LEROY T. FRENCH BURIED AT PAGE

Resided on Same Farm for 48 Years; Helped Mother Homestead

ILL FOR LONG TIME

He died Saturday at Stromsburg at the home of a son, Walter, where he had been residing for the past five years due to failing health. He had suffered an extended illness.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Methodist church in Page with Rev. Carl B. Rayburn, church pastor, in charge. Burial was in the Page cemetery.

Vocal music at the rites was furnished by Mrs. Harold Heiss, Mrs. Arthur Miller, Raymond Heiss and Edgar Stauffer with Mrs. Mildred Haynes as piano accompanist. The pallbearers were Harold Heiss, Ivan Heiss, Alton Braddock, Merwyn French, Merl Brouse and Lowell Murphy.

Leroy Turner French, oldest son of Henry S. and Louisa H. French, was born near Bath, N. Y., on July 9, 1862.

Homesteads with Mother

Following the death of his father, Mr. French, at 19, and the family moved from New York to Iowa, and two years later moved to Nebraska where the widow of the late Henry S. French homesteaded near the present site of Page.

On December 18, 1889, Leroy T. French and Miss Lizzie H. Bryan were married at the bride's home near Page. Their 48 years of married life was spent on the same farm. To this union was born two sons and two daughters. One daughter died in infancy, and Mrs. French died January 26, 1938.

Survivors include: two sons—Bryan H., of Auburn, Calif., and Walter E., of Stromsburg; two brothers—George A. and Wallace H., both of Page; one sister—Mrs. Leonard Heiss, also of Page; nine grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren, and numerous other relatives.

Helped Establish Church

The late Mr. French for many years served as superintendent of the Methodist church Sunday school and member of the church board. He helped establish the first church in Page and was a member of the Methodist church at the time of his death.

Among out-of-town relatives attending funeral service were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. French and Miss Mary Louise French, of Stromsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lamoree, Miss Betty Lou French and Burton French, of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kreifels, of York; Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Murphy and Mrs. Russell Sorenson, of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brouse, of Valentine; Mrs. O. W. French, of O'Neill; Mrs. William Thompson, of Norfolk; and I. J. Murphy, of Stromsburg.

Much-Traveled Nurse Adds Rome to List

CHAMBERS — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kiltz received word from their daughter, Lt. Thelma Kiltz, an Army nurse stationed in Germany, saying that she had recently visited Rome, Italy.

Lt. Kiltz has been overseas for two years, during which time she has been on sightseeing excursions through Germany, France, Switzerland and Italy. She is expected back in the United States soon.

Miss Widfeldt Contributes Prize-Winning Poem

Miss Gayl Widfeldt, a junior at O'Neill high school, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R.

Miss Widfeldt . . . her verse wins national recognition.

Widfeldt, received recognition this week by the National High School Poetry association. Her poem, "Tis Night," entered in the national contest for high school students, was chosen as one of the winning entries. This is the first time such an honor has been won by an O'Neill student, school officials said. A certificate was presented her by Supt. Ira George at a pep rally. The young writer's poem will be published in the annual Anthology of High School Poetry for 1947. Her contribution follows:

TIS NIGHT!
Tis Night!
Tis Night, yes tis Night!
Tis the solemn stillness in a lonely village!
Tis the loud blast of lights in a busy city.
Tis a lullaby to a baby!
Tis lovers on a moonlight walk!
Tis mist over a seashore isle!
Tis rest for the weary!
Tis Night!

DONLIN RANCH GOES TO PUTNAM

Pays $21,500 for 1,520-Acre Tract on Eagle Creek

L. D. Putnam, of O'Neill, an extensive landowner and rancher, was high bidder on the well-improved John Donlin ranch which was recently sold here at public auction. The 1,520-acre tract, regarded as one of the best on Eagle creek north of O'Neill, sold for $21,500.

The sale was held at the Holt county courthouse with Julius D. Cronin, O'Neill attorney, as sole referee, and William W. Griffin, also of O'Neill, as attorney for the referee.

Sale Reopened

When the sale was closed, Mr. Putnam was the successful bidder. Upon the request of Robert Strong, also of Holt county, District Judge D. R. Mounts reopened the sale. Judge Mounts prefaced the reopening with remarks that the sale would not be reopened on a bid below $500. When the sale closed for the second time, the figure had exceeded by over one thousand dollars the initial selling price.

In December, Mr. Putnam purchased the late Pat O'Connor ranch of 2,400 acres, situated 10 miles southwest of O'Neill. He paid $56,000—or $23 per acre—for the O'Connor tract.

Pilot Training Revived by AAF

The Army Air Forces has reopened aviation cadet pilot training to qualified Air Force enlisted personnel, it has been announced.

The course of instruction will be approximately 52 weeks, upon successful completion of which the trainee will be rated a pilot, commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army of the United States, and assigned to flying duty with the AAF.

Civilians desiring pilot training may check with the Army recruiting substation in the basement of the post office in O'Neill, 8:15 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Saturday and Sunday.

Haystack Rider Given a Dunking

EMMETT — The farthest thing from the mind of Francis Luben, 23, as he lay atop a stack of hay being pulled along a road here was that he might be going for a swim.

