

Spring Ruffles on Winter's Skirts

With Spring in the air, Lake Michigan at Chicago starts to divest itself of Winter attire and evolved this pretty scene in the process of doing so. Melting of the ice at Chicago swimming beach rolled these ruffles into the lake's icy garment. A better job could not have been done by a Parisian fashion designer.

Where False Fire Alarm Brought Death

Skidding on the slippery rain-soaked pavement, this huge hook-and-ladder truck speeding down a New York avenue in answer to a fire alarm, which proved to be false, slithered into the curb and into a lunch room. The driver of the truck was killed in the smash and four firemen were injured.

Bride of Accordion Phil

Here is a charming photo of the beautiful Peggy Cartwright, Broadway showgirl, who, it has just been revealed, married Phil Baker, the well-known accordion performer, three months ago. The secret was faithfully kept until the newlyweds were all set to depart for a delayed honeymoon at Palm Beach, Fla.

Robbed Songbird

Grace Moore, celebrated opera diva, is shown wearing some of the $81,000 worth of jewels which were stolen from her traveling bag in Miami, Fla., where she is vacationing. So far the police have been unable to find any trace of the missing gems.

Lucky Pupils at Beach School

There isn't much danger of the pupils playing hooky from this school, conducted on the beach at Santa Monica, Cal., as an experiment by the Board of Education. The idea is to give the kiddies the benefit of health-giving sun rays while they are studying. Thus mind and body are looked after in one operation.

Mourns Father

A recent picture of Miss Dorothy Fell, only daughter of John R. Fell, noted Philadelphia poloist and banker who was found dead with a knife through his heart in a hotel at Solo, Java. Fell was on a world tour with his third wife, the former Martha Ederton, who once was a Follies girl.

Most Beautiful Hungarian

Here is Miss Rose Tyukody, eighteen-year-old beauty, of Passaic, N. J., who was recently selected as the most beautiful Hungarian girl in the United States and crowned "Miss Hungary" at the fourth national beauty contest ball. Besides the title and crown, Miss Tyukody was awarded a free trip to Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition.

In the Basket

Here is an interesting shot from the basketball battle between the varsity teams of Williams and Columbia at Madison Square Garden, New York. Markesi, of Williams, is shown as he made a desperate effort to stop the ball which Hartman of Columbia patted into the basket. Williams won, 21-15.

"Manty" Charm

Maybe the masculine trend in feminine styles isn't so bad after all—not if they all prove as soothing on the eyes as does Patricia Ellis' nifty outfit. Patricia, who is climbing the ladder to stardom in Hollywood, is wearing a sports suit of flannel. The jacket is red, and the trousers black and white check. The scarf is of white silk with navy polka dots.

Sporty Ensemble

A distinctive and decidedly sporty outfit for Spring wear is worn here by the charming Sari Maritza. It is comprised of a seaguer coat and cap of black and white check. The coat is the popular wrap-around type, held together with a wide black belt. The ensemble is ideal for outdoor spectator sports.

Asleep Over Year

Patricia Maguire, 27, of Chicago, who began her second year of sleep on February 15. On that date 1931 Patricia went into the sleep which has lasted since without a break. Medical science has exhausted all its efforts to rouse the girl. All doctors can do is to keep up her physical strength by forced feeding of liquids.

Babe's Surplus Brain Removed

This little man was born with so much brains that he had to give away a part of them. He is Gerald Kelly, shown with his mother at their home in Woodlynne, N. J., after surgeons had successfully removed the second brain which protruded from the child's skull and had puzzled physicians since his birth. The mysterious growth, at first diagnosed as a tumor, was removed by a delicate operation performed by Dr. Nelson Ludington, of New Haven, Conn.
