Teen Tattler — SMA and OHS Initiation Is

Now an Event of the Past!

BY PAT BRENNAN

Hi, freshies! I suppose that all of you have felt that "day after feeling?" All those comical characters you saw yesterday were none other than the OHS freshies, and they were dressed as I said "comic-strip characters." In other words the 1949 initiations of the schools are a thing of the past, or at least we shall hope. Carrying them beyond school is going a little too far, don't you think? Initiation can be fun, but it can be dangerous too, don't forget.

Pat Brennan

THE SMA football team won over Marty Mission, S. D., last Thursday afternoon, September 28, 62-0, while OHS lost to Ewing, 31-0, here Friday night. Creighton is the next game on the schedule for the Eagles, October 7. Come on you OHS guys, let's get a few points for our side.

SMA's victory over Lincoln Cathedral put them in 8th place in the state, and Shorty Miles one of the outstanding stars of the week.

The OHS dramatic club has begun its rehearsals for a play entitled "Nine Girls" with Lois Harder as the star. The other girls in the play are: Wauneta Anspach, Barb Hancock, Marilyn Holsclaw, Alice Scofield, Vernice Dye, Donna Crabb, Barb Bennett and Marie Guthmiller. This play is scheduled for October 18. Two other plays are scheduled for the future.

The OHS student council will meet on the second and fourth Tuesday's of each month.

The teen-age orchestra hopes to be ready for the dance tomorrow night to give out with some of that ever-lovin' swing stuff. They've had many interferences with their schedule that they are not sure now. However, they've been workin' hard so just have a little stuff called "patience" and it won't seem such a long, long time. But meantime, don't forget the dance tomorrow night.

Ira George, superintendent of the public schools, has announced the OHS band will not go to band day in Lincoln or the Grand Island Fall band festival. He said, maybe next year. (I guess that leaves some of us out).

On Monday night the municipal band played a concert for the benefit dinner for St. Anthony's hospital.

Teen-agers from Spencer, Chambers, Ewing and Orchard were seen browsing around the carnival. A couple of two-somes that were seen were Lorraine Simonson and Jack Gatz, Mary Lois Kelly and "Pee Wee" Elkins.

Miss Lois Heiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heiss, and Richard Asher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Asher, all of Page, were married Wednesday evening, September 26, at 7 o'clock at the Page Methodist church. Rev. T. O. Brownfield officiated at the double-ring ceremony in the presence of about 200 relatives and friends.

The altar was decorated with baskets of gladioli, ferns and candelabra.

Mrs. W. W. Johnston, of Stromsburg, cousin of the bride, played a piano prelude and the wedding marches. She accompanied Dale Stauffer, who sang "If I Could Tell You" and "Bless This House." Mrs. Johnston wore a blue nylonette gown.

Misses Marian Heiss and Betty French, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles at the altar and along the aisles by which the wedding party entered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy white slipper satin, fashioned with a net yoke edged with double folds of satin in an off-shoulder effect. The fitted bodice extended to a point at the center of the back and was buttoned full length with small self-covered buttons. Long sleeves ended in points over the wrists. The full skirt ended in a short train. Her fingertip veil was edged with chantilly lace, crowned by a beaded tiara. She carried a white Bible with a bouquet of yellow roses with white stephanotis cascaded down white satin streamers. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Nancy Heiss, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was yellow taffeta styled with short puffed sleeves and a full tiered skirt. She wore a matching picture hat of starched lace and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow pompons against a background of Nile green and matching streamers.

Mrs. Kenneth Hines and Miss Charlene Park were bridesmaids and were attired in similar gowns of pink and aqua taffeta. They also wore picture hats of starched lace and carried colonial bouquets of white pompons against a background of streamers to match the gowns. All three attendants wore pearl necklaces.

The bride's mother wore blue crepe with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother was in grape crepe with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white pompons.

The bridegroom was attended by Nevan Ickes, jr., as best man and Jerry Asher, brother of the bridegroom, and Richard Heiss, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The wedding party's table, covered with a large white linen tablecloth, was centered with a large bouquet of yellow pompons flanked by white tapers in candelabra. There were yellow satin ribbon streamers on the table with large bows at corners centered by flowers.

The serving table was centered with the three-tier wedding cake, also flanked by white tapers in candelabra. Mrs. Soren Soranson, jr., served and Miss Barbara Trowbridge poured. The punch table was decorated with a bowl of yellow dahlias.

Miss Della Zellars was in charge of the guest book and Miss Naomi Steinberg of the gifts. Mrs. John Lamason, Mrs. Alton Braddock, Mrs. L. L. Don and Mrs. Earl Hurst were in charge of the reception. Misses Genelle Park and Shirley Soranson assisted with the serving.

The bride was graduated from the Page high school with the class of 1948 and attended Wayne State college last year.

The bridegroom attended Page high school. He served in the armed forces and after his return has been farming near Page.

The couple left for a week's wedding trip after the reception. The bride's traveling ensemble was gray wool with brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher will live on a farm East of Page.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holiday, of Ewing, attended the Jubilee celebration here Friday, September 30.
