TRICKS OF MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will L. Lindhorst

THREE MATCHES CAN BE LIFTED WITH ONE

1. Sharpen the end of one match, put a slit in the end of another, and place the sharpened end in the slit so that the two matches are held together.
2. Balance a third match against the first two, forming a pyramid or tent-shape arrangement.
3. Insert the fourth match under the apex of the three, and tilt the two fastened together slightly forward so that the third match falls forward beneath the first two. The three matches are then pressing against the fourth or lifting match and it will be found easy to raise them.
