Berger's Purchase Elite Cafe Here

Mr. and Mrs. Max Berger, of O'Neill, purchased the Elite cafe this week from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mangan. The new owners took possession Monday.

The Bergers are lifelong Holt county residents with the exception of a year when they operated a restaurant in Iowa.

Mr. Berger has been farming in Holt county the past 12 years, and Mrs. Berger before her marriage was a resident of Stuart.

The Bergers have two children who attend St. Mary's academy here.

Mr. and Mrs. Mangan, who have operated the Elite for the past three years, said they have no definite plans for the future.

The sale of the cafe involved the business and the inventory, not the building.

Tractor School Held at AHS

ATKINSON—Forty-two vocational agricultural students in Atkinson public high school attended a tractor school Monday in the high school gymnasium. Conducting the clinic was L. J. Wyant, of Omaha. All phases of tractor operation, maintenance and mechanics of the machine were discussed. William Cook is instructor for the class.

Clyde Streeter and daughter, Miss Barbara, visited relatives in Brunswick Sunday.

Circle "S" Saddle club, of Stuart, moves South on Douglas street as portion of the Diamond Jubilee parade. The club has been in demand this year to appear at special functions.

St. Mary's academy's float illustrated "Bells of St. Mary's." This entry won a first place. Next year marks the academy's golden jubilee. The float portrayed angels ringing two golden bells to the accompaniment of music from an organ and a robed choir. Riding in front were children from first through the eighth grades. Pink roses were used for decoration.—The Frontier Photo by John H. McCarville.

'Nine Girls' Title of OHS Stage Show

The O'Neill High school players will present the stage play entitled, "Nine Girls", at the school auditorium on Tuesday, October 18.

The play is a story of a girl who worked in "hashjoints" to care for a sick mother and a father, who was too old to hold a job. It tells how she pulled herself to the top and won admiration and respect until she fell in love with a man, who was wealthy and could mean security for herself and her family. She didn't have the weapons to fight for him—to do anything but kill. This is her story—a story of a losing battle to win her love.

The cast includes: Alice Scofield, Marilyn Holsclaw, Juanita Anspach, Marie Guthmiller, Vernice Dye, Lois Harder, Donna Crabb, Barbara Hancock, Barbara Bennett.

The play is directed by G. R. Nicolas.

Finds Copies of Old Newspapers

ATKINSON—John Miskimins was rummaging among old papers recently and he came upon a couple of very old newspapers. One was an old Graphic printed in 1882. According to Mr. Miskimins, it was No. 1 of Vol. 1. The other paper was printed in Ulster county, N. Y., in 1800. It contained a notice of the death of George Washington. This shows how long it took in those days for news to be brought before the public in print.

Washington's death occurred on December 12, 1799.

Mr. Miskimins said he believed the date on the old newspaper was January 10. The paper also contained a sale notice that a negro wench could be bought along with the purchase of a mill.

Returns from Kansas City Conference

ATKINSON—Rev. W. C. Birmingham, of Atkinson, returned Friday from Kansas City, Mo., where he met with Dr. T. Otto Nall, editor of the Christian Advocate, a Methodist publication. Reverend Birmingham is the Nebraska correspondent for the paper. It was decided at the conference that a four-page supplement will be published for Nebraska and Kansas subscribers because of the high circulation in the two states.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Leland E. Lieb and Madeline M. McDermott, both of O'Neill, October 4.

Mayor Douglas Commends Corps

60 Attend District 38 Convention Held in Atkinson

ATKINSON—This city welcomed the 60 members of the Women's Relief Corps, who held their 38th district convention here Saturday, October 1, in the Memorial hall. The business places displayed their flags and Mayor W. J. Douglas attended the opening of the convention and addressed the women on behalf of the people of Atkinson.

Mayor Douglas said in substance that the WRC was to be commended "for refusing to let the memory die of the men who have preserved our nation. These men settled once and for all the question of unity in the USA. Each of them fought for what they believed to be their rights," he continued. When the final battle was won, however, they resigned themselves to the fact that not only unity was permanent and necessary but that slavery was a thing that must not survive in our nation or the universe.

"The U. S. was truly preserved by these men as the pattern by which free men could build their nations.

"The women, who are the wives or daughters of these men, are becoming fewer and fewer. It is up to the younger women, the granddaughters and great-granddaughters to take their places. Only nine of the veterans themselves are left. All are over 100 years of age. Their last reunion was held in August, 1949, at Indianapolis, Ind." Mayor Douglas concluded.

