When You and I Were Young — Andy Potter Killed by Lightning While Hunting

60 Years Ago

It is a painfully sad duty we are called upon to perform this week in commemorating the death of a beloved citizen, cut down on the very threshold of life by the terrible electrical element. When the word was passed around town last Friday about six o'clock, everybody said it could not be true and would not believe it until they went to look upon his lifeless form as it lay in the parlor of the Potter house. Andy Potter had been in a field shooting snipe. Others in the party found him when they went to locate him after a flash of lightning had struck nearby. He was dressed and packed in ice that he might be kept until Tuesday for the arrival of his friends from the East. The funeral was one of the largest ever in O'Neill.

He was one of the oldtimers in this section, having come to Holt county 18 years ago. The funeral Monday was largely attended. The body was interred in the Catholic cemetery.
