JUDGE L. C. CHAPMAN Passes Away EARLY THIS MORNING

L. C. Chapman died at the Clarkson hospital in Omaha at 6 o'clock this morning. His son Lawrence will come with the body from Omaha today. Arrangements for the funeral will be made then. Judge Chapman had been in declining health for many months. For the past several weeks he had been confined to his home here but last Sunday thought he was able to go with his son by train to see if he could get any help at the hospital. He stood the trip well and hopes were entertained that he might rally. Mrs. Chapman received word last night, however, that her husband was worse. The message this morning announcing his death was not wholly unexpected.

The death of Judge Chapman removes another pioneer of Holt county, and an able lawyer, an esteemed citizen and a friend of all. He was one of the early lawyers to locate at Atkinson and at one time ran a newspaper there. About thirty years ago he moved to O'Neill and has been in active law practice here during those years except when he served as county judge. His father was also one of the early lawyers of this county and lived for a number of years at Atkinson and in O'Neill. An obituary will follow later.

1,256,000 pounds of federal aid cracked wheat—forty carloads—have been distributed by the O'Neill Red Cross this winter and spring. This wheat has been used both as stock feed and to make bread for the family. By sifting and mixing with common white flour a fine quality of whole wheat bread can be secured. About the same quantity has been handled at Atkinson, and smaller quantities at other railroad points.

Celebrate Washington Anniversary

The Bicentennial celebration of the birth of George Washington brought to the people of O'Neill and vicinity a rare treat—a patriotic Pageant titled "In the Hearts of His Countrymen."

This Pageant was presented to a full house on Thursday night and Friday afternoon by the students of Saint Mary's Academy. Over two hundred participated in the six Episodes depicting scenes in the life of George Washington. The stage, which formed a beautiful and fitting setting for the Pageant, was erected especially for the occasion in the Academy gymnasium.

The pupils of "Master Hobby's School," represented by the girls and boys of the primary, 1, 2, and 3rd grades, introduced the program. The dainty colonial costumes of the little girls and the military suits of the "Cornstalk Brigade" attracted much attention, while the skillful manner in which they rendered their parts drew storms of applause from the audience.

The "Thirteen Sister Colonies," "Sailor Boys," and "Plantation Negroes," portrayed by the boys and girls of the 4, 5, and 6th grades, together with the pupils of the 7th and 8th grades, who dramatized the poem "Independence Bell," stirred up patriotic sentiment and afforded great pleasure to the audience.

"The Garden Party at Belvoir," introducing Colonel Washington, was a gay and colorful scene. During it forty high school pupils, representing gaily attired beaux and belles of "Colonial Days," entertained the audience with a graceful and charming minuet.

The part of George Washington so well acted by the younger children up to this point, met its perfection in the Episode of "Valley Forge." This Darkest hour in the life of Washington revealed his nobility of character as the great general. The "Inauguration of Washington" as first President of the United States, was vividly recalled by the cheering crowds that gathered around the stage, now representing the Federal Hall, of New York City.

"The March of the States," which form the Union in our day, each with its characteristic dance and costume, was especially applauded by all. Later led by Columbia, the States formed a grand march, arranged about the flag singing "Father of the Land We Love." During this tableau, the entire cast gave the flag salute, thus bringing the program to a grand finale.

The flag saluted, and the picture of Washington that was unveiled, were the gifts of the class of 1932 to their Alma Mater.

The hundreds of spectators who witnessed the Pageant were impressed and enthusiastic in their praise of the talent and careful training displayed by each individual member of the cast, as well as the able manner in which the accompanist rendered the various musical parts.

He was placed in a cast and will be laid up for three months.

Asa Norton of Stuart was paid $47.20 yesterday at the court house in bounties. He brought in 18 coyote scalps and 224 crow eggs. The scalps were the result of a find in two separate dens, there being nine coyotes in each den. The bounty on coyotes is fixed by statute at $2 each. The crow eggs are a nickel each. The bounty on the eggs is fixed by the county board. Harry Smith of Star brought in 80 eggs yesterday.

Atkinson the Champions

Atkinson won the Holt county track and field meet. In spite of the rain soaked track, some good marks were made. James Spindler ran the low sticks in 14 seconds. Meyers of O'Neill won the high jump.

Pick, of Inman, deserves credit for having won individual honors in spite of his injuries received a week ago when he was gored by a bull.

