OVER THE STATE

Several radio stations continue to advocate the watering of trees which have not yet placed roots down to well water. Expert tree men say such trees invariably winter kill because trees do not grow a little during winter months. One heavy watering about the time of the freeze-up is said to be sufficient to save young trees.

Fire of undetermined origin Sunday afternoon, starting in the northeast corner of the freight room, destroyed the Northwestern railway depot at Clearwater, according to reports here. The building was entirely of frame construction and was two story.

In Chicago an outbreak of a disease known to science as "amebic dysentery" caused death of 15 and serious illness of about 100 persons, some of the sick being in other parts of the country following a visit to the windy city. The disease is a tropical one rarely encountered in this country. Its origin here has been traced to several hotels and restaurants. It was reported by Health Commissioner Bundsen of Chicago that the outbreak is now under control.

According to report, Michael J. Flannigan, formerly cashier of the failed Nebraska State bank at Long Pine, is to go on trial at Ainsworth on November 27 on another charge of having violated the Nebraska state banking laws. He was acquitted at Ainsworth on another charge a little over a week ago. His attorneys were William Ritchie, Jr., Omaha, George Farman, Jr., of Ainsworth, and his own son, M. J. Flannigan, Jr., attorney of Omaha. The prosecuting attorneys were Wm. C. Ramsey, assistant attorney general, Omaha, and Ben H. Burritt, Brown county attorney. It is likely the presiding judge at the coming trial will be Judge Harry D. Landis, of Seward, originally sitting in the Flannigan cases thru the request of Judge R. R. Dickson.

A meteor supposed to have been of considerable size flashed across the heavens at one o'clock Monday morning, November 6 and is thought to have blown itself to pieces in the vicinity of Clearwater. After illuminating the sky until some stated they could have read a newspaper, the meteor exploded as it reached the earth, causing earth tremors as far away as Norfolk. None of the fragments have been found as far as known here.

According to an authority, meteors travel at a rate of from eight to 44 miles per second. In space they remain at a temperature of 459 degrees below zero. The surface heats while passing thru a layer of atmosphere causing it to melt, smoke and flame. Millions of meteors are floating in space according to the authority, but compared to space the earth is but a pin point. Some believe the Clearwater meteorite weighed a ton or more. More than 99 per cent of meteors are composed of iron, a few are rock and some rock and iron. Collectors pay good prices for meteorites.

"No, but I wanted to give him a little pleasure; it's his birthday."

TWO NEW WINTER GRADES

ISO-VIS "D"

Anti-Sludge Motor Oil

CAR MANUFACTURERS RECOMMEND NEW
GRADES OF MOTOR OIL

After thorough study of common causes of difficulty in winter starting, motor car manufacturers have found, through investigations sponsored by the Society of Automotive Engineers, that most people use too heavy oil in winter, and that there is great variation in the starting characteristics of winter grade oils. They, therefore, recommend the use of two new grades for winter to be known as 10-W and 20-W, both of which are to have very definite viscosity specifications for starting at low temperatures.

They pour at sub-zero temperatures . . . Give easier starting . . . Yet could be used with perfect safety in mid-summer. Will not sludge. Now ready at all Standard Stations

Get set for the easiest starting winter you've ever experienced. At all Standard Stations you'll now find two new winter grades of Iso-Vis "D" Anti-Sludge Motor Oil—10-W and 20-W. These new grades not only meet the latest recommendations of car manufacturers for winter motor oils, but 20-W pours at 5° below zero, and 10-W pours at 20° below zero. At those temperatures these oils let your motor turn over easily—give positive lubrication instantly. And you don't need to worry about these oils thinning out dangerously under the heat of driving. They are so little affected by high temperatures that they could be used with perfect safety in your motor on the hottest summer day, though they would give somewhat higher consumption in hot weather. Because these new oils do not sludge you will get just as quick, positive circulation of lubricant in your motor at the end of 1000 miles as when you first put them in your crankcase.
