TIGERS OUSTED IN STATE MEET

Hot Hildreth Sophomore Wrecks Inman Hopes of D Title

SPECIAL TO THE FRONTIER LINCOLN-The slightly favored Inman Tigers buckled last Thursday night in first round state class D basketball tourney play, dropping a thriller to Hildreth, 33-27.

A sophomore whiz named Glen Einspahr wrecked Inman's hopes for a state D title. For the Tigers it was their second consecutive year in the state meet and Messrs. Mossman, Hartigan, Heck, Sholes and Sholes were pointing toward the state crown.

Delbert Bunger, a Hildreth junior, proved a worthy running mate for the sharp Glen Einspahr, contributing 11 in addition to Einsphar's total of

The Hildreth-Inman show was the class D inaugural.

The great Glen took over the offensive chores for the Greyhounds in the first quarter, and pushed the winners to an 8-5 first-quarter lead. With the exception of one field goal and one gift toss, the boy named Glen furnished the third quarter fire-works for the Greyhounds, who gained a 25-20 margin.

Paul Hartigan paced Coach Ralph Gray's Tigers with 9 points, while Center Max Mossman, who worked hard under the basket for the losers, tallied 7.

Ainsworth, Springview Downed in First Round SPECIAL TO THE FRONTIER

LINCOLN - Ainsworth, Springview and Inman, northcentral Nebraska's representation in the state basketball tournament at Lincoln last week, were ousted in first round play.

Ainsworth, winner of the district B title at O'Neill, tied the count with Stanton in the last minute of play, but Stan-on won, 33-31. Springview, winner of the district C title at Atkinson and later victor in an inter-district playoff with Meadow Grove on the O'Neill court, was bounced from the state meet by Friend, 35-27. The Inman Tigers, making their second consecutive trip to the state D classic, lost to Hildreth, 33-27.

I was born and ra's d in t'e Hessian Hills of Germany, the birth place of the immo ta authors of Grimm's fairy tale; and the home of the real Baron von Muenchhausen. My father's house was deep down in the valley in a small town which had survived many centuries, but is now outside the main artery of commerce and traffic. The old, medieval houses and a crumbled for ress wall bear silent witness of a rich historical past.

Looking across the vall y to the south, one can see the ancient monastery of Amoenebury high on top of a gigantic rock surrounded by the houses of the village with the same name. Only a few n iles from there is Marburg, where the remains of St. Elizabeth are kept.
