OVER THE STATE

A week ago last Sunday, during the most violent wind storm on record in the midwest in half a century, a prairie fire originated seven miles north and three west of Atkinson. It is hard to explain why more territory was not denuded than was. Telephone alarms were flashed to Stuart and Atkinson and to many farmers. It was figured a cigaret stub or sparks from a chimney caused the blaze.

After the fight was over, it was found 17 stacks of hay on the Paul Seger and Mike Schaaf lands had gone up in smoke, and a hay stacker was badly damaged. Hundreds of men and boys responded to the calls for help and prevented another and sadder version of the fire.

Near Craig, on the farm of C. B. Clark, a test well is being sunk in an effort at finding a supply of water for the people of that town. Those drilling the latest of many test wells sunk near Craig said they drove down 220 feet, drilled thru 14 stratas of soils without reaching water. The people of Craig are worrying about water, and, come to think of it, that is one thing that is worrying dwellers in most parts of the United States and many parts of Canada.

W. T. Fenton, Lincoln, father-in-law of Donald Gallagher, O'Neill raised boy now a prominent attorney at Lincoln, offered the wardenship of the new federal prison on Alcatraz island in San Francisco bay, could not make up his mind as to accepting the job so he went out there and looked the country over and refused to accept. He has been warden of the Nebraska penitentiary 21 years and this is what he said: "There is a great deal of work to be done at the new island prison and I believe it is a job for a younger man." Only dangerous convicts are to be kept at the new prison.

Eighteen boy scouts of Springview have about completed erection of a log cabin they commenced building two months ago just across a street from the public school there. The youths cut and finished the timber themselves. Their long dreamed of cabin soon is to be ready for use as a meeting place. An invitation was extended the public to inspect the work at their pleasure.

Weather for the weak: Coal and fare in lower part of residence, not much change in pantaloons.
