ORD WINS BUT NO TITLE AT STAKE

Eagles Lose 12 - 35 as Big Eight Crown Thrown Out

SPECIAL TO THE FRONTIER
ORD — The Ord Chanticleers and the O'Neill Eagles were billed for the championship match in the Big Eight conference here Friday night. The match went off as scheduled, and Ord won 35-12. But the special significance attached to the game was tossed out the window when the league statistician came up with the announcement that the Chanticleers were ineligible for the crown because they had not faced Ravens-

The league officials got their heads together and decided that, under the circumstances, there would be no 1947 titleholder. The technicality, however, was no salve for the Eagles' wounds. They were a badly beaten bunch when the Ord kids finished. The game was interesting for the first six minutes. With Ord leading 5-4, a chill descended on the Eagles, who were done for the evening.

Tibbetts Sparkles
Little Dick Tibbetts, nursing a dislocated wrist from a previous game, went into action in the last three minutes and accounted for three fielders, but the spark was too late.

Coach F. E. Saindon asserted that if his kids had been "hitting normally" it'd been a close ball game, but he also said that "Ord has the best ball club."

O'Neill had won the north-half championship of the split league; Ord, presumably, had won the south-half. Under the conference rules, the two winners would meet for a one-game playoff.

Other schools in the loop, besides Ord, O'Neill and Ravensna, are Burwell, Broken Bow, Ainsworth, Bassett and Valentine.

NON-RESIDENT HUNTERS HIT

Gov. Peterson Signs Bill to Restrict Outstate Nimrods

Gov. Val Peterson Monday signed LB 67, giving the state fish and game commission authority to limit activities of non-resident hunters and fishermen. The bill is the outgrowth of complaints by Nebraska sportsmen last fall that the record crowd of out-of-state hunters were getting more than a fair share of game birds. Under the bill, the commission may limit a non-resident license to a few number of days than granted to Nebraskans, and may limit a non-resident's daily bag of fish or game birds below the numbers which Nebraskans may take. It further provides that all non-resident hunters and fishermen must have a license regardless of age. Nebraskans under 16 do not need licenses. To aid in enforcement, the commission will issue tags which non-resident sportsmen must attach to their "take."

'Atkinsonians Don't Wear Horns,' Writes a Reader

An Atkinson reader, who wishes to remain unidentified, caught a line in last week's issue of The Frontier which, he thought, required a letter to the editor.

Excerpts from the letter follow:

"Received The Frontier today and read with great interest the story under Atkinson date line regarding the selection of Atkinson as the site for the class B tournament. To quote from the article, I note that it states: 'While the Atkinson accommodations fall short of O'Neill's facilities, the journey was transferred to Atkinson because of a strong Atkinson bid.'"

"Tourney sites are selected by the teams participating in the tournament. Each team is contacted by the state association and informed of the towns that have asked for the tournament. Each team is asked to name the town in which they want the tournament held. In the present class B tournament, the following teams are enrolled: Valentine, Ainsworth, Springview, Bassett, Stuart, Burwell, O'Neill, Neligh, Creighton and Atkinson. It is my understanding that Valentine, Ainsworth, Springview, Bassett, Stuart, Burwell and Atkinson voted for Atkinson, which makes seven votes. It is my understanding that only O'Neill, Neligh and Creighton voted for O'Neill, which makes three votes.

"In other words, it looks as if Atkinson was selected for the tournament because 70 percent of the teams wanted to come to Atkinson. Give us break ... Our floor is larger than the O'Neill floor, we have new regulation back boards, and by actual count on seats, the Atkinson gymnasium will seat only about a hundred persons, less than O'Neill. The big thing is that at Atkinson the entire playing floor and the scoreboard can be seen from every seat in the gymnasium. "I'm not angry, but the facts are self-evident. Really we Atkinsonians don't wear horns!"

PIERCE CARDS WIN BENEFIT

The Pierce Cardinals avenged an earlier loss by cleaning the Wayne (Hotel) Morrisons 52-45 here last Thursday night in a benefit cage game at the public school gymnasium. The affair was sponsored by the Lions club. Both ranking amateur quints in northeast Nebraska, a capacity crowd turned out to watch the contest.
