G. J. Quinlan, Omaha, was instantly killed, and B. I. usually good conditions. Sufficient moisture had been received previous to soil preparation and winter wheat ground at the time of seeding was fully up to normal condition or better. At the present time however, bankers report the condition of winter wheat ground at 83% of normal. The lower condition figure is due primarily to moisture shortage at the present time. Moisture is generally sufficient in western, central and southeastern Nebraska. Other parts of the state according to bankers, show considerable evidence of lack of moisture.

The acreage of rye sown this fall according to bankers is somewhat below the acreage sown a year ago. The condition of the crop is somewhat below normal due to moisture shortage in north central and northeastern counties where most of the crop is grown.

The number of cattle and lambs on feed is considerably below the number on feed a year ago. Prices paid by farmers for feeder cattle average from about $4.00 per cwt. to $4.50 per cwt. Feeders are paying about $5.30 to $5.70 per cwt. for feeder lambs. Uncertainty of future livestock prices and losses sustained by feeders in recent years account for the reduction in feeding operations.

Hog cholera is less prevalent than usual according to bankers. More than half of the reports indicate that cholera is not present and bankers who state that the disease is present say that it is generally less severe than usual.

The general level of farm prices again shows a decline from a month ago. Grain prices in particular are considerably below the prices received on September 15. Hogs and hay crops are slightly higher than last month. The price of eggs shows a substantial gain of 5c per dozen which is partly seasonal. Lambs and butterfat show no change from a month ago while all other leading farm commodity prices have shown a decline.

Preliminary prices of farm products now and a month ago are as follows: wheat, 62c and 67c; corn 26c and 33c; oats, 23c and 25c; barley 24c and 27c; potatoes, 61c and 95c; alfalfa hay, $6.40 and $6.30; wild hay, $5.00 and $4.85; hogs, $3.95 and $3.40; beef cattle, $4.30 and $4.35; lambs, $5.60 and $5.60; chickens, 6.2c and 7.0c; butterfat 18c and 18c and eggs, 15.4c and 10.6c.

Commencing next Sunday they will place two of their busses on their rails for their regular runs in an experimental effort to co-ordinate the bus and train service. A converted high-way bus and a foreign made gasoline car will be used in the experiment. One of the busses will operate on rubber cushioned wheels and the other on regulation pneumatic tires within flanged steel wheels.

OCTOBER MID-MONTH REPORT.
Bankers substantiate the October 1 corn yield estimate of 22.5 bushels in their mid-month report released today by E. V. Jones, Assistant Agricultural Statistician. Nearly all the winter wheat has been seeded and about 90% of the crop is up. Moisture is somewhat deficient over much of the state. The general level of farm prices is considerably below that of last month.

The banker's estimate of corn yield is slightly below the October 1 official estimate of 22.5 bushels. With an average yield of 22.5 bushels, Nebraska will produce 229,905,000 bushels of corn this year as compared to 269,293,000 bushels last year and the 5-year average of 230,002,000 bushels. Nearly half of the farmers in the state have started to husk corn. The crop matured satisfactorily except for some small amount of premature drying which occurred during August and early September. No injury from frost has been reported.

Winter wheat was seeded under un-

Cost of Electricity Reduced while Prices of Many Products Are Rising..

The cost of electric lighting has been reduced 3 per cent as of September 1, 1933.

The Federal Tax of 3 per cent which the consumer has been paying will be paid by us on service used after September 1st.

This is a saving of $95,000.00 per year to our customers throughout the territory in which we operate and further increases the staggering load of taxes paid by this Company.

In 1913, 5.2 cents of each dollar received as gross revenue by the electric utilities of the country was paid out in taxes. In 1932 taxes took 11.8 cents of each dollar received. Now this additional burden!

Today the average residence customer in the United States buys his electric service 33.25 per cent lower than in 1913.
