

'GRANDMA' HULL AT CELEBRATION

(Continued from page 1) band was a gold wedding band to replace her original ring which she lost some years ago. Mr. Hull was presented with a gold tie pin by his wife.

"I've never forgotten a wedding anniversary yet," said Mr. Hull with a smile.

The eldest guest of all—"Grandma" Hull—rocked contentedly in a special chair which her family brought for her from home and looked picturesque in her neat steel gray dress properly accented with dainty lace collar and cuffs. Her corsage was a white chrysanthemum.

"I might not have been able to come today except that I was lucky," said the elder Mrs. Hull as she pointed to a bruised cheek—the only consequence of a fall she suffered last week while in her farmyard.

All of the Elmer Hulls' children were there as well as many of the 27 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. The children are: C. F. Hull, of Niobrara; Guy L. Hull, of Lynch; Glen D. Hull, of Lynch; Doyle Hull of Alliance; Harold Hull, of Harlan, Ia.; and Mrs. Mary Ellen Bolter, of Venus.

The table for the honored couple was centered with a 3-tier square cake topped by a gold bell engraved with the figure "50." Nut cups were in gold, and a gold and white tablecloth was used. Two large arrangements of mums were on either side of the cake.

Dinner was served by Faye Hull, Betty Benson, Leota Hull, Wanda Bjornsen, Jenine Jones, Junior Hull, Gay Hull, Dickie Hull, Larry Hull, and Neil Bjornsen. All except Jenine and Betty are grandchildren of the honored couple. They wore gold caps, and girls wore gold aprons and boys gold sashes.

Kitchen hostesses were Mrs. Evald Miller, Mrs. Gerald Waring, Mrs. Victor Benson and Mrs. Pete Mulhair.

In charge of seating arrangements was Mrs. Glen Rihanek a granddaughter, and Mrs. Audrey Havranek, another granddaughter, kept the guest book.

SEEING DOUBLE . . . You might think you are seeing double, but you're not! The above is a picture of the adorable James Donlin twins, Cheryl Lou and Carol Sue, born September 11, 1948.

Although the picture does not reveal it, each has dark brown hair, but the color of their eyes differs. Carol has dark brown while Cheryl has blue. Cheryl has the edge over her twin sister in that she is already walking. But Carol holds her own though crawling.

Their weight is identical—22 pounds each. On the lighter side, both love to raid the cupboards and find out what's in the stove drawers. However, Cheryl Lou's main fascination is the telephone. Both enjoy long rides in the baby carriage on sunny afternoons. The twins have a sister, Mary Jean, 11, and a brother, Larry Dean, who is 7.—O'Neill Photo Co.

Hallowe'en Devilment Includes Lifting Sidewalk Bridges, Displacing Benches

BY PAT BRENNAN

Hi teenagers! Well Hallowe'en is now over and more school plays, music clinic, end of the football season and Thanksgiving are coming up.

The Hallowe'en party Sunday at the Rollerdom was a great success and there were many out-of-town teenagers present. Everyone seemed to have fun. It was held last Sunday night.

There is always a certain amount of devilment done on Hallowe'en. Just a few of the tricks pulled were side walk bridges out of place, benches were in the middle of sidewalks, and a number of things were out in the middle of the roads, and, of course, windows were soaped.

The academy students were interrupted during their second class of the day on Wednesday, October 27, when a worker fell from the roof and was critically injured. It was the academy's first major accident.

The O'Neill pep club had a bake sale Saturday.

The Eagles were trampled at Stuart 25-0. The remainder of the season looks rather doubtful for the Eagles, but as the saying goes, "Anything can happen in football" and sometimes it does. The Eagles play Neligh here tomorrow (Friday) night at Carney park.

St. Mary's winning streak mounts to the total of six. The Cards knocked Sacred Heart, of Norfolk, off their feet at Carney park Friday night. John O'Neill, a Cardinal substitute, surprised the crowd with several of the touchdowns while Shorty Miles made off with 34 points. Pat Hickey, Jack Gatz, John Uhl, Hank Mangan and Gerard Wills also collected a few points each. The half time score was 46-0 and the final score was 76-0.

The cards hit the road tomorrow night to play Spaulding academy.

The music clinic students have received their acceptances.

They will go to Norfolk this year on November 17, 18 and 19.

Gary and Gale Holcomb Are Hosts—

The members of the 212 South Fork 4-H club and their parents participated in a Hallowe'en party at the home of Gary and Gale Holcomb on Friday night. We had as our special guests Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Halsey, Jennie and Keith and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Peterson and Bonnie.

Jennie and Keith Halsey, Bonnie Peterson, Donald Ermer and Demaris Strong are our prospective new members for 1950.

We had a big outdoor picnic supper around a blazing bonfire at 8 o'clock. There were plenty of weiners to roast over the fire, salads, baked beans hot cocoa and pies. The table was lighted by three huge jack-o-lanterns.

After supper the young folks had a treasure hunt followed by "Hares and Hounds" and several other games. The older folks played bingo in the house for which Mrs. Holcomb provided a basket of "silly" prizes. Roy Backhaus received the "silliest," a cork, while Mrs. Eugene Halsey selected the best number and received some canna bulbs.

This party ended our club activities for this year. We will elect officers and select projects for next year early in the Spring. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Holcomb have already been elected leaders again. — By Gary Holcomb, reporter.

Evans Troop Switches to Sundays

The Harry Evans show troupe, a dozen stage and radio Western stars who have been playing at the American Legion hall every Friday night for the past few weeks, have changed their appearances to Sunday nights, commencing Sunday, November 6.

This organization, sponsored by the Legion, presents a three- or four-act stage play, preceded by a vaudeville presentation and followed by a Western barn dance. Music is furnished by the Rhythm Wranglers, an eight-piece Western swing band.

Good crowds have greeted this troupe on all appearances so far, but the Legion committee feels that more attendance will result by changing over to Sunday night.

Sunday, November 6, the company will present a four-act stage play, "Warm and Cozy", a laugh riot from beginning till end. The vaudeville presentation features the entire company and the dance after the show.

Driver Fined After Accident

ATKINSON — Gerald Dearthmont, 52, of Burwell, Tuesday was fined $10 and costs in the

O'Neill justice of the peace court after pleading guilty to a charge of "indifferent reckless driving."

The fine was meted out by Justice H. W. Tomlinson. The charge grew out of an accident that occurred 22 miles South of here on a curve of highway 11 Monday morning about 10:30.

According to reports, the truck Dearthmont was driving North passed on a curve a North-bound truck driven by Morgan Welton, 40, also of Burwell.

However, the Dearthmont truck cut back to his lane of traffic too sharply and forced the Welton truck off the road and it turned over into the ditch spilling his load of cattle.

Both trucks, reports indicated, were on their way to the Atkinson livestock sale.

Although there was no actual contact of the two vehicles, damage to the 1950 model truck being driven by Welton, was estimated at $500.
