

SEEKING RECRUITS FOR THE ARMY

Army authorities at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming, announced early this week that recruiting, which has been authorized by the War Department, leaves nearly one hundred and fifty vacancies at the Wyoming military post.

Of the openings, approximately one hundred are for the infantry and the balance for the field artillery. Young men, with grammar school education or better, who are in good health, and with no dependants, will be allowed to take the mental and physical examinations for entrance into the Army.

All the major and many of the minor indoor and outdoor sports are carried on at Fort Warren during the entire year and as athletics play an important part in the life and training of a soldier, all men are encouraged to try out for at least one sport, and as many more as they wish. The football and basketball season will open shortly and new men coming into the Army will have the opportunity of representing their regiment in those games.

A post card or letter addressed to the Recruiting Officer at Fort Warren will bring complete information regarding enlistment, and it is expected that, due to the general unemployment situation, the present vacancies will be speedily filled.

Military authorities also announced that special openings for eight men exist in the machine shops of the Normoyle quartermaster depot at San Antonio, Texas. Application or requests for information regarding these positions must be addressed to the Recruiting Officer, Normoyle Quartermaster Depot, San Antonio, Texas.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday School 10:00—This is Rally Sunday. All members are requested to be present. Those who are to advance will be promoted.

Morning Worship 11:00.—The church roll will be called.

Evening Service 8:00 P. M.

We hope to rally all groups of our church next Sunday. We expect every member to respond.

H. D. Johnson, Pastor.

SAVING DISTRESSED HOMES

One of the problems in providing the relief contemplated by the various governmental agencies is how to get the information to the people. A remedy is of no help unless it is applied. Too often those for whom measures for aid have been devised do not learn of its purposes until it is too late. Ample funds have been provided for preventing the loss of farms to their owners, where they are not hopelessly involved, but many a farm has been lost only because its owner did not know that help was at hand.

The Recovery Program, the largest undertaking ever attempted in the history of the world, will accomplish its purposes only if those whom it is intended to relieve will use its provisions.

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation is designed for the purpose of enabling people to redeem homes that have been lost, and to prevent people from losing their homes because of indebtedness, the payments on which they are unable to meet. This Corporation is not making new loans, but is refunding loans which were in existence on the 13th day of June, 1933. The home owner who is unable to meet his payments may have such loan refunded through this Corporation for a period of fifteen years at five per cent. In order to accomplish this, he must secure the consent of the present mortgage holder to accept the bonds of this Corporation in exchange for the mortgage he holds. The Corporation then makes a new loan with the home owner for a long period at a low rate of interest on monthly payments, so that at the end of fifteen years the entire loan is paid.

The important step in this relief measure is that it is designed to relieve distressed loans. The idea seems to have become prevalent that it is possible for one to avail himself of the privileges of this law, even though he has been meeting his payments heretofore, by ceasing to make such payments and thereby making it appear that his loan is in distress. No such subterfuge can possibly be of benefit to any one. Whether or not a home owner is in distress, in the final analysis, must be determined by the present holder of the mortgage, and if the holder of the mortgage refuses to accept Corporation Bonds in exchange for his mortgage, then, of course, the loan cannot be refinanced, regardless of the degree of distress in which the owner finds himself.

It is a fatal mistake for anyone having payments to meet on the home he owns, to cease making such payments. When this is done the obligation only grows. If difficulty is experienced in making one payment, more difficulty will be experienced in making two, and inability to meet the third payment may spell the loss of the property. It cannot be impressed upon the home owner too strongly that it is to his interest to continue meeting his payments with the loan agency now holding his mortgage. This Corporation will be powerless to help him unless he has the cooperation of such loan agency. To cease making payments, with the hope or in the belief that by such means the borrower will become eligible for a loan with this Corporation, may prove a fatal step and the borrower may find himself in the position where not only will he become involved so deeply that he will be unable to meet his obligations with the present holder of his mortgage, but there will be no help for him through the instrumentality of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carson and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tomlinson left last Tuesday morning for Gordon, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Carson's daughter, Miss Iris, who is one of Sheridan county's school teachers. They will also visit Mrs. Carson's mother, Mrs. Charles Laidley and her brothers, Henry, Will and Albert Laidley. They expect to return home next Monday.

