Other men to see action will be: John Gaddie, Freshman, Bennie Miles, Burdette Miller, Glen Auten, Andrew Schmidt, Phillip Dempsey.

Referee, Carroll; umpire, Medlen; Beal, linesman; time-keeper, Leahy.

Friday the people interested in the football team will be entertained by the teams in a regulation game; the reserve team will be spiked with former lettermen now in school. The reserve team boasts of five lettermen. New men on the squad that look exceptionally good are Jack Deines, a good tackler and blocker; Kenneth Hunt, a back, who will see fire for the first time Friday. Beachey Medlen, the speedster of the entire team. Melvin Pilger, a tackle of last year's team, is calling signals and is running the team nicely in addition to being a good blocker.

The team in practice, with about the same line-up Tuesday, scored 2 touchdowns during a 30 minute tussle. Kenneth Hunt intercepted a pass and ran for about 60 yards; Beachey Medlen plowed his way for another counter after receiving wonderful interference especially led by Bressler and the Hunt brothers. Francis Kelley stood like a lighthouse when on defense and made the new men on the line look good. The team is seeking revenge for the defeat handed them last year by Creighton, so everyone turn out for the first game on September 25th against Creighton. Creighton has nine lettermen and this game promises to be a thriller. Everyone should turn out and help the boys get off to a good start.

FORM ECONOMY LEAGUE AT TAXPAYERS' MEETING

The court room was crowded last Saturday afternoon by a meeting of taxpayers from all parts of the county, held for the purpose of considering present and future conditions in the county, and ways and means to meet such conditions as they may arise.

There is a general feeling that the county will have heavy calls for help before spring and that some improvement can be made in the manner of taking care of such matters.

It was also the sentiment of the meeting that instead of destroying one-third of the crops we have raised, as recommended by the Farm Board, that it would be better to reduce public expenses one-third.

A permanent organization was formed, to be known as the Economy League. George L. Butler, of Ewing was elected president and B. B. Gribble, of Chambers, secretary; committees were appointed for various purposes; they will report at the next meeting, to be held at the court-house, Saturday, September 26th, at 2 p. m. All persons interested are requested to attend this meeting.

JOHN HENRY KAHLER CHARGED WITH INEBRIACY

John Henry Kahler, a farmer residing some distance northwest of O'Neill, was brought before the insanity board as an inebriate, last Tuesday, on the complaint of his wife, who charged that her husband, while under the influence of liquor, was cruel to her and to the children; her testimony was to the effect that he beat her with a strap and otherwise mistreated her in various ways while under the influence of liquor; she also stated that he was a good husband when sober. Kahler did not make any attempt to dispute the evidence against him but seemed to take the attitude that he was doing the right thing; he said that his reason for beating his wife with a strap was that she refused to go to Stuart with him and that she wouldn't mind him.

Kahler is about fifty years old; there are thirteen in the family.

The board turned Kahler over to the sheriff, in whose custody he will remain for the present.

ZAKROZEWSKI SUES SCHOOL DISTRICT FOR TRANSPORTATION

Sylvester Zakrozevski, who resides northeast of Opportunity, Nebraska, brought suit in Justice of the Peace Meredith's court on Tuesday, against school district No. 93 wherein he asks for a judgment against the district for transportation for his children for a period of 476 days to and from the school in the amount of $71.40 and interest. The plaintiff also asks that the sum of 50c be added to the judgment; the amount, he claims, was due him as a balance on money received for painting the school house.

Zakrozevski contended that he resided more than three miles from the school house; the evidence of several witnesses corroborated his contentions. The court, after giving the testimony due consideration, allowed the plaintiff the sum of $48.10. Neither the plaintiff nor the defendant seemed satisfied with the decision of the court and each gave notice of an appeal.

The matter will no doubt be settled in the district court.

LONE BANDIT HELD UP THE MIDWAY STORE

A lone bandit held up the Midway store about nine o'clock on Monday evening and cleaned the cash drawer of about $12, which happened to be all the money there at that time.

The lone robber came from the north and stopped at the gas filling tank; when Orville Lowry and Doyle Hull came to fill his car he stuck them up with a revolver and took them into the store, where he helped himself to the money; he then cut the telephone wires, after which he put seven or eight gallons of gas into his car, turned the car around and went north. The boys say that the fellow was about twenty-five or twenty-six years old.