But when the wheeled platform carrying the hay reached a bridge, it happened. The wire cable caught on an obstruction and the hay stack—and Luben—were tossed into the Elkhorn river.

Said his father, who had been operating the tractor hauling the hay: "Francis' head looked like a muskrat as he bobbed up out of the water, and I was plenty glad to see him pop up."

Ag Conditions Abroad to Be Studied Here

The supervisors of the Holt county soil conservation district will hold their first annual meeting Friday, January 31, at 1:30 p.m. at the courthouse annex basement, according to D. E. Bowen, of Page, the chairman.

All interested in any of the phases of soil and moisture conservation work are invited to attend, Mr. Bowen said.

County Agent A. Neil Dawes stated that this is an excellent opportunity for farmers, ranchers and business men to learn about the operations of the district and about soil conservation practices. The program will include a set of Dr. W. C. Lowdermilk's pictures on erosion and agricultural conditions in Europe, Asia and Africa. These pictures will show something of the early civilization in the Biblical lands. There will be a panel discussion by farmers and ranchers pertaining to their experiences with conservation practices.

The supervisors will give a report of their operations during the past year. The district's machinery—such as tractors, duck-foot, treepulper, etc.—will be on display. There will be a light lunch served after the meeting.

Frank L. Bain Marks 88th Birthday Anniversary

Frank L. Bain, of O'Neill, a resident of Holt county for 53 years, Tuesday celebrated his 88th birthday anniversary at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed Matthews, and family.

MRS. URBAN READY FOR NEW YORK

Holt's 'Sister Kenny' Awaits Completion of Arrangements

ENTHUSIASM RISES

FINING—Holt county's "Sister Kenny"—Mrs. Bertha Urban, 48, of Ewing—is marking time here awaiting completion of arrangements for her to go to the famed Knickerbocker hospital in New York City where she will demonstrate what she considers a cure for infantile paralysis.

This week Mrs. Urban received a letter from the American Medical Association. The author, she said, agreed that her theory was essentially correct. The letter, dated January 14 at Chicago, Ill., has served to stimulate Mrs. Urban's enthusiasm for her work. Mrs. Urban, who for several years has operated a "living-in hospital" at Ewing, two weeks ago demonstrated her recently developed theory for polio cure before an audience of Omaha physicians. She reported that her audience "was baffled" by her technique, which involves tracing the nerves in a feeling process, locating what may be a "trouble-spot," and helping relieve the vital suffering with the application of a "rubbing" therapy.

Finishes Treatment

When Mrs. Urban was contacted by reporters at Ewing today (Thursday), she had just finished a treatment on a small girl who had been brought in to her.

Before the medical audience in Omaha, Mrs. Urban demonstrated her theory on an infantile victim. It is said that the girl later showed improvement.

The bid to visit the Knickerbocker—one of the Nation's leading polio research and treatment centers—followed the Omaha demonstration.

6 Holt Children Under Special Care

The story of five little boys under seven years of age—so undernourished that their little ribs could be counted; children whose father had contributed not one cent to grandma for their care since his discharge from the Army seven months before—was one of the tragic stories told at the annual meeting of Nebraska Children's Home society held in Omaha last week.

The society's president said that the amount of aid to children had increased 20 percent over 1945 and that last year 77,891 days' care had been provided Nebraska's homeless, neglected orphan children, a total of 536 children had benefited by the Agency's various services. The Society specializes in adoptions but gives much temporary and special care to children in need, including six from Holt county.

Weather Mild—But Not as Mild as 1946

January thaws continue to occur but don't be misled. The Government weather observer here, Elmer Bowen, reported today (Thursday) that the weather in Holt county "was milder a year ago at this time."

For the first 23 days of January in 1946 the average maximum temperature was 42 degrees; the minimum, 10.5. For this year, the average is 35.7; the minimum, 12.7.

Some snow fell in this area early Monday, but the precipitation amounted to only .10-inches. Fifty-five degrees is the highest reading to date in 1947.

The week's weather summary, based on 24-hour periods ending at 8 a.m. daily, follows:

Date	Hi	Lo	Moist.
January 17	42	15
January 18	52	23
January 19	56	25
January 20	55	13	.10

Plead 'Not Guilty' on Rape Charge

REV. LISCO GOES TO BOYS TOWN

Curate Here for Past 2 1/2 Years Will Assist Rt. Rev. Flannagan

Rev. R. J. Lisco, assistant pastor at St. Patrick's Catholic church here for two and a half years, leaves today (Thursday) for Boys Town where he will assist the widely-known Rt. Rev. Flannagan. Rev. Cyril Werner, a native of Creighton, will succeed Father Lisco here.

These clergy appointments, among a series of changes, were announced last week by Most Rev. Archbishop Ryan of the Omaha Catholic diocese.

Father Lisco came to O'Neill in June, 1944, from Assumption parish in South Omaha, to assist Rt. Rev. J. G. McNamara at St. Patrick's church here. The Boys Town post will be his third since his ordination.