Present at the convention here in Atkinson were two ladies who will be 84 in March—Mrs. Bessie Meador, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Emma Carter, of Atkinson. Mrs. Meador, a daughter of a veteran, has been a member of the WRC for nearly 60 years, and Mrs. Carter, also a daughter of a veteran, has been a member for almost 40 years.

The WRC was organized in 1882. The ladies were served a noon luncheon in the basement of the hall. Tables were decorated in red, white and blue. Bouquets of asters, bright red, white and blue nutsups and gold monogrammed napkins completed the appointments.

Mrs. Lillian Hahn, of Stuart, gave the welcoming address and Mrs. Lela Goodell, of Norfolk, responded.

The various chapters illustrated the method of the corps presentation of the colors, draping of the charter, etc.

These old rituals stirred members to new zeal in perpetuating the work of the corps, which is similar to the work of any veterans' auxiliary.

The Norfolk chapter presented a one-act play "The Last Reunion," and Lillian Hahn gave a reading.

The new district president is Alice Richardson, of Ainsworth. Retiring president is Ethel Mohr, of Atkinson. The next convention will be held at Ainsworth.

Other Atkinson News

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Raymer were in Lincoln over the weekend.

Mrs. Donald Davis and son, Roger, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horner to Omaha Friday. They returned Sunday, stopping at Friend to visit Mr. Horner's mother, whose health is "not too good" at present.

George White, who has lived at the Annie Weller home for several years and who is blind, has a roommate now, Joe Miller, who will be 90 on October 24. Mr. Miller has been a resident of Holt county for the past 69 years. He formerly lived in Stuart.

Elta Richardson and Donna Shellhase were home over the weekend visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Shellhase. The girls are taking nurses' training there.

Mrs. Vera Humphrey is the new clerk at Hoskinson's. Mrs. Julia Groeger, who formerly worked there, has moved to Valentine. Mrs. Groeger's daughter, Dolores, and Miss Joan Gonderinger accompanied her. The girls also have employment there.

Mrs. Everett Standage is the new clerk at Bailen Bros. store. She took Miss Joan Gonderinger's place.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Aurand and Mr. and Mrs. John File and Peter Steir, all of Republic, Kans., came Friday, September 30, to visit at the C. G. Shellhase home. Mrs. Aurand is Mrs. Shellhase's sister and the others are cousins of Mr. Shellhase.

George Hanel, of Denver, Col., was here the past week visiting at the home of his brother, Frank, and family. George is a former Atkinson resident. He attended school here several years ago.

Mrs. Marie Piere, of Norfolk, was in Atkinson, Saturday, October 1, visiting old friends. Mrs. Piere, (formerly Marie Anderson), was employed at the Graphic office many years ago.

Stuart Rips Burwell, 33-13

STUART—The Stuart Bronchos stayed among the unbeaten by turning back Burwell, 33-13, Tuesday night under the lights at Stuart.

Earlier the Bronchs had tied Gregory, S. D., beaten Valentine and Springfield.

Tuesday night's game was marked by frequent penalties. Both clubs completed many passes.

EVERY FRIDAY
Adults 65¢ CHILD 30¢

The Harry Evans Show Company, consisting of 12 talented stage and radio stars, made their first appearance at the Legion auditorium Friday, September 30, and was enthusiastically received by the capacity crowd that attended.

The evening performance featured a three-act stage play titled "All The Comforts of Home," preceded by an eight-act vaudeville presentation and followed by a real western barn dance. The Rhythm Wranglers, an eight-piece dance band, furnished the music for the dance and justly deserve the enviable reputation of versatility by playing any and all types of dance music requested, both modern and old time music.

This organization will make weekly appearances at the Legion auditorium every Friday night with a complete change of program, for an indefinite time, and if the audience response to their premiere performance is any criterion they will be with us for "quite a spell."

Outstanding in the vaudeville presentation was the unprecedented dexterity of Joe Stanley on his accordion and Freddie Stone and his violin. Other vaudeville features included the Nelson Sister, tap dancers; Bob Aga, guitarist and cowboy singer; "Slim" Kaas, creek fiddler; The Sagebrush Trio; Bonnie Lee, song stylist; Eddie Jessen and his saxophone and those veterans of stage and radio, Claudia and Harry Evans.

Friday, October 7, the company will return to the Legion auditorium in a new four-act western comedy-drama, "North of the Rio Grande" with different vaudeville and, of course, another big barn dance.
