

"THE SETTING OF A GREAT HOPE IS LIKE THE SETTING OF THE SUN. THE BRIGHTNESS OF OUR LIFE IS GONE."

STOREHOUSE IS READY

Chairman John Sullivan of the board of supervisors found himself busy Tuesday with a consignment of supplies for relief work that had just been shipped in from Dannebrog, Howard county. A vacant building on north Fourth street is being used, in which to place the goods. In this car were 138 sacks of flour, 13 cases canned goods, some 200 pounds of navy beans, some shoes, gloves, stockings, dresses, caps, and various other articles of clothing—the contribution of individuals, church societies and business places. A list of those donating either money or supplies was forwarded to Mr. Sullivan by the officers of American Legion Post 241 of Dannebrog of whom Carl Neilsen is adjutant and A. W. Lamb is vice-commander. The Legion Post at Boelus also contributed 26 sacks of flour, beans, clothing and overshoes which were included in the shipment. The plan of distribution is for the committees, in the various districts where relief work is needed, to notify all those who have filed their application with the county board to come or send in and get what is needed. Mr. Sullivan says this is the general plan to be followed but no needy family or person will be denied help whether an application has been filed or not.

With none of the spectacular features of investigating committees and press publicity the Danish-American people in and about Dannebrog have come forward in a practical and effective way to help in a time of need.

Stoff Brothers, lately arrived from South Dakota, have located on a farm three miles south of town and will operate the place this season. They are but six years over from the old country but show marked progress in the use of our language and appear energetic and progressive, the kind of men that win anywhere. They will keep posted on O'Neill and county affairs by reading The Frontier the coming year.

Ma Summers, known to everybody in eastern Holt county came over Friday with a fine fat goose for The Frontier force. It was evidently reared under no famine conditions and was about as fine a specimen of the big gray birds as one would want.

Tuesday evening, December 22, at 7:30 there will be Lutheran services, at the usual place. Rev. Vahle of Atkinson will conduct the service.

Francis Mullen spent Monday with his teacher, Miss Uhl, in O'Neill, returning Tuesday.

Mr. Jack Dailey and Miss Verra Clyde were married Saturday evening at nine o'clock at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. Kuhler officiating. They will make their home in O'Neill.

Wilfred Seger of Stuart, Nebraska and Bernice Fox of Newport Nebraska were united in marriage in the Presbyterian Manse last Saturday afternoon. The Rev. H. D. Johnson performed the marriage ceremony. The young couple will make their home in Stuart where the groom is in business.

At the state convention last week in Omaha of county supervisors, clerks and register of deeds, Esther Cole Harris of Holt county was honored by being elected vice-president of the group comprised of register of deeds and county clerks. Mrs. Harris is the efficient register of this county.

Wedding bells rang again Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage when Rev. Benj. Kuhler pronounced the words that united in marriage Morgan Welton of Josie, and Miss Hazel Baetche of Amelia. The groom is a grandson of Mrs. Welton of O'Neill. The young couple will make their home in the Josie neighborhood.

The Christmas tree was installed Monday on Fourth and Douglas streets and plans are complete for the Christmas eve event in the behalf of the children of the town. No money or effort is being spared to make it a happy affair for the youngsters. Busy business men have given of their time and money in perfecting arrangements and their efforts will be rewarded by a joyous bunch that day.

Mrs. Nancy Ann Smith died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Birdie Henry of O'Neill. The deceased and her husband were early settlers in Holt county, coming here in 1884. The funeral was held at Ewing, where the family home was, on Wednesday. She was the mother of four children, Nettie M., deceased, Mrs. Henry and Earl P. Smith of O'Neill and Lyle S. Smith of West Point.

Mrs. William Eggar received a telegram Wednesday evening, telling of the death of her uncle, Kenneth McClellan of Arminto, Wyo., that day. She and her mother, Mrs. Dan McClellan, expect to leave this evening for Arminto to attend the funeral. The deceased was a brother of the late Dan McClellan, well known in this county, and was himself an early settler here, homesteading in the Redbird valley but left here some forty years ago.

