Sheep and Lambs on Feed January 1, 1932

Nebraska had six per cent fewer sheep and lambs on feed January 1, this year, than last, according to the State and Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics. Increases in the Scottsbluff section and the Central Platte Valley were more than offset by the large decrease in eastern Nebraska. The number on feed in the Corn Belt States was 18 per cent smaller this year while the decrease for the U. S. as a whole amounted to 15 per cent.

The number of sheep on feed in Nebraska January 1st, was 770,000 as compared to the revised estimate of 820,000 last year and 720,000 in 1931. Although the number on feed January 1st, is only slightly smaller than the number on feed January 1st last year, it is estimated that total operations for this season will be considerably smaller than those of a year ago, due to the marked reduction in eastern Nebraska.

Although eastern Nebraska feeders possessed excellent supplies of corn and other feeds there was considerable hesitancy about buying feeder lambs. Most of this reduction in operations is credited to uncertainty as to the future prices and poor credit conditions. Feeding operations in the Central Platte Valley and in the Scottsbluff section are somewhat larger than those of last year. Most of the feeding done in these sections is carried on by large feeders who are financially able to conduct operations. A number of feeders, who in the past, have operated in parts of Colorado shipped their sheep and lambs into the Scottsbluff and Central Platte Valley regions this year. Much of the increase in these sections this year is due to this shift in locality of operations.

The estimated total on feed in the Corn Belt States, including western Nebraska, was 2,623,000 head this year as compared to 3,213,000 last year and 2,757,000 head two years ago. Of the decrease of about 600,000 head this year, over 500,000 head were in the area west of the Mississippi river. The largest decreases were in Iowa and Kansas.

The estimated number on feed in the Western States, including North Dakota and Texas, was 2,616,000 head this year, compared to 2,922,000 in 1932, and 2,671,000 in 1930. In Colorado the number this year was 1,380,000 compared to 1,590,000 a year earlier. There were decreases in Northern Colorado of 160,000 head and in the Arkansas Valley of 45,000 head, with little change in the total for the rest of the State. There were increases in each of the other Rocky Mountain States of Montana, Wyoming and New Mexico. The total on feed in the States west of the Continental Divide was 438,000 head this year compared to 472,000 head a year earlier, with increases in Utah, California and Arizona, and decreases in the other States. In both Texas and North Dakota the estimated numbers on feed this year were considerably below a year ago.

Shipments of feeder lambs into the Corn Belt States, inspected through markets, during the last six months of 1932 were about 800,000 head or 37 per cent smaller than in the same period in 1931 and the smallest for the period in the 14 years for which records are available. There was, however, a fairly heavy movement of feeder lambs direct to Corn Belt feed lots, mostly from Montana.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Nellie Barry, as administrator of the estate of Margaret Barry, deceased, and others, has filed suit in the district court against the Saunders County National Bank of Wahoo, Nebr., to foreclose a mortgage on the north half of the southwest quarter, north half of the southeast quarter, southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 20; southwest quarter, south half of northwest quarter and the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 21; the west half of Section 28, the southeast quarter of section 28, the northeast quarter of section 33; the west half of section 34, and the northeast quarter of section 34, all in township 25, range 10, west of the 6th P. M., in Holt county, Nebr., containing 1,760 acres, more or less.

The plaintiff alleges in her petition that on April 15, 1930, the bank became insolvent. That on August 12, 1927, the title to the above described land was vested in W. H. Kirshman and Lela A. Kirshman and that they delivered to the Nebraska State Savings Bank of Wahoo the thirty real estate mortgage coupon bonds for $40,000.00 due on September 1, 1932. That the plaintiff, as administrator, is the owner of ten of said real estate mortgage coupons amounting to $16,500.00. That on March 11, 1932, the receiver for the Nebraska State Savings Bank duly assigned said mortgage bonds to Margaret Barry and also executed and delivered an assignment conveying and assigning said bonds to her and a 33-80th share in and to the above described real estate mortgage. That said Margaret Barry died on June 5, 1932.

The petitioner alleges that they have not paid the notes, nor the interest thereon and that they also failed to pay the taxes thereon, which had to be paid by the bondholders. They allege that the property will not pay the amount against it and they ask that a receiver be appointed to take possession of said land and all crops thereon and to collect debts, etc. They ask for foreclosure and sale of the premises.

The meetings at Atkinson and Ewing are open to all. Local Woman's Project Clubs invite visitors to their meetings.

Communities not having Woman's Project Clubs may schedule meat cutting and curing demonstrations by writing the Farm Bureau office at O'Neill.

FARMERS HOLD CENTER OF STAGE

The authorities of several of the agricultural states are paying attention these days to the protests of farmers against high taxes and high cost of government. The farmers are basing their protest on the grounds that they cannot meet current obligations during the present low prices on crops.

Recently there were three large farmer mass meetings held in southwestern Iowa which halted sheriff sales and passed resolutions seeking reduction of tax levies and, as a result of these meetings State Superintendent of Banking, Andrews, ordered a moratorium on farm real estate or chattel mortgage sales by closed banks. Andrews said the order would stand until real estate and chattel prices were higher.

In Wisconsin Governor Schmedeman has requested the judges of the courts to refrain from enforcing the law on foreclosures.

At the Iowa meetings, where the sheriff postponed farm sales at the request of the organized farmers, no violence was used. The farmers used oratory to accomplish their purpose, the sheriffs listened and then postponed their sales.

MORE MONEY CIRCULATES

The monthly statement of the U. S. treasury showed that at the end of December circulation amounted to $5,676,183,214, or a per capita circulation of $45.34, an increase in the circulation of money for the month of $28,613,398 over that for the month of November.

HOLD-OUTS

Sioux City Tribune: A Seattle girl who offered to marry any man who had $2,000 says she received 100 proposals. A lot of fellows who have $2,000 have been fooling the world.

A NON-SPINACHER

Pasadena Post: Experts on diet will have a hard time glossing over that fact that the youth just pronounced the healthiest specimen in the United States has an aversion to spinach.

Doctor

come quick.
Annabelle
drank something awful bad!

It's play for this little girl to "call the doctor" for her "sick" doll with her toy telephone—but it wasn't play for her mother when it was the girl that swallowed some poison — Mother doesn't dare to think what might have happened if she had not had the telephone to get the doctor at once. "I never realized before what a telephone could be worth," she said in telling us of this experience.

Your telephone is more than a convenience—a means of keeping in touch with friends and relatives—of calling stores and places of business—it's the guardian of your home.
