

BRIEFLY STATED

Fred McNally, who for several years was engaged in the oil business in this city, is again back in the game. The first of the week he entered the employ of the Phillips company and has charge of their tank wagon. Joe Bazelman has been operating the wagon for several years but tendered his resignation a few weeks ago.

Les Hough returned last Saturday from a trip to Minnesota in search of a location. On his return he announced that he purchased a filling station and tank line at Sauk Center, Minn., and will take possession of the property on the fifteenth. While up there he also purchased a residence. Sauk Center is on two of the main highways of the state and is near the center of the great lakes that abound in that state which bring in hundreds of tourists annually which helps to keep business good in that section.

There will be Lutheran services next Tuesday evening, March 14th, at 7:30. Rev. William Vahle, of Atkinson, will conduct the services.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

District No. 141, Nellie Gaughenbaugh, teacher, reports a fine attendance at the Patrons' Day meeting in her school.

Mildred Lehmann, District No. 135, reports that Patrons' Day was observed, fittingly, in her school on Washington's Birthday.

Grace Welch, District No. 49, reports a fine meeting with the patrons on February 22nd.

Vera Pickering, District No. 100 reports that Patrons' Day was held in her school with nine patrons present.

A report has come to this office from the School Board in District No. 232 that they have hired Miss Margaret Hungerford to teach in their school again for the coming year.

A County School Board Association is one of the very best agencies for developing an active interest in the maintenance of good schools and for inspiring a united and cooperative program of work. The laws of some of our states require annual County School Officers meetings. Ofttimes the best solutions of problems is secured by the school officers meeting and discussing needs and problems of the school. All present participate in the discussions, thereby bringing about greater interest in behalf of the welfare of the boys and girls. Let us all come and take part in the Annual Meeting of the County School Boards and Teachers to be held in O'Neill on next Saturday, March 11th.

Knighthood of Youth Club Program
By Daisy Simons

Director K of Y in Nebraska
Every Club, I know, has much to discuss by the time all committee reports have been made, group adventures decided upon and recognition given for successful individual adventures in leisure time accomplishments, forming good habits, and helping to make home happier.

Has the Executive Committee or the Entertainment Committee considered having as a part of each club meeting some general discussion that might help the club members in learning how to live happier and more useful lives?

On Pages 63 to 68 of the Knighthood of Youth Guide for Teachers, there is given the Children's Morality Code. This code gives eleven laws every person should know and keep if he wishes to be happy and to make life pleasant for those around him. The laws are: The Law of Self-Control, The Law of Good Health, The Law of Kindness, The Law of Sportsmanship, The Law of Self-Reliance, The Law of Duty, The Law of Reliability, The Law of Truth, The Law of Good Workmanship, The Law of Teamwork and the Law of Loyalty.

Where do we practice these laws? At school, at home and in the community. Would you like to discuss each law separately? The best way may be to take one law at a time and have each pupil tell at least one way we need to practice the law. The club members could spend one meeting discussing how to keep the law at school, another discussing how to keep it at home and another how to keep it in the community.

For example, how may we practice self control at school? Would it be by taking our time instead of pushing in line, by preparing our arithmetic lesson instead of reading a library book, by speaking kindly instead of using profanity? In a similar way, how may we practice self control in the home and in the community?

Announcement may be made ahead and each member may be ready to answer roll call with one way he thinks the law to be discussed that day may be practiced.

Let us have at every meeting some discussion that will help us to live happily with other people.

HOLT COUNTY FARM BUREAU NOTES

Office—County Court House
Office Days—Wednesday and Saturday Afternoons

Farm Bureau Essential to 4-H Club Work

Over 90 per cent of the 4-H Club enrollment reported so far in 1933 to the State Club office in Lincoln is from counties with Farm Bureaus and County 4-H Club committees, L. I. Frisbie told today.

The percentage is in line with the records for the past 10 years, he added. During that time about half the counties have had Farm Bureau and County Agents while the other half have not. Ninety per cent of the enrollment and about 93 per cent of the completion of projects has been in the Farm Bureau counties.

Asked regarding the action of the House of Representatives Thursday, Frisbie said the inquiries were beginning to come in again regarding the future of 4-H Clubs if the Farm Bureau law is repealed. Friends of club work as well as the members and local leaders want to know if they can continue to have their Clubs without County Agents.

The answer is the same as has been many times stated before, Frisbie said. They can have their Clubs, but they won't. History of such cases has always been the same. Voluntary leaders will carry on for a year or two but seldom can they stand the personal expense and time for very long. One county with a part-time club agent three years ago, had 471 club members. In 1932, without the help of an Agent, they had but 19 members.

"PHINNIE PIKE"

Phinnie Pike, which will be given at the K. C. Hall on Friday evening, March 17, will be the second stage presentation of the season to be presented by the St. Mary's Alumni. It is a three act comedy farce.

The story is fast moving and promises to be one of the cleverest attractions staged in O'Neill for sometime. Each player, with one or two exceptions, has been cast in the role of a character part.

Something new in vaudeville will be presented between acts.

The plot of "Phinnie Pike" deals with the efforts of Mrs. Plummer to build up the business of the Banner Laundry, while her husband, Amos Plummer, for reasons of his own, tries to put the laundry out of business. The story tells of the suppressed desires of Ruby Schaeffer, the inventions of Mr. Gluckman, those "wise cracking" laundry girls, Ella Flynn and Millie Murray and about that misfit, stumbling, Phinnie Pike.

The characters are:

- Ruby Schaeffer, a sorter—Rita Reardon
 - Genevieve MacGoosh, a marker—Mary Lois Hammond
 - Clara Titterhaum, a polisher—Mary Jo Finley
 - Ella Flynn, a mangler—Geraldine Cronin
 - Millicent Murray, the counter girl—Geneva Grady
 - Amos Plummer, manager of the Banner Laundry—Larry Phalin
 - Mr. Glucksman, an inventor—John McCarthy
 - Richard Kendall, agent of the Laundry Workers' Union—James Tour
 - Mrs. Plummer, owner of the Banner Laundry—Helen Givens
 - Phineas Pike, himself—Bill Beha
- Synopsis:
Act One: The office of the Banner Laundry. A spring morning.
Act Two: The same. A month later, the night of the dance.
Act Three: The same. The following morning.

The chairman declared the resolution adopted.
This is to certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the resolution duly adopted by the County Board of Holt county, Nebraska, at a regular meeting of said Board held at O'Neill, Nebraska, on the 21st day of February, 1933, at which a quorum was present as shown by the minutes of said meeting, and that said resolution is now in full force and effect.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my official seal this 21st day of February, 1933.
John C. Gallagher,
County Clerk of Holt County, Nebraska.
(OFFICIAL SEAL)

A patient rang the bell of a young doctor who had just started out to practice. The doctors wife opened the door. "Can I see the doctor?" asked the patient.

"Couldn't you come tomorrow night?" asked the wife.

"Is he that busy?" inquired the patient.

"No," said the wife with a winning smile, "but you are his first patient and I'd like to surprise him tomorrow, as it's his birthday."