According to a survey made by the automobile industry there were 46,197 retail automobile dealers in the United States at the commencement of 1931. By the end of that year the number of dealers had dropped to 42,045. At the close of business on December 31, 1932, the number of dealers had dropped to 35,514, showing that the depression had put about 11,000 dealers out of business between January, 1931, and December 31, 1932.

ROBBERS HOLD UP FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF YORK

Robbers took approximately $10,000 from the First National Bank at York Wednesday noon and rode out of town with an officer of the bank as hostage on the fender of their car. The banker, W. E. McCloud, is a brother of the president of the bank, C. A. McCloud, republican national committeeman for the state. They released him as soon as they were outside the city limits.

After releasing the banker the robbers sped north on a road that branches in several directions. Soon afterward two young men were arrested in Grand Island, but were released later in the day when witnesses of the robbery said they had never seen them before.

The robbers entered the bank during the lunch hour herding eleven employees and customers into the back room and commanded W. E. McCloud, who is the cashier of the savings bank affiliated with the First National, to open a safe within the vault threatening him with death if he refused. He told them to go ahead and shoot. They then beat him with their guns and forced him to accompany them when they left town. Four men were in the party and it is thought they split and made their get away in two or three cars. They were described as all under thirty years of age. Three were dressed in dark blue suits and the fourth, apparently the leader, was wearing a grey suit. He had a mustache. No trace of them has been discovered.

BRIEFLY STATED

Sheriff Peter Duffey was up in South Dakota last Sunday seeking trace of the parties who stole four head of horses from a pasture north of Atkinson last week. The horses have been recovered but they have been unable to get a clue to the thief.

Miss Frances Alderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Alderson, of Chambers, was taken to a hospital in Omaha last Saturday evening where she was operated upon for appendicitis. Reports from Omaha are to the effect that she is getting along nicely.

Karl Steffan, the printer's devil announcer of the Norfolk Daily News radio station, WJAG, left the first of the week for Rochester, Minn., where he will enter the Mayo Clinic for examination and treatment. Karl has many friends in this section of the state who hope that he will soon be able to return home, greatly improved in health.

Federal Judge J. A. Donohoe came down from Chadron last Saturday, where he had been holding the fall term of Federal court, and spent Sunday in this city, going on to Norfolk Monday morning to open the fall term of court there. He was accompanied by Bailiff Anton Gross, who visited friends in this city over Sunday and accompanied Judge Donohoe to Norfolk Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carson and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tomlinson left last Tuesday morning for Gordon, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Carson's daughter, Miss Iris, who is one of Sheridan county's school teachers. They will also visit Mrs. Carson's mother, Mrs. Charles Laidley and her brothers, Henry, Will and Albert Laidley. They expect to return home next Monday.

Mrs. Bertha Calhoun and daughter, of Evanston, Illinois, arrived in the city last Sunday and have been looking after a farm Mrs. Calhoun owns about four miles northeast of this city. The farm has been in the family for the past twenty-five years and this year there is a splendid corn crop on the land that it is estimated will exceed forty bushels per acre. Mrs. Calhoun is very well pleased with her investment. While it has not been very remunerative the past few years she is looking forward for better times for the farmers of the country when prices of farm commodities will go up where the farmer can get a little more for what he raises than the cost of production. When that day comes we will all be happy.

A DANGEROUS HABIT.

A fault-finding, criticizing habit is fatal to all excellence. Nothing will strangle growth quicker than a tendency to hunt for flaws, to rejoice in the unlovely like a hog, which nearly always has its nose in the mud and rarely looks up. The direction in which he looks indicates the life aim, and people who are always looking for something to criticize, for the crooked and ugly are always suspicious, who invariably look at the wrong side of others, are but giving the world a picture of themselves.

