PRAIRIELAND TALK

Like most of the president's fair deal program, social security changes have not got beyond the dream stage. Now when the bill is formulated to increase the monthly payments of the "old age and survivors insurance," a section should provide that the increases be retroactive. Those who became beneficiaries of the social security plan say ten years ago would receive a lump sum of two thousand or $2,500. It probably would dip into social security funds for a 100 million but we are told there are billions in the fund. Such a surprise greeting from the U. S. treasury would shake the old boys for opening up lemonade stands and see what eventually would be syphoned back to the treasury in the form of income taxes.

The wife of a simple-minded mountain dweller fell sick and was taken to the city hospital. From time to time the husband went to the hospital to see how his wife was faring but was not admitted to her bedside, simply because she was progressing. Finally the woman died. Mountain neighbors asked the bereaved husband the cause of her death. "She died of progressing," he told them.

A county official gave away the county funds and was hung for his generosity. A federal official gave away millions of federal funds and was three times elected to office.

If you are one of the 1,500 that is expecting to pay $10 each for deer hunting permit maybe you can get a chance at a white-tail down about the Brunner ranch. The fifteen hundred will probably come in to the state game commission with their net each, swelling that state department's receipts by $15,000. What can't 1,500 riflemen turned loose do to Nebraska's deer population.

Schools now graduate them by the class. In 1895 the graduating class of the O'Neill public school had but one pupil. Will Lowrie was president, secretary, treasurer, salutatorian, valedictorian and the only one to make the high school grade that year. Going on through higher schools of learning he came out an ordained minister.

After the city council authorized the payment of a kidnaper's ransom to a gent from abroad to come in and lay out changes in the routes of city buses members of the council find they have been jumped all over by indigent citizens who are protesting the proposed changes.

I sat last night where there was shown on the screen what man has laid his scientific hand to that can be used to ravish the earth with destruction. A little thing one inch square has locked within its contemptuous littleness a potency that could destroy all

If you win a prize when you buy a can of baking powder better turn it in to be taxed. Maybe not that bad but the federal boys say winnings at the radio programs are assessable property.

Eagle Creek Club Helps Hospital

The Floyd Johnson ranch was the scene of a picnic for the members of the Eagle Creek 4-H and Pleasant Day community clubs, their families and a number of guests on Sunday, July 17.

The feature of the day was a huge picnic dinner, served by the ladies and very much enjoyed by everyone.

Following this, our 4-H club held its meeting. For roll call, members gave clues to famous landmarks. Many of the clues were taken from the radio program "Welcome Travelers."

The lesson for the day was on canning. It was decided that our club would purchase a chenille bedspread and raffle it off for the benefit of St. Anthony's hospital building fund.

Quite a few of the young people spent their time wading at the creek and a number of hotly contested pitch games were held. No one was awarded the championship, but nearly everyone agreed that James Curran and Floyd Johnson tried the hardest.

In all, 62 people were present including the following guests: Mrs. Fannie Ernst, Mrs. Theresa Bremer, LaDonna McNulty, Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz and Gwinda Rae, Mrs. Orville Marrow, Betty and Judy, Levi Hull, Raymond Vequist, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grutsch, Mr. and Mrs. John Grutsch and Elwin, Charles Vequist, Lester Allison, of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. John Cleary and family, Deloris Schultz, Bernard Spry, Stanley Benson, and Al Molar of Hastings.

The club gathered at the Albert Sterns home on Saturday evening, July 22, to complete plans for selling chances on the bedspread. Sliced pineapple and angelfood cake were served by Doris and her mother to those present.

The next meeting is August 7 at the home of Frances Ernst.—By Gene O'Neill, news reporter.

Teen Tattler

Old Blue Jeans in Order for Teen-Age Entertainment Here Friday Night

BY PAT BRENNAN

Hi teeners! Thanks a lot for the wonderful cooperation you guys and gals showed at the teen-age dance. The entertainment turned out to be a big success. That's not all, just wait until you hear what has been cooked up for next week. It's a "hard time" dance and everybody come in jeans. There will be more surprises for you and I believe a prize or two. So everybody come and be prepared for a gay time.

Pat Brennan for a gay time.

We were honored Friday night to have as our master of ceremonies, the great Jim Bridges. He presented to us the mountain girls and they sang for us "Mountain Dew" (Marde Birmingham, Bernadette Hynes, and Lorraine Simonson.) Then came that ever famous "hot trumpet" player, Ted Lindberg, playing "Sugar Blues."

In the finale, Barbara Hancock sang "Caunto Le Gusta," and led the conga to the tune of "Tico Tico." Everyone joined in. All of the performers did encores.

There was a ladies' tag dance and two multiplication dances started by Marie Guthmiller and Bob Clements, Darline Steele, a visitor, and Pat Hickey.

More vacationists are Nancy and Marilyn Beha in Minnesota, Marde Birmingham has returned from the "Frontier Days" in Cheyenne, Wyo. Suzanne and Lou Moss soon will be headed for California.

Don't forget tomorrow night in your old blue jeans. This also includes all you out-of-town teen-agers. Be sure to come — there were quite a few last week, be ready for a hot time. I'll be seeing you there.
