

SMALL DOSES PAST AND PRESENT

By Romaine Saunders
Rt. 5, Atkinson

One soldier, now driving a taxi, says he don't know how he stood it and if he is called again to army service will demand that he be shot on the spot. He had lain out in mud, rain, snow, was hit with shrapnel and a buddy each side of him fell dead without a groan.

The capital city, where write, is cold, dreary, banketed with snow and looking every day to be worse and more of it. Cab drivers are run to the limit, busses are a thing of horror, holiday fare sheds light and beauty along the cold gray thoroughfares and everybody is on the run to get next to the steam radiators.

So you must have that T-bone steak, the ham and bacon, the hunk of sausage? Calixta Lazar, age 132 years, her daughter 110 years, have been life-long vegetarians. No, they don't live in Nebraska. A soldier tells us of his visit with these daughters of Methusalem in northern Luzon, Philippine Islands. Maybe you'd rather have your pot of stew than to live to 132.

Lincoln has put in a call for the United Nations to make our capital city the world's capital city. The ultra progressive down this way are for it to a man. Somehow something whispers out in the grass roots that Nebraska should have nothing to do with it. The Black Hills also beckons to this new world setup to plant their tabernacle among them. It will not be a human oddity if the whole thing blows up before there is any need of a world capital.

The Lincoln OPA office has announced it will be closed for a few days. Its alright with the public if it stays closed. Several Nebraska concerns have paid some stiff fines for alleged overcharging. The heaviest fine was over thirty thousand dollars paid by an educational institution which maintains industries to finance its educational work. The OPA graciously announced in this instance that the violation was neither willful nor planned. The institution had the cash to hand over in the Lincoln federal court. One may but wonder how a group of politicians arrive at what is a fair price for any given product.

Arnold Tikalsky from over in the Walnut neighborhood thirty miles east of O'Neill, was a bus passenger to Grand Island last Friday. He was heading for Denver, Rock Springs, Cody and Santa Barbara, the finest little city on the Pacific coast, so little they will tell you. Tikalsky saw four years army service in Italy, France and Germany as a first aid man in the medical setup and is now traveling about a bit to visit friends to erase from memory the nightmare of the horrors he has experienced. But some pictures will live on; broken bleeding and torn American soldiers, starving Italians and German civilians who would dive for the garbage American armies dumped like so many swine crowding into a swill trough. Mr. Tikalsky says all German cities are more or less in ruins from Allied bombings and the German people are bitter toward Americans because of it but when they are reminded of their own rape of Poland and other countries that had invited the retribution brought upon them they have nothing to say.

Rev. Kenneth Scott's father of Detroit, Mich., who is spending the winter in O'Neill, has probably the logical explanation, cause and effect, of industrial unrest in that great industrial center. It sums up to the old human weakness—envy, covetousness, keeping up with the Joneses. Auto factory workers drive out along a ten-mile strip of the city where dwell in palaces tall the millionaires. They have become millionaires out of the profits of their factories and other investments. The C. I. O. boys working in the factories at ten a day and not a dime invested think they are abused. If you get all you are worth and maybe a little more what is that to you if the boss is making a million? Mr. Scott tells of the wife of a C. I. O. big wig going on a drunk, trying to drive the streets, causing a crackup and landing in jail. Her high placed C. I. O. husband had the good sense to let her sweat it out. In view of the high pay most industrial workers now receive the conclusion is forced upon us that greed and envy are the inspiring motives for many of the labor strikes. And men being but human these traits will

He dropped in Wednesday to renew his subscription and talk a little politics. While he is still a rabid democrat and lives in a rabid democratic state, we found out during our conversation that he is not nearly as hot a democrat as he used to be in the 'horse and buggy days.'

AAA News Notes

Dairy subsidy payments will be on October, November and December sales evidence beginning January 1, 1946. Applications are now being mailed out. Please hold your stubs until an application is received so that you can mail both in at the same time.

Beef Subsidy: Applications for beef subsidy must be filed within sixty days from the date of sale, at your local AAA office. Remember the deadline date for the 1945 AAA program was December 31, 1945. All compliance reports should be made immediately.