Father Lisco was active in numerous community affairs here in addition to his clergy work. He directed the athletic program at St. Mary's academy and managed an American Legion - sponsored midgeet baseball team during the summer of 1946.

A series of social events in Father Lisco's honor was culminated today.

Father Werner served as curate at Holy Angels parish in Omaha—his first post since his ordination.

CDA Presents Gift to Departing Priest

The Catholic Daughters held a social meeting Tuesday evening at the Golden Hotel. The evening was spent playing pitch and bridge.

Mrs. Lod Janousek won high honors for pitch; Mrs. F. J. Fisher, high for bridge, and Mrs. Mike Langan, the all-cut.

Rev. R. J. Lisco, assistant pastor at St. Patrick's Catholic church, bade "goodbye" to the group and was presented with a cash gift.

The entertainment committee consisted of Mrs. Merle Hickey, Mrs. Francis Kelly, Mrs. Joe Langan, Mrs. McCarville, Gertrude Sullivan, Mrs. John Turner, Katherine Kirwan, and Mrs. Clyde Wilson.

Rev. Lisco Honored in Series of Affairs

The glee club of St. Mary's held a dinner and dance in the gym Monday in honor of Rev. R. J. Lisco, who is leaving St. Patrick's parish.

The club presented Father Lisco a gold initialed, pocket knife as a token of remembrance. Ed Hynes, son of Mrs. Loretta Hynes, entertained at dinner for Rev. R. J. Lisco at his home Sunday. Other guests were the members of the St. Mary's basketball team.

Another host to a dinner party in honor of Father Lisco, was Tom Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hart. The dinner was held for 10 at the M & M cafe.

EXTENSION COUNCIL ORGANIZED HERE

A step forward in home extension work in Holt county was taken Monday when club presidents, and group and county chairmen met to organize the Holt county home extension council. Assisting with the organization were Mrs. Nell Wright, district home agent supervisor, and County Agent A. Neil Dawes and Catherine Kirwan, both of O'Neill.

Mrs. E. A. Boska, of Stuart, county chairman, presided at the meeting and will continue to act as chairman for the present council year. Other members of the executive committee are: Vice-chairman—Mrs. Edgar Stauffer of Page; retiring county chairman—Mrs. G. H. Grimes, of Chambers; secretary-treasurer—Mrs. Robert Martins, of Atkinson; health chairman—Mrs. Stanley Johnson, of Atkinson; music chairman—Mrs. Dawes, of O'Neill; county 4-H co-chairman—Mrs. James Allyn, of Stuart.

Mrs. Vern Sageser, of Amelia, was elected to represent past county chairmen.

Major objectives of the council are planning a program of work for the coming year, and increasing effectiveness of the extension program. Keeping these objectives in mind, the council advanced suggestions for demonstrations for next Fall, and discussed the securing of some means of visual education.

Since the council meets only four times a year, the next meeting will be held in May.

2 Ewing Men Allegedly Spent Night in Hotel with Girl, 11

BOND FIXED AT $1,500

Two Ewing men, Thomas W. Eacker, 27, and Forrest Hahlbeck, 25, were charged with statutory rape Tuesday in Madison county court in action brought by County Attorney Andrew Mapes, of Norfolk.

In a preliminary hearing, both pleaded "not guilty" and bond was fixed at $1,500 each. The Frontier learned that both men were still being held by Madison county authorities early today (Thursday) and the bond had not yet been posted.

A hearing has been set for 10 a.m., on Friday, January 31, before Judge E. L. Reeker at Madison.

Held in Dodge County

The two men, both known in eastern Holt county, were arrested at Fremont. They were held in the Dodge county jail until they were taken to the Madison county jail by State Patrol Cpl. Marvin Wiley and Norfolk Police Chief Irvin Ferris, according to the Madison county attorney.

Mr. Mapes said the two men allegedly picked up a 11-year-old girl near Page Saturday afternoon and took her to Norfolk where they spent the night in a Norfolk hotel.

The girl left the men in Wisner, Mapes said he was informed, and she was found east of Wisner about 11 a.m. Sunday by the wife of the Wisner town marshal, Mrs. Herman Nuttelman.

After she had told her story to Wisner authorities, Marshal Nuttelman telephoned the Dodge county sheriff's office and asked that Eacker and Hahlbeck be picked up.

Deadline Nears for Reinstating Lapsed Veterans' Insurance

The deadline for reinstating lapsed National Service Life Insurance policies without a physical examination is February 1. Ira M. DeWalt, Veterans Administration contact representative at Ainsworth, warned World War II veterans this week.

According to the present law, applicants for reinstatement after February 1, may be required to submit a complete report of physical examination, DeWalt said.

To pick up a lapsed term policy now, the veteran need only sign a statement to the effect that his health is as good as present as it was on the date of his first defaulted premium. With that statement, the veteran must send two monthly premiums, one to cover the month of his reinstatement and the other to pay for the 31-day grace period which followed the lapse.

A reinstatement form is being mailed by the VA to all lapsed policy holders to aid them in reinstating their insurance before the February 1 deadline.

DeWalt urged veterans to completely identify themselves and to be sure to include their "N" or "V" numbers in all correspondence regarding GI insurance matters.
