Maxine Winkler

Becomes a Bride

The Holy Family Catholic church in South Pasadena, Calif., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Maxine Winkler, of South Pasadena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Winkler, of Atkinson, and John David Posen, of Los Angeles, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Posen, sr. The ceremony took place on Saturday, August 27, before an altar banked with baskets of white, gladiolus, chrysanthemums and fern. Rev. Donald Montrose officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Proceeding the bride down the aisle were Mrs. Joseph McKenzie, sister of the bride, acting as matron of honor, and Miss Reine Posen, sister of the bridegroom, who acted as bridesmaid. They were both attired in gowns of aqua brocade taffeta with bouffant skirts and "stand up" collars with matching headress and mitts. They carried arm bouquets of peach gladiolus.

The bride, given in marriage by Richard S. Fryer, appeared in an ivory satin gown fashioned with a high neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The deep soft folds of the skirt fell into a long cathedral length train. She wore a halo of ivory satin and tiny seed pearls, which held her fingertip veil of illusion net in place. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladiolus and stephanotis.

The bridegroom and his attendants, Joseph McKenzie, Joseph Clark, and Richard Fryer wore white dinner jackets and black trousers.

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Ada Adams, of South Pasadena, immediately following the ceremony for 100 guests.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a suit of grey gabardine accented by navy blue accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.