Holly E. Ressel, Chairman, Holt County AAA Committee predominate. No doubt many workers are content with their earnings, have acquired homes and are providing for a competence when they can no longer keep up the pace in industry.

George Mellor Dead at Age 81

George Washington Mellor, son of William Mellor and Fanny Smith was born at Killbrick, Ohio, November 11, 1864, and passed away in the Sacred Heart hospital Lynch, Neb., on December 20, 1945, after a lingering illness at the age of 81 years, one month and nine days.

When he had reached the age of twenty-one years he came to Holt county, where he resided ever since.

He was united in marriage to Rachel Dailey at Redbird, Neb., in 1887. To this union seven children were born, three of whom, together with their mother, preceded him in death.

He was married in 1901 to Mrs. Carrie Just. She also preceded him in death. He leaves to mourn his passing two sons and two daughters: Mrs. Wm. Hartland, Redbird, Neb.; Mrs. Leonard Halstead, Redbird, Neb.; Leon Mellor Redbird, and Jess Mellor, O'Neill. Also one sister, Mrs. Charles Koehler, Denver, Colorado, twenty-three grandchildren thirty-three grandchildren, other relatives and a host of friends.

George Mellor was a good citizen and a fine and companionable man. Coming here, just after he had reached manhood's estate, practically his entire life was spent in the county and he aided much to the upbuilding of this vast empire of Holt. The writer had known George ever since he came to the county and throughout the years we were always glad to meet him and talk about the old time days, when we both were on manhood's threshold. We always found George fair and square in dealings with his fellow man and a citizen of whom any city or county might be proud to claim as their own.

Phyllis Wood, who teaches in the Alvin Tangeman school southeast of town held her program Thursday afternoon.

Mary's played a much more wonderful game with not the luck of the Atkinson boys. The score at the end of the first quarter was St. Joe 9, St. Mary's 2.

In the second quarter the Cards came out with more zeal making more baskets than in the first quarter, but were still unable to get the lead from St. Joe. Frolich and Wilson shooting several and making few baskets. The score at the half 17-8 in favor of St. Joe.

After a short rest the St. Joe team came out on the floor shooting many long shots and making many of them. Bob Lowler and Bill Froelich were high point men for the quarter with two points each. The score at the end of the third quarter was, St. Joe 25, St. Mary's 12.

The fourth quarter was very exciting, even though the score was a little lopsided, but the Cards put up a good fight. The game ended 29-18 in favor of St. Joe's.

Willson was high point man for St. Marys with 7 points and Scott for St. Joe with 14.

Tom Coyne Is Laid to Rest

Thomas J. Coyne, one of the pioneers of this county, passed away in a hospital in Sioux City, Iowa, last Monday morning, December 24, 1945, after an illness of several weeks, at the age of 67 years and nineteen days.

The body was brought to this city Monday by Biglin Brothers ambulance and the funeral was held Thursday morning from St. Patrick's church, Msgr. J. G. McNamara officiating and burial in Calvary cemetery.

Thomas J. Coyne was born in Seranton, Pa., on December 5, 1878. The following year his parents moved to this county and located on a homestead about eight miles northeast of this city, where Tom grew to manhood. At the time of his death he had been a resident of the county for over 66 years.

On December 31, 1919, he was united in marriage to Miss Edna Burke, of Waubay, S. D., the ceremony being performed at Waubay. Two children were born of this union, Mrs. Evelyn Christensen and Miss Winifred Coyne, both of Denver, Col., both of whom were here for the funeral services. Surviving are his wife, two daughters, four brothers and two sisters who are left to mourn the passing of a kind and affectionate husband, father and brother. His brothers are: Wm. Coyne, Spalding; Patrick and Hugh, O'Neill; Mrs. Anna Earley, O'Neill; Martin Coyne, Delmita, Texas; Mrs. Mary Patton, of California.

Tom Coyne was a land mark in this city and county. Having spent practical his entire life in politics in the early nineties and always took an active interest in the political campaigns of this city and county. He entered the political arena on his own behalf. Following this he was elected to the office of county assessor. Following this he was elected clerk of the district court, in which position he served four years. For several years he has been city assessor of this city and held that position at the time of his death.

