LINCOLN—If a legislative bill with emergency clause becomes a law Nebraska printers will get a break. The measure provides a raise from 10 cents a line first insertion to 15 cents and from 8 to 12 cents each subsequent insertion for the publishing of legal notices.

Holt county was a gold mine of legal notices through many years. Doc Matthews, founder of The Frontier, extracted from the richest vein in land notices. Jim Riggs, the sheriff sales, and Sam Eves, tax foreclosures under the "land grabbing syndicate." Others gathered sizzled crumbs—the Mineola Sun, Dustin Dispatch, Emmet Echo, Amelia Journal and Shamrock Pickens—all long defunct.

Six papers tried it in O'Neill—two in Ewing, Atkinson and Stuart, one in Chambers, one in Inman and in later years one in Page.

From the pens of the editors of all these flowed rich rhetoric, flights of eloquence and blistering political, sometimes personal, paragraphs—masters all of sublime as well as poignant literary style.

The housewife, having learned she was legally entitled to half of her husband's earnings, was happy to inform him of the fact when he came home in the evening. The man brightened up. "I'm glad to learn that," he said, "now I can keep half of my earnings instead of giving it all to you!"

pursuance of an Order of the Honorable D. R. Mounts, Judge of the District Court of Holt County, Nebraska, made in this said cause on the 2nd day of January, A.D., 1947, for the sale of the real estate hereinafter described, there will be sold at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, at the Front Door of the Court House in the City of O'Neill, in the County of Holt and State of Nebraska, on the 13th day of February, A.D., 1947, at the hour of ten o'clock A.M., the following described interest in real estate, to-wit:

An undivided one-half right, title and interest in and to the West Half of Section Twelve (12), in Township Twenty-five (25), North, Range Twelve (12), West of the 6th P.M., in Holt County, Nebraska.

This said sale will remain open one hour.

Dated this 23rd day of January, A.D., 1947.

Every branch of state government so far heard from asks for more money, including the seven supreme court judges who want increased allowances for junketing trips in addition to $7,500 per annum each in salaries. State Tax Commissioner Robert Armstrong is sympathetic. He wants the valuation of taxable property in Nebraska increased a cool billion dollars. Sounds like the talk we used to hear back in Washington. What need has Nebraska for a tax commissioner?

The residue, as legal phraseology puts it, of the estate of the late occupant of the White House is slightly under two million dollars, and FDR was the greatest spender in Yankeland—of other's money.

About 20 billion dollars of Uncle Sam's "dough" has been contributed to international projects the past few years. Foreign entanglements are coming high.

Hope springs forever in the human breast. A brief month ago another year was greeted as hopeful souls looked out across the gloom of the affairs of men to anticipate a brighter and better future.

The New Year. So far on the horizon there glows no signal fires of Utopia. The roar of battle has ceased, but where is the mollifying ointment for intentional wounds.

The cold eye of science sees not the gleam of a brighter future but the red glow of time's eternal sunset—with one way out, if the miracle of destruction can be made the miracle for the healing of the Nations. After six thousand years of failure, can it succeed now?

Skimmed milk is a dime a quart (and who would want it?) the other kind is 17- and 18-cents. Dave Weisgarber down across the track peddled it to O'Neill householders, who did not have a cow in Barney Welton's herd, for a nickel, and the matron who went out with a vessel that would hold more than a quart when she heard Dave's bell ring returned to the house with it full for the price of a quart. No pinch-penny business when O'Neill was a pioneer town.

The pastor's frugal companion spent her time sewing strips of cloth together for rag carpets, which he considered not appropriate employment for the wife of a clergyman and urged her to discontinue such work. The lady had a mind and a purpose of her own until one day she heard the resourceful pastor approaching their house lustily singing: "In Heaven above where all is love, there'll be no rag carpets there!"

Asked how one so young becomes an expert on skates, the little fellow replied: "By getting up every time I fell down." A bit of life's philosophy that applies elsewhere other than on the ice.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING THESE QUESTIONS ABOUT ARMY ENLISTMENT

Q. What educational benefits do I get under the GI Bill of Rights?

A. If you serve honorably on active duty for a period of 90 days, one day of which is served between September 16, 1940, and the date of termination of the present war, or you are discharged because of an actual service-incurred injury or disability incurred within that first 90-day period of service, you are, upon discharge, entitled to one year of education in the college, trade or business school of your choice for which you can qualify. In addition, each month of active duty, including the first three months of post-service education, up to 48 months.

Your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year will be paid by the government. Also, you will receive $65 a month living allowance; $90 a month if you have dependents.

Q. What about family allowances?

A. For men enlisting or reenlisting now, family allowances will continue until six months after the war is officially ended.

Q. What are my chances of going overseas?

A. If you enlist for 3 years, you may select to serve in any overseas theater which has openings, especially Japan or Korea.

Q. Can I still choose the branch of service I want to serve in?

A. Yes. You can pick any branch which has quotas to be filled, if you enlist for 3 years.

Q. Is there any way I can reenlist in my old grade?

A. Yes, you can, if you reenlist for a 3-year term within 20 days after your honorable discharge.

Q. Is there any other way I can reenlist in grade?

A. Yes, if you held one of certain military occupational specialties, and were discharged on or after May 12, 1945, you can reenlist in a grade depending on the length of time you held the desired M. O. S.

NEBRASKA'S WASTE WATERS HARNESSSED FOR THE BENEFIT OF ALL NEBRASKA

Nebraska's public power and irrigation program brings tremendous advantages to Nebraska—all Nebraska benefits from this cooperative state-wide program.

By impounding and utilizing the waters of Nebraska's streams, one of our state's greatest resources, which previously flowed to the ocean unused and wasted, valuable flood control and soil conservation are provided. Water is made available for irrigating thousands of thirty acres, and low cost electricity is made available for pump irrigation in rural areas where natural irrigation is impractical. Through irrigation alone, millions of dollars of additional agricultural income is brought to Nebraska, and, all over Nebraska, an increased supply of electric power at attractively low rates, is provided to encourage industrial development and better living.

Your Consumers Public Power District created, owned, and operated by Nebraskans—and entirely self-supporting—is a vital link in this coordinated state-wide program. For, through Consumers network of power generating and distributing facilities reaching virtually to the four corners of the state, the benefits of Nebraska's combined water and power resources are brought to cities, towns, villages and rural areas alike.

Thus, while providing vital financial support for the combined program, through the distribution and sale of power, Consumers Public Power District is a major factor in the agricultural and industrial development of the communities it serves. And yet, along with the advantages of more efficient electric service resulting from the state-wide integrated system, Consumers saves electric users over one million dollars annually through reduced electric rates.