The outstanding feature of the day was the winning of the mile by Whirley of Atkinson in the fast time of 5:10 and then coming back and winning the half mile in 2:20.

Atkinson made 16 points in two events, placing first and second in both the mile and half mile.

O'Neill was hampered by lack of a weight man as she did not score in the javelin, discus and shot put, but scored in all the running events but 440 dash. Kelley was disqualified in the high hurdles, after winning a first place in the preliminaries in the morning, by knocking down four hurdles.

At a hearing evidence was offered that Flannigan, former Basset banker, owns an auto and other personal property.

A genuine Texas longhorn steer has been offered Tom Rivington, of Gering, for his ride to the Chicago exposition. J. L. Kath, Sutherland rancher, has made tentative arrangements to ship the steer to Rivington for his trip. Rivington, old time scout and frontiersman who once knew Buffalo Bill Cody, plans to saddle the steer and start a leisurely ride to Chicago.

Primus, who has served on the board off and on for many years, was again sworn in as a member. As Will Starr has changed his residence since election, John Archer and Ed. LITTLE ONE SCALDED FATALLY WALTERS BABY DIES

The little 18-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters of Meek died yesterday from falling into a boiler of scalding water the day previous. The child was brought to O'Neill for medical care and was taken to Dr. Brown's offices. Little hope was expressed by the doctor for the child's recovery. It survived for some twenty-four hours and passed away yesterday afternoon. The body was taken in charge by Biglin's.

William Gene Walters was born at Meek, Neb., August 26, 1930, and died May 11, 1932. His father and mother were both born in Holt county, Mr. Walter at Phoenix and Mrs. Walters at Meek. The mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Rouse, early settler in this county. Besides the parents and grandparents to mourn this tragic loss, there are two sisters, Florence and Lavone Walters.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Marquette church. Rev. Benj. F. Kuhler of the Methodist church of O'Neill conducted the service. Burial was at the Marquette cemetery.

Junior-Senior Banquet at Chambers

The Junior-Senior banquet of the Chambers school was held April 23. The senior and faculty members were guests of honor at a four course dinner served in the basement of the Methodist church.

The room was decorated with the senior colors, orchid and canary yellow to represent an old fashioned garden. The ceiling was artistically draped with blue crepe paper to represent the sky, with yellow moon and silver stars. The side walls were covered with numerous garden flowers, the yellow tulip predominating. In one corner of the room there was an old fashioned well and in the other end stood an old fashioned garden seat surrounded by pine carpets. Candle light and pine branches were also used to beautify the room.

The sophomore girls acted as waitresses and soft music was played throughout the evening.

The program:
 Welcome Ruth Grubb
 Growth Wilma Adams
 Bud Elinore Alderson
 Full Bloom Norma Coppoc
 Fountain Mr. Lilley
 Stars Zetha Hubard

The junior then escorted the seniors to the Royal theater in O'Neill where they saw the show "South of Santa Fe," which was enjoyed by all.

The seniors greatly appreciate the effort and time spent to make this a success, and hope they will be entertained as well next year.

The sisters of St. Mary's Academy wish to thank the parents of the students for their hearty cooperation in furnishing costumes for the children and in every way possible to make the recent Bicentennial Pageant such a complete success.

Thanks is due to Joseph Mann of the Galena Lumber Company for erecting the stage, and to Mr. Ed Burge for wiring and lighting. Mrs. Kubitschek deserves great credit for her untiring efforts to train the members of the State Groups in Aesthetic dancing. We are indebted to Thelma Riley for her skillful service at the piano. Thanks is also tendered to the members of the K. of C., Odd Fellows and Masons who allowed the "Young Colonials" to use their swords; also to Mrs. George Agnes who procured them.

A special vote of thanks is due to Mrs. Luella Parker, County Superintendent, through whose kindness the rural teachers and their pupils were permitted to attend the Pageant Friday afternoon.

All told and all together you can't beat them. If they can't do it one way, they'll try another. A boy had a sack of grain that was evidently too much for him to shoulder. Did he pass it up and say he could not do it? That's not the way a boy does. He sat the sack, partly filled with grain, on the ground. Then he lay flat on his back with his good right shoulder up against the sack. Drawing the empty portion of the sack over the shoulder and down the front he gripped it tightly and got up. The load was thus swung into position and he walked away with it.