The disposition to see the worst instead of the best grows on one very rapidly, until it ultimately strangles all that is beautiful and crushes out all that is good in himself.

No matter how many times your confidence has been betrayed, do not allow yourself to sour, do not lose your faith in people, most people are honest and true and mean to do what is right.—Christian Life.

The habit of fault finding is bad enough in any one, but it is very much worse for Christian people to indulge in for reasons above stated.

There are many causes that may occur from time to time pointing a need of a revival is some church or churches, but the subject above is an easy one to get into and a hard one to correct. Indeed it would be most impossible for a professed Christian to correct that tendency until he placed his all on the altar and surrenders himself wholly to Christ. Then, along with that, all other evils that keep coming up to hinder the progress of the Christian would soon lose their power over him, because he then would walk in the light even as He is in the light.

A Camp Meeting experience has shown the writer the value of a fully surrendered life and therefore he has no desire to look for bad qualities rather than good and when one in a Christ-like spirit is doing that, he will be so busy noticing the good points in others that the bad ones, if there be any, will not be noticed.

Here are some bible references which show that it is no part of a Christian's business to find fault with a brother in Christ, or his minister: Psalm 31:18; Phillipians 2:3; Luke 6:41,42.

When one has fully surrendered himself to God he will only look for the good in others and not notice the bad, if there is any, but at the same time he will see plenty that is bad in himself, but not much that is good. When that condition obtains in your life you will then know what the joy of an indwelling spirit means, and also the meaning of sanctified life.

In the opinion of some there is a revival meeting needed here and is coming soon. If that is true, and the writer believes it is, then let all who respond to the altar call, place their all on the altar in complete surrender to God and promise to do whatever he wants you to do and keep your promise with God. In that way and no other can you obtain sanctification. Camp Meeting Devotee.

THEY HAVE IT IN EUROPE.

Charleston News and Courier: To the people: Whenever you have a press that will not disagree, that dares not dissent, that is unanimous, that is servile to the leaders or to the crowd, you have what in Europe is called a "reptile press"—a press that is intimidated or hired or both.

UNAMED AT PRESENT.

Kansas City Star: Billy Sunday is going to quit preaching prohibition and return to preaching the gospel. His friends have been urging him into doing this for some time, especially since it began to look as though there was less chance of the voters repealing the gospel.

THE FATE OF THE FRANC.

London Daily Express: The ultimate fate of the franc is certain. In the end it will be devalued, too. France's imports far exceed her exports. Her chief export is not in the form of goods but service. The service France performs is catering to tourists. This trade has slumped disastrously for her. It has risen in Britain.

Down in North Carolina they are having an instruction course for public school janitors, to teach them their job. Doubtless one of the first things the janitor will learn is how to remove wads of chewing gum from the underside of a desk.

AND SOME OF THAT WISCONSIN OUTFIT

Detroit Free Press: Noting the depressing effect the vice presidency has on Mr. Garner's vocabulary, we wonder whether it wouldn't be a good thing to create some honorary vice presidencies and pass them around to men like Huey Long and one or two people nearer this part of the country.

"FEELING ROSY?"

A young Ensign was giving his first health talk to the sailors of a ship he had been assigned for duty. "I get up early every morning," he explained, "and I take a regular course of setting-up exercises. Then I take a cold shower. When I am finished I feel rosy all over—" "Sir," came from one of the sailors, "pardon me for interrupting, but will you please tell us more about Rosy?"

for his mortgage. Unless the mortgage holder is willing to do this, in most cases, the loan cannot be refinanced. The Corporation will loan 80 per cent of the appraised value where the loan is made by an exchange of bonds for the mortgage.

With the state organization complete in every detail the facilities of this loan agency are now open to those whose circumstances are such that they are unable to meet the payment due and because of this, stand in danger of being dispossessed of their homes.