A word of praise is due O'Neill merchants and shop proprietors and their helpers for the very fine window displays. It is an education to walk about the business streets from window to window in the evening when the lights are on and see the fine quality merchandise displayed. Some of the decorators have produced real works of art and may well take pride in the showing made. There is no occasion for anyone in this section of Nebraska searching the larger cities for their holiday buying.

Holt County Calves in Demand

Tom Baker, up from the ranch in Wyoming township yesterday informs The Frontier that last week County Farm Agent Boyden of Colfax county was in his neighborhood buying calves for 4-H Club work in that county. Twelve head of Short Horns were taken, 11 of which were bought at the Riley ranch, and 1 of E. R. Carpenter. A like number, 12 head, of Herefords were bought in the same community, 8 being bought of Van Robertson of Chambers, two each of Mike Higgins and John Bower of Inez. Eight Poled Angus were secured in the Atkinson neighborhood.

It being suggested that Mr. Boyden should have been on the ground a little earlier because the best of the calves had been culled out for local 4-H Club members, he said, "Well, what's left is better than anything down our way." In all 32 head have been taken from that section of Holt county for Club members in Colfax county. Mike Higgins of the Inez Valley cattle and sheep ranch furnished the truck for transportation of the calves to their destination.

Fortune in Popcorn.

In a recent Rockford, Ill., morning Star, is a column write-up of two more from this community who are doing something that is attracting attention. W. C. O'Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. O'Sullivan who, years ago lived a mile west of town and brother of John B. O'Sullivan now living here, with the help of his wife, a former Spencer girl, Stella Hempel, has developed a large popcorn business. Quoting from the Rockford paper: "When W. C. O'Sullivan, president of the Karmelkorn corporation, 1307 Auburn street, looks backward two years he thanks the day he lost his job as manager of the Big Horn Sheep company in Wyoming. "In search of employment, he and his wife opened a popcorn shop at Casper, Wyo., where they perfected a new recipe for a candy-dipped popcorn, which they later named Karmelkorn. "So popular did the new confection become that the little shop in Wyoming netted the O'Sullivans a profit of $7,000 in fifteen months." Success from the start inspired Mr. and Mrs. O'Sullivan to branch out in other cities. "There are now 502 Karmelkorn shops operating in forty-four states of the union and in Canada and three new shops are being opened on the average every day. "Since establishing themselves in Rockford last February because of the central location of this city, Mr. and Mrs. O'Sullivan have made a spectacular success of their business in spite of the prevailing economic depression in most lines. In less than nine months, the O'Sullivans have outfitted 480 Karmelkorn shops." The popcorn confection has become so popular that fifteen tons of popcorn are used daily. The record sales is held by a shop in Ohio which sold $275 worth of Karmelkorn in one day with a record for one month of $5,400.

"The Karmelkorn corporation is a "closed" firm with practically all the stock held by Mr. and Mrs. O'Sullivan, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. The firm was incorporated last June.

"That the success of the Karmelkorn business is due in a measure to his wife Mr. O'Sullivan acknowledges with pride. "We have worked side by side since we perfected our process of making candied popcorn," the Karmelkorn head declared."

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

James W. Roone, County Extension Agent

Sows Need Alfalfa and Exercise
Green, leafy alfalfa hay will help provide the protein, minerals, and vitamins a brood sow needs to produce a healthy strong litter of pigs, says Nebraska Experiment Circular No. 40. The hay may be fed in a rack or coarsely ground or chopped with an ensilage cutter. At the North Platte Station, satisfactory results were secured with bred gilts on a mixture of 1,000 pounds of chopped alfalfa, 1,000 pounds of ground corn, 500 pounds of shorts, and 100 pounds of tankage.

Equally important in the management of brood sows is exercise. Whenever the weather will permit, the sows should be forced to exercise for their feed, or driven by the herdsman.

