EWING YOUTH INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Carl Heningway, who works on the Henry Pruden ranch six miles west of Ewing, was seriously injured last Friday afternoon while working in the hay field on the Pruden ranch. He was driving a team hitched to a rake when the tongue broke frightening the horses. They ran and Heningway was thrown under the rake when one of the lines wrapped around his head and dragged him from his seat. Entirely through his body in the region of the lower abdomen. He was pulled from the rake by Mr. Pruden and fellow workmen started for town with him in a wagon. J. L. Pruden was summoned by phone and he met the party in his automobile, taking the injured man in his car to a doctors office in Ewing. Reports Tuesday were to the effect that he was slowly recovering from his injury.

Rev. H. D. Johnson left last Tuesday morning for Carroll, Nebr., where he will attend a meeting of the Niobrara Presbytery, which was held there on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Chicago & Northwestern railroad company announce that they have reduced the prices of their a la carte menu on their dining cars, from five to twenty-five cents per item. As prices of all food stuffs have been reduced much more than the price cut they have made on their dining cars, we fail to see where the railroad company is entitled to any credit for making the reduction.

Young Joe had started to high school this fall and it will be tough on him missing his classes for a few weeks, while his leg is mending.

It is reported that four young men have been soliciting the farmers of the county for the past few weeks to subscribe to an eastern farm paper, telling them that they would file petitions with the legislature asking a reduction of taxes and several other things that would be beneficial to the farmers. When they worked in this neighborhood they asked for $1.00 from each farmer, but we understand that one was in the southwestern part of the county last week and he raised the ante to $2.00 per head and that was the amount he was asking. We know nothing of the farm paper these young men are soliciting for, but their methods are far from proper, as they made statements and promises that neither they nor their paper could fulfill. Then again, if any farm paper would be of any influence with the legislature of Nebraska in securing needed tax reforms it would be a Nebraska paper and not one printed in some other state. So their glowing promises are made for the purpose of securing business and that only.

This office is in receipt of a letter from E. O. Root, of Oxford Junction, Iowa, containing a renewal of his subscription to this family journal. Mr. Root was for many years a resident of this county, living about ten miles outeast of this city. About twenty-two years ago Mr. Root sold his farm and moved to Iowa, where he has made his home since that time. While a resident of this county and since his removal therefrom, Mr. Root has been a reader of The Frontier and says that he certainly does enjoy reading it and of his old-time friends. He has been reading the paper so long that he says it would now be impossible to get along without it.

W. H. Stein, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Froelich and children, William, Jr., and Nancy, Mrs. Edward Campbell and Mrs. C. E. Stout, left by auto Sunday morning for Chicago. Mr. Stein will go on to South Bend, Ind., and drive back a new car, Mrs. Stout and Mrs. Campbell returning with him.
