

How to Don Traditional Sari Shown by Indian

The sari is the traditional costume for women in India. It is a one-piece garment, really just a long length of cloth, reaching from waist to ankles and fastened with a drawstring. It is six to nine yards in length and has neither hooks nor eyes, but may be elaborately embroidered. The wearer picks up the border of the sari with both hands and, with a quick twist of her body, wraps it about torso.

Baka Bomb No Longer Secret but Still Suicide

One of the latest secret weapons used by the Japs in a desperate attempt to stop the American advance westward in the "baka" bomb, Jap word for "fool," name given because it is controlled by a suicide pilot. The drawing shows how the Baka resembles a "flying torpedo." A suicide pilot controls the craft from the bubble canopy. Rockets in the tail section furnish propulsion. The bomb is launched from bomber.

Blue Grass Quadruplet Calves

Little Eve is the proud mother of quadruplets born on the farm of C. D. Lucas near Dyer, Ky. Little Eve is only 5 and her husband, Adam, 2 years old. Both are pure bred Hereford stock. The event of quadruplets among cattle is as unusual as among humans, or about once in every 450,000 births. Photo shows mother and children are doing well.

Come on In, Captivity's Fine!

A Jap prisoner of war and an interpreter broadcast megaphone calls to Japs hiding out in Okinawa, telling them that surrender to the Americans is their best bet. The broadcast is made from a landing craft offshore. Instructions to the hidden Japs are to come out unarmed and swim to the craft. Many accepted the invitations.

Keeping Flies Dry

Fisherman Let Studeny of Pittsburgh "dunks" his flies in silicone oil before starting for his favorite stream. The new oil keeps dry flies dry. It is derived from sand and coal in combination with brine. The fly will remain dry for a long period.

Shoots 'Round Curve

Captain Sharpe of ordnance headquarter in London inspects a German secret weapon, used to shoot around corners. It is more terrifying than accurate, despite special sights.

IT'S the women who rule the box-office destiny of the movies, according to Hunt Stromberg, who's been making good movies for years, and now has his own producing company. Women form a large part of the audience, says he, and also determine to what movies their men shall take them. Not that he ignores the males in his appeal to the public! "Young Widow," costarring Jane Russell and Louis Hayward, is intended to entertain both sexes. But Stromberg likes feminine titles — "Dishonored Lady" is on his list, and "Strange Woman," and his first independent picture was "Lady of Burlesque." And credit him with giving Joan Crawford, Myrna Loy and Rosalind Russell a big push toward stardom.

Lovely Constance Moore, the screen star, has been given the leading lady role of the sleuthing secretary to "Jim Lawton" in

CONSTANCE MOORE

"Hollywood Mystery Time," Sunday's over the American network. Dennis O'Keefe plays "Lawton," a mystery-solving movie producer.

Ethel Barrymore is definitely committed to making pictures now that she has signed a contract with David O. Selznick's Vanguard company. She'll make four pictures in four years. The first will be "Some Must Watch," a mystery by Ethel Lina White, in which she will be starred with Dorothy McGuire. Her most recent picture is "None But the Lonely Heart," made for RKO last season.

A honeymoon and the start of a new radio series make this an eventful summer for Carol Bruce. Carol met her bridegroom when she was filling a hotel engagement in Minneapolis, and it was love at first sight. As for the radio program, listeners have fallen in love with it. Carol and Curt Massey are replacing the Andrews Sisters for the summer, in "Sunday at the N-K Ranch," on the American network.

Vera-Ellen, Samuel Goldwyn's "find" who makes her screen debut in "Wonder Man," the hilarious Danny Kaye musical, was once a Rockette at New York's Radio City Music Hall. She went to New York as a delegate to the Dancing Masters of America convention, and just stayed.

Virginia Mayo might still be playing ringmistress for a horse of which her brother-in-law was playing the rear legs if Goldwyn hadn't caught the act at a night club and given her a contract. It was the "Pansy the Horse Act." Virginia's featured in "Wonder Man."

When Lt. Col. James Stewart, USAAF, returns to America he'll get a jolt when he hears Dick Nelson in the cast of CBS's "Men of Vision." Nelson's voice is a perfect ether double for Stewart's — and Nelson even looks like the famous movie star.

Many a girl and boy went to Hollywood in the days of silent films, planning to start as an extra and zoom to stardom. In all those years, only 15 top stars came from the extras' ranks: Gary Cooper, Janet Gaynor, Fay Wray, Charles Farrell, Richard Arlen, Norma Talmadge, Clark Gable, Carol Lombard, Ramon Navarro and Joan Crawford among them. Only Cooper, Gable, Arlen and Miss Crawford are still reigning.

"Others may be used to star billing," remarked Arthur Loft, the character actor, "but I'm becoming accustomed to wearing my star on my chest." He plays his third sheriff role in "Along Came Jones," starring Gary Cooper and Loretta Young.

ODDS AND ENDS—Monty Woolley sings "Miss Otis Regrets" in Warner Bros. "Night and Day," the musical based on the life of Cole Porter. . . . Norm Berens of the air's "By Request" show has written a song in collaboration with Dorothy Lamour; she may sing it on the screen one of these days. . . . Following her hit as the fiery-tempered Latin in "Week-End at the Waldorf," Lina Romay has been rewarded with her second straight dramatic role, as the girl Gable loves and leaves in "The Strange Adventure. . . . Bill Gargan is a busy chap these days. When through at Republic, he dashes to Paramount for "Hot Cargo."

Navy Floating Dock in Service

A completed floating dry dock shows eight sections which have been welded together, after having been towed separately for thousands of miles to an advance base. Complete with crane and other necessary facilities, this dock will afford rapid repairs to battle-damaged ships now in the Pacific waters. Hundreds of ships will be mended on the spot by this dock.

Real Short Timer

Forty-two-year-old Sgt. Joseph A. Lowe of Atlanta, Ga., aircraft groundcrewman with the 7th AAF Fighters in the Okinawas, whose age makes him eligible to return home, takes no chances with fate. He is protected against everything but direct hit.

Directed Attack Against Japan

One Legged Pitcher

Lt. Bert Shepard, shot down after 34 missions over Germany, with the loss of one leg, recently pitched four innings against the famous Brooklyn Dodgers in a Washington charity game. He is shown warming up before the game started.

Isigny Cows Return to Fields

As if they knew that the bells of peace have rung in Europe, and it is time they had their grazing fields to themselves again, these cows wander idly into an ammunition dump on the road near Isigny, France. Thousands of head of cattle, driven away by Germans and battles, left to shift for themselves, are being divided among the farmers of France.

Queen of Freckles

No one is going to dispute the decision of the New York judges who named 11-year-old Frances Scully of Richmond Terrace, Staten Island, "Queen of Freckles" in the annual contest held at Children's Aid Society's playground. It really was no contest.

Champion Service Man's Family

Pfc. Wilbert L. Fleury of Port Huron, Mich., father of 13 children, 11 of which are shown in photograph with their mother, tops record of Cpl. Chester J. Barrett, formerly called the "Champion Dad of the Armed Forces." Two of the children were visiting relatives when this photograph was made.

Half Victory Ours

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower stand in reverence over the grave of F.D.R. as General Eisenhower reported to his "chief," "half the victory is ours."