Sprouted Oats Good for Hens
Sprouted oats are one of the best forms of succulence for laying hens during the winter time. They can be prepared easily and without expensive equipment. At the Agricultural College poultry farm at Lincoln, the box method of sprouting is used. The oats are soaked in a large tub or barrel for about two hours. They are then drained and shoveled into shallow boxes to a depth of 3 to 4 inches, and water is sprinkled over them as they become dry. In the basement room where the temperature varies only from 50 to 80 degrees, the oats germinate and grow rapidly and are ready to feed in 5 days. The hens like them the best when the sprouts are about a half inch long. One hundred hens need about 3 pounds of sprouted oats per day.

Organized Agriculture at Lincoln January 4-7, 1932

Meetings of western Nebraska Organized Agriculture are over but the county Extension Agents of central and eastern Nebraska and the officers of the various associations are just beginning to talk up the attendance in the eastern meetings to be held at the Agricultural College at Lincoln, January 4 to 7, 1932. Tentative programs have been mailed and distributed through agents offices.

Dr. G. P. Warren of Cornell, the leading farm economist of the country, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Mrs. Mildred W. Wood are the speakers on the general meeting programs of the week. Dr. Warren will discuss, Thursday afternoon, "Adjusting Agriculture to Present and Prospective Prices." Secretary Hyde has been asked to talk about land utilization Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Wood, who works with adult speaks Thursday afternoon on the "Livable Home."

Meetings during the week include those about crops, live stock, farm home economics, dairying, poultry, bee keeping, farm organization and milk goats. All of the meetings are open to the public and all of them will be held on the Agriculture College campus.

ALUMNI HOME-COMING

Atkinson, Dec. 16.—A seven o'clock banquet which will be served at St. Joseph's hall, will be the main event of the first annual home-coming sponsored by the Alumni association of the school here on Tuesday, Dec. 29. An after dinner program of toasts and musical numbers will follow, with dancing at the city Memorial hall. Preceding the banquet at 5 P. M. a basketball game will be played at the public school gym, between St. Joseph's high school and Burton, Nebraska, a team of sportsmen from northern Nebraska. The teams are evenly matched and a close game is expected.

A meeting of class secretaries and alumni will be held at 2 p. m. Dec. 20, in the assembly of the school, at which committees will report and final details of the homecoming program will be discussed.

The Flannigan trial is still in progress in district court, with the prospects of continuing the rest of the week. The defense witnesses are giving in their testimony. It is one of the most important trials of recent court history here and the interest of spectators continues throughout.

AUTO CRASH VICTIM DIES

Word was received here Monday of the death at Albion Sunday night of Miss Louisa Kennedy of Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Kennedy, well known in that place, death resulting from injuries sustained in an automobile crash on the night before Thanksgiving. Physicians attending her said a blood clot was the direct cause of death.

Miss Kennedy, who held the position of registrar at the Nebraska Wesleyan university at Lincoln, was on her way to the parental home at Page with three others. The night was foggy and the highway slippery. A short distance out of Albion the Kennedy car struck a car belonging to John Robertson of this county, the Robertson boys and two companions being on their way home from Lincoln and had stopped at the edge of the highway to pump up a tire.

Miss Kennedy was the only occupant of either car reported to have sustained injuries. She was taken into Albion and it was announced her condition was not considered beyond recovery. The remains were brought to Page for burial.

Sherridan Simmons is doing his bit toward the forestation of the waste places and erecting windbreaks. He has given out through the fall and winter a quantity of pinion pine seed for planting as an experiment in this county. Residents in different parts of the county have planted the seed. The pinion pine seed is a nut-like affair produced in the cone, similar in appearance to the peanut kernel and the flavor of the beechnut. The seed was sent Mr. Simmons by his son from New Mexico. According to the best information these pines flourish in the most unlikely places. They are particularly valuable as windbreaks and the nuts are useable as food when roasted. It was the pinion pine nuts that the band of Indians in New Mexico were out gathering when caught recently in a terrific blizzard.
