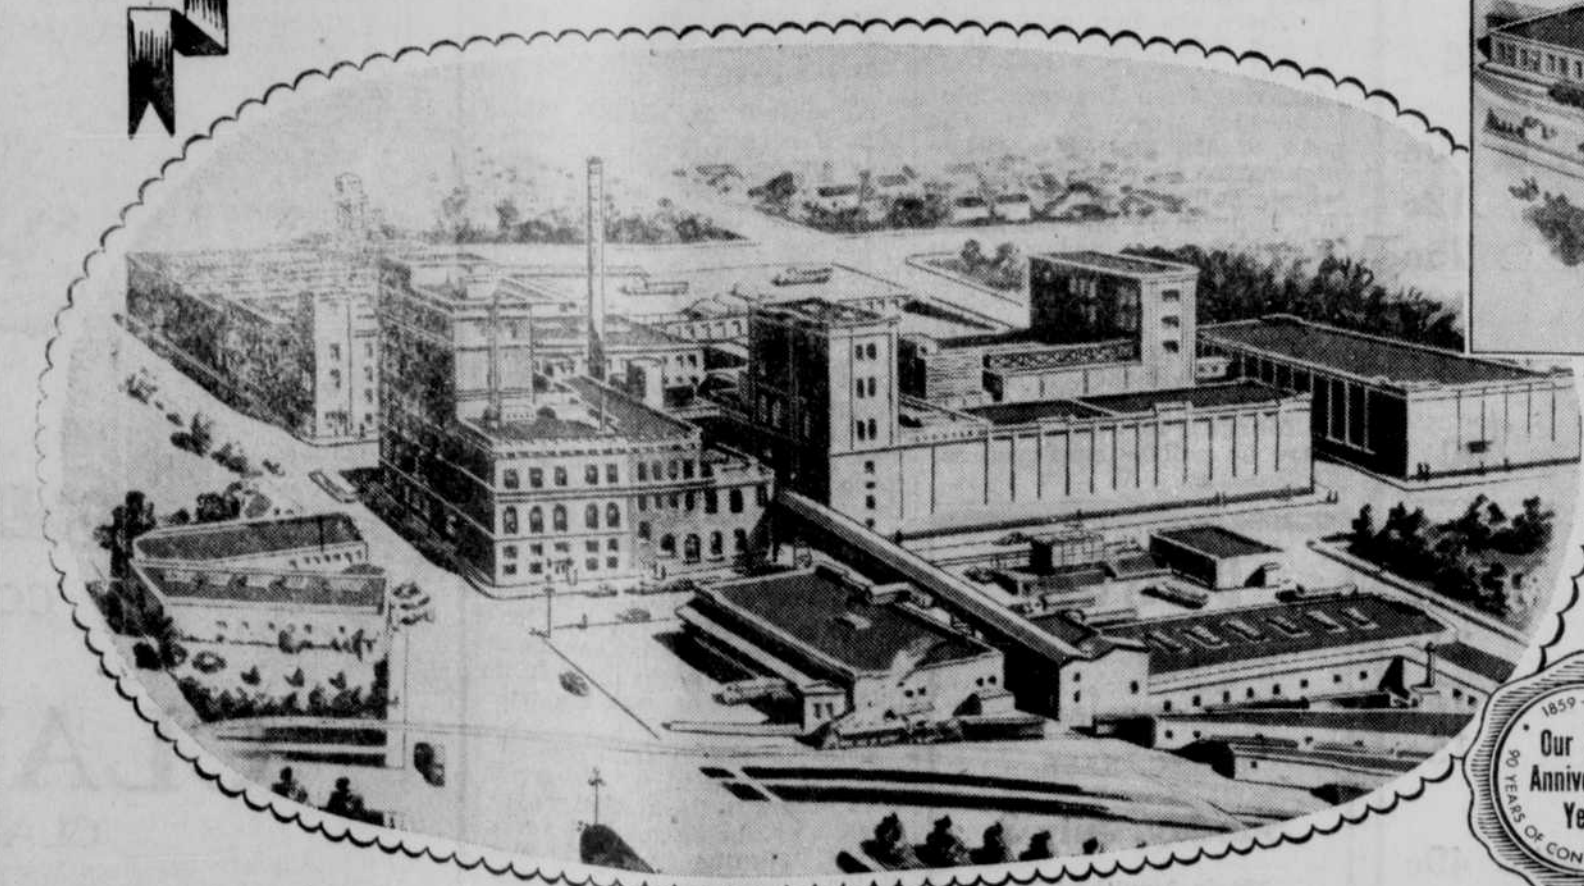

1890

1910

1920

O'Neill Beverage Co.

PHONE 422

— O'NEILL —

O'NEILL

TRANSFER

Please route your freight

O'Neill Transfer

An O'Neill firm.

Daily Trips

O'NEILL—Phone 241J
OMAHA—Phone JA3727

Your Patronage Appreciated

JOHN TURNER, Prop.