

CHURCHES

CHRIST LUTHERAN (O'Neill)

Rev. Clyde Cress, pastor
Sunday is the last Sunday in our church year. Soon we shall approach the advent of our Savior. Therefore, it is proper for us to consider a subject concerning the "Fate of All Men in Eternity." The text is taken from Matthew 25:46, "These shall go away into everlasting punishment; but the righteous into life eternal." "The Fate of All Men in Eternity."

1. The unrighteous shall enter into everlasting punishment.
2. The righteous shall enter into life eternal.

You are cordially welcome to attend our service and worship with us at 9:30. Sunday school follows at 10:30. The lesson in our Sunday-school is: "The Children of Israel Journey to Canaan." Ye parents, bring up your children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, says our Savior. Bring your children to Sunday-school.

GREECE ARMS AGAINST CHOLERA

As the death toll in Egypt mounts into the thousands as a result of the cholera epidemic sweeping that Middle East nation, Greece, fearful that the disease may spread to the north, is taking precautionary methods. The government, in cooperation with the Greek Red Cross, is providing anti-cholera inoculations free to the people in specially improvised centers. Shown here are some Athenians, eager to immunize themselves against the disease.

Hi there, all you nice people! I saw a cooking demonstration the other day and one of the things the demonstrator mentioned was the fact that a whole ham is an economical meat. I surley second that suggestion. You can get a lot of meals from even a small ham, if you handle the idea properly and use extender foods with it at times.

You may buy ham two ways and both ways are economical, whether you buy a smoked, uncooked ham or a cooked ham which is ready to eat. Make the most of the butt half of a ham. Bake it if you wish and serve it thus for the first meal. Then for other meals, use the remaining meat in various ways. Here's one way I like to use left over ham:

HAM SHORTCAKES

2 cups cubed, cooked ham,
1/4 cup butter or margarine,
1/4 cup enriched flour, 2 cups milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 cup minced green pepper, biscuit dough.
Make a white sauce by melting the butter, adding flour and stirring in milk. When thickened, season with salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce. Add green pepper and ham and let heat through. Meanwhile, make regular biscuit dough. Pat out 1/2 inch thick and cut 4 circles with a plain biscuit cutter and 4 with a doughnut cutter the same size. Bake in 450 F. oven for 12-15 minutes. Put together like shortcake with ham mixture between biscuits. Other seasonings such as celery, pimento, sliced olives or sliced toasted nuts may be added to the creamed mixture for variety. Will serve 4.

Another way to serve left over ham, from the butt half, is:

SCALLOPED HAM WITH POTATOES AND CORN

This is an oven dish which also contains vegetables. With a salad and a dessert, you'll have a meal. 1 cup cooked, cubed ham, 1 cup corn, (canned), 8 green pepper rings, 1 quart sliced raw potatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 to 3/4 cup milk. Alternate layers of corn, ham, green pepper and potatoes in the baking dish. Season with salt, pepper and finely chopped onion. Sprinkle flour on top, then add milk, cover and bake in 350 F. oven for 1 hour or until potatoes are tender. Remove cover and brush top of potatoes with butter. Bake 10-15 more minutes or until potatoes are brown. Will serve 5 to 6 people.

You will probably use the first thick slice from the shank half of a ham for a special dish. Cook the rest of the ham in water to cover, simmering it. Cook in the same water. Use the broth to cook split peas in fer soup and left over pieces of ham from other ham dishes.

they are after each person furnishes his own to suit his taste. For instance Ruthie has drop rugs and varnished her floor. Lela has linoleum and Vera has a carpet and so forth. Now that I am trying to get mine arranged I go from one apartment to the other getting ideas and mix them all together. No, the other girls don't seem to mind for I have some ideas that they can use. See, it works out good and is a lot of fun working with the other girls.

When the men want to work on the lawn or clean up the back yard, there are 16 of them to go to work and things are done up in a big hurry.

You know Blanche, when I see all of these families working together, laughing and talking I always think of how lucky we are to be living here in America. We have an Irish girl and an English girl in our midst, they are so nice but I think that they agree that America is a wonderful land.

I have wondered if the patriotism that was so in evidence during the war years would be kind of pushed into the background with the coming peace. I am satisfied now that it never will be. I was convinced one night at a college ball game.

We were sitting in a packed stadium, watching the teams run onto the field and all around us was a wild roar, as boosters from one side tried to out cheer boosters from the other. Suddenly a beautiful thing happened. The band marched out on the field, and the announcer's voice said quietly, "Ladies and gentlemen, it's our national anthem. The calm that followed was startling. There was a faint stir as several thousand people rose to their feet and then complete silence.

On one end of the field, Old Glory was being raised to the top of a flag pole. The band played as she rose in all of her splendor.

Not one eye left the flag. It wasn't that I was seeing anything so unusual it was just the feeling that was present there in that packed stadium.

A land that could still a crowd like that, had to be a "great land". It had to stand for "great things", like liberty, equality and justice. Most of all it must be filled with "great people", who are working on God's side. Don't you think so, too?

Sincerely,
Phyllis Carpenter Medcalf,

Perhaps this tribute to our flag and our anthem was enhanced by the fact that you and yours, and many of those there, knew how dearly peace has been bought for us again! Only, if one really does know and your family certainly has reason to know (you see

I know your sister and brother in law) does one begin to realize those things.
Do write us again.
Sincerely yours,
