CAN'T BLAME 'EM

They're so tired of automobiles, telephones, "Kilroy Was Here," doorbells, skywriters, traveling salesmen, tall buildings and "Open the Door Richard" that Neal Bladen, 32, and his dancer wife, Connie, 27, are going to do what a lot of other people would like to do. They're sailing in a 35-foot ketch for the South seas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Fetrow, and family, visited Mrs. Fetrow's father, Fred Cronk, and her aunt, Mrs. Roy Wilson, both of Page.

What the Law Says About Selecting Beer Retailers

Licenses will soon be issued to the tavern-keepers who will operate in your town next year. The law covering the selection of these operators provides ample safeguards against the licensing of the unworthy.

The law specifies that the local governing bodies of cities and villages have the right to examine, under oath, any applicant for a retail license or renewal. The board may authorize its agent or attorney to act in obtaining any desired information.

Further, the law provides that the local governing body must consider any signed complaint from any citizen of a violation of the law or any objectionable conduct on the part of an applicant. A license may be revoked, or a new license refused if there is cause.

This Committee urges the cooperation of every citizen in bringing law violations to the attention of licensing bodies.