Roy Karr, the proprietor of the store, accompanied by Mrs. Karr, drove to the Black Hills country about two weeks ago on a vacation trip and have not yet returned.

THE CHAMBERS FAIR DRAWING LARGE CROWDS

The Chambers Fair is in session this week. The exhibits are very good and the crowds are larger than in former years. The entertainment is very good. A large number of O'Neill people are attending the fair.

The Page State Bank at Page, Nebraska, failed to open its doors for business Tuesday morning. Continued withdrawals is given as the reason for closing the doors.

We understand that a number of depositors withdrew their money during the few days preceding the closing, which depleted the reserve. In fairness to the other depositors, Mr. McElhaney, the president of the bank and the directors decided to close the doors.

Virgil S. Lee was placed in charge of the bank by the state department. The capital stock was $20,000, surplus $5,000; the deposits were between $75,000 and $100,000.

WILLIAM J. FROELICH HURT IN AIR CRASH

(Omaha Bee)

William J. Froelich, formerly of Omaha and O'Neill, and the special assistant to the United States attorney general in charge of co-ordinating the government's drive on Al Capone and his gang in Chicago, was injured Tuesday night when a Continental Airways plane flying from Washington to Chicago, was forced down in a field of stumps near the airport at La Porte, Ind.

He was cut about the face, according to an Associated Press dispatch. Ralph Updyke, of Indianapolis, former congressman, was also hurt. Froelich continued to Chicago by train.

OLE BUCK, LINCOLN, DIES SUDDENLY SUNDAY

Ole Buck, editor and publisher for many years and for the past few years secretary of the Nebraska Press Association, passed away suddenly at his home in Lincoln, Neb., last Sunday.

Ole Buck was perhaps the most widely known newspaper man in Nebraska. Every newspaper man in the state was a warm personal friend of Ole Buck; they went to him with all of their newspaper problems.

Ole began his newspaper career in Nebraska when he purchased the Long Pine Journal years ago; he owned and published newspapers in various Nebraska towns; his last publication was at Harvard, Nebraska.

Funeral services were held for him Wednesday, in Lincoln.

I. SIBBERNSEN COMMITS SUICIDE AT OMAHA

I. Sibbersen, well known by many O'Neill people, committed suicide Thursday, at his home at 710 North 38th street, Omaha. With a new 32 calibre revolver, he shot himself in the heart while seated in a bath tub filled with water, in the quarters above the garage in the rear of his home. Mr. Sibbersen at one time owned considerable land in Holt county. He was considered quite wealthy. He was seventy years old; he came to America from Denmark fifty years ago and entered the real estate and loan business which he followed during the remainder of his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ulrich, of Atkinson were transacting business in O'Neill today.

HENRY WINKLER WINS WNAX SLOGAN PRIZE

Henry Winkler, of Emmet, Neb., last Saturday won the $100 WNAX slogan prize offered by the Gurney stations.

The slogan that won the prize was "Protect your profits; avoid excessive repairs; get more mileage; use WNAX 100% pure Pennsylvania oil."

The prize that was won by Mr. Winkler was the third of a series of eight that are being given away by the WNAX stations.

TEACHER DIES AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS

(Everett, Wash. Daily Herald)

Arlington, Sept. 4.—Following a long illness, Miss Calista R. Payne, 46, who has been a member of the faculty of the Arlington high school for seven years, died Friday. Miss Payne, who was born in Solan, Iowa, August 21, 1885, was a graduate of the high school at O'Neill, Neb.; the State Teachers college at Peru, Neb., and the University of Washington. She had taught school 27 years.

Miss Payne was a member of the O. E. S. at Falls City, Wash., and of St. Paul's Episcopal church at O'Neill. Funeral services will be held Monday at the Congregational church in Arlington with the Rev. W. G. Horn of Snohomish officiating. Miss Payne is survived by five sisters, Mrs. H. M. Uttley of O'Neill, Neb.; Mrs. Frank Oamek, of Riverview, Neb.; Mrs. M. G. Hamman-Jamison, of Nebraska; Mrs. W. I. Hicks of Imola, Calif., and Mrs. Violet Jensen of Arlington.
