RETRIAL OF BANKERS Set for Monday TWO ARE SENTENCED

The Flannigans go to trial in district court next Monday. It will be a new trial on the same charges as the former trial which resulted in a jury disagreement of ten for conviction and two for acquittal. Out of this first trial came also contempt of court proceedings and conviction of three Holt county men on charges of attempting to bribe jurors.

The O'Neill attorney connected with the defense Tuesday notified Judge Dickson that he has withdrawn.

The jury in the Vivian Lang personal injury case brought in a verdict awarding plaintiff $15,045. A motion for a new trial has been filed by defendants attorneys. Vivian Lange sustained injuries when her buggy was crashed into on the highway a mile east of Atkinson by a car driven by Adolph J. Kubitschek. Kubitschek is represented in court by Attorney D. R. Mounts of Atkinson and the insurance company carrying the liability by Story & Thomas of Omaha and J. D. Cronin of O'Neill. J. J. Harrington is the plaintiff's attorney.

The jury found Ray Angue not guilty. Angue was one of the three charged with stealing and butchering a calf near Ewing last fall. Frank Morris, convicted by the jury on the same charge, was sentenced Monday by Judge Dickson to serve three years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

John H. Smith was found guilty by the jury on a charge of stealing chickens. The jury recommended clemency. Judge Dickson sentenced him to eleven months in the penitentiary.

Contests Start for Mayor and Other City Offices

Mayor C. E. Stout is in the field for reelection at the city election April 5. Mayor Stout has been elected for three successive terms and his friends are early placing him in nomination for a fourth term.

A petition is being circulated to place in nomination for the office of mayor Councilman L. G. Gillespie of the Third ward. Mr. Gillespie has been a member of the city council for several years, and his friends feel he is well qualified to fill the office of mayor.

Yesterday friends of John Kersenbrock, the popular proprietor of the Sanitary Meat Market, started a petition for him for mayor. Mr. Kersenbrock does not have a record of official service in O'Neill and may be regarded as new material for the office of mayor.

A petition is out for Clarence Zimmerman for councilman from the Third. Clarence is an O'Neill boy, born in the Third ward and always lived there. He is one of the city fire department.

Petitions are being circulated today for Ed Quinn for city clerk and L. E. Downey and George Shoemaker for members of the school board.

An invitation comes from Taffis, Republic Georgia, Russia, to The Frontier to participate in the press exhibition which will be held in that city during 1932, when it is planned to assemble specimens of the "press of all peoples, all times, all countries." From the standpoint of typographical art, quality of paper stock used and general execution of the piece at hand—the invitation itself—judged by American standards of the "art preservative," the printing industry of Russia is in a crude state. The Frontier feels somewhat flattered on being invited to participate in a great international exposition of this kind and expects to forward some specimens.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock Saturday night, about forty friends and neighbors assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McNichols. They came in autos, by foot, sleds and sleighs, bringing their lunch of pies, cakes and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. John Hickey brought seven gallons of ice cream. They were all out for a good time, dancing and playing cards, with supper about twelve o'clock.

After supper there was an election to determine who was the homeliest man present. The vote was a tie between Jack Quig and Joe McNichols. There being so many homely men present the election was declared off. Jack and Joe thought the vote should have been unanimous in favor of Jim Carney. The reason that he wasn't on the ballot was because the young ladies who made out the tickets failed to place his name thereon. The fact is well established that there will be no more "homely elections" at the parties. Even at that everyone had a good time even to eating ice cream frozen in a snow bank.

TWO CHARGED WITH Offering Bribes FIND MORE JURY TAMPERING

At noon today County Attorney J. D. Cronin filed an information in district court involving Harry Kopp of Stuart in charges of jury bribing. This is the fifth person brought to boots on this charge. His arrest follows disclosures made by Joe Juracek, found guilty at the recent trial. He with Angus will be brought before Judge Dickson for trial Friday.

The plot thickens. Ray Angus, just acquitted in district court by a jury on a criminal charge, is under arrest and goes to trial tomorrow on a contempt of court charge. It is another alleged attempt at jury bribing growing out of the Flannigan law suits. It bears all the earmarks of the three previous cases.

The information on file in the office of District Court Clerk Moss says that on December 1 or 2 Alfred Cleveland, on the original jury panel for this term of court, was offered a bribe. On the afternoon of December 1 or 2 at 2 o'clock Angus drove into the yard of the farm home of Cleveland, and when Cleveland came out engaged him in conversation about being on the jury that was to try the Flannigans. "There is $35 in it," the information recites Angus said to Cleveland, "if you will hang the jury in the Flannigan cases; a fellow told me that; if you want to know anymore about it, there will be a man in Ewing Saturday and if you will come to town he will see you." Cleveland said he replied that he had never "sold his word and would not do so now."

And now another contempt of court case.

Joe Juracek, awaiting sentence with McCauley and McAllister, came to O'Neill Tuesday to unburden himself to court officials as to what he knew of the plans to bribe jurors.

It is expected sentence will be pronounced Saturday on those convicted in the contempt of court cases.