Tom was a tall robust man with a pleasing personality, affable manners and had a host of friends in the city and county, who were grieved to learn of his sudden death.

OBITUARY

(Chambers Correspondence)
William Hamilton Jeffers, son of James and Louise Jeffers, was born in Ohio, December 21, 1858, and departed this life at his home at Chambers, Neb., Friday, December 21, 1945, at the age of 87 years and one day.

His mother died when he was five years old. He spent his boyhood and early youth in Ohio, Illinois and Iowa, and on January 31, 1877, was married to Susannah Summers at Eldoda, Iowa. To this union were born five children, four daughters and one son: Gertrude, Grace, Mabel and Karl.

After spending the first ten years of their married life in Iowa Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers, with their three eldest children, came to Nebraska, in 1887, where he homesteaded 18 miles west of Chambers.

They lived there about a year, then moved on the Norvell pre-emption, a mile east of Chambers, for about six months while building their new home, two miles north and one and one half miles east of town. (The Jeffers farm is now occupied by the George Rowsse family.)

After 24 years on the home place, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers went to Canada, where they spent a year with their daughter, Mrs. Groce Kemp, then returned here and settled on their place a little over one half mile west of Chambers where he spent the remaining years of a very active life and where Mrs. Jeffers passed away five years ago this coming January.

He was also preceded in death by two of their daughters: Mrs. Gertrude Hanna and Mrs. Mabel Jarman and by his only sister, Betty. Mr. Jeffers was the last surviving member of the first he walked the 18 miles to Chambers Methodist church.

Besides carrying on the work of his farms he was the village blacksmith over a long period of years. When he first came to this locality, nearly sixty years ago, he walked the 18 miles to Chambers, where he worked at blacksmithing during the week and boarded with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wry, then walked home again, to spend the weekends with his family.

Among those who were apprentices under him, while learning the blacksmith trade were: B. G. Hanna, George Lambert, John W. Walter. When Mr. Jeffers went to Canada he sold his shop to Mr. Walter, but after his return he still did considerable blacksmithing at his home west of town, until about a year ago.

In the early days he made a large "merry-go-round" propelled by horse power, which he operated at the fairs and Fourth of July celebrations here, for a period of perhaps twenty years or more.

Mrs. Jeffers fashioned a Jeffers are associated with it, bound in red and scalloped around the border. This merry-go-round was quite an attraction for the children and young people and many pleasant memories of Mr. Jeffers are associated with it, which will long linger in their minds.

Mr. Jeffers suffered a light stroke four years ago, but rallied from that and even made a trip to Canada alone in 1943. His granddaughter, Mrs. Mildred Waitt accompanied him on the return trip. He continued quite active until an illness last March. Since that time he had not been bed fast but was up and around, most of the time, and passed quietly away while sitting in his chair, about noon Friday.

Those left to mourn the loss of one of our earliest pioneers are: Two daughters, Mrs. M. J. Pell, of Chambers, and Mrs. Gracie Kemp, of Tisdale, Sask., Canada; his only son, Karl, also of Chambers; one half brother, Frank Jeffers, of Athens, Tenn.; 15 grandchildren. Five of his grandchildren served in the late war. Four of these were on active duty overseas and one of them, Sgt. Virgil Putman, gave his life for his country during the invasion of Europe. Mr. Jeffers was both grandfather, and foster father to Virgil, as he and Mrs. Jeffers raised him after the death of his mother, Mrs. Mabel Jarman when he was a small boy.

In addition to the survivors already mentioned, Mr. Jeffers leaves many other relatives and a large circle of friends, who mourn his passing. We sympathize with the bereaved ones in their loss.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Chambers Methodist church with Rev. George Basil Anderson of Norfolk, officiating. Music was furnished by a mixed quartette, Mrs. C. V. Robertson, Mrs. C. E. Tibbetts, Leo Adams and Ernest Farried. Poll bearers were, one son, Karl Jeffers, three grandsons, Leo Hanna, Manderson and Max Jeffers and two great grandsons. He was laid to rest in the Chambers cemetery.
