People I Have Up A Tree!
Hello everyone! I am introducing myself to you in an earnest endeavor to bring you—well yes-news!
One of the smart boys of O'Neill hurt the feelings of a smarter girl of the surrounding country by asking her for a dance and then not keeping it. Said madonna says she will see him in—yes Chicago—before he pulls anything like that again. Who is she? He'll guess with you!
Gene Gallagher won a deck of cards at the party Friday night. Here's hoping he will learn how to play bridge like the smart set do.
Rumor has it that a few epele are getting entirely too serious about each other to last—what's your theory?
Did you know or have you heard Bobby McCarthy has a new walk—a home patented pendulum swing!
Margaret Quinn is getting just too, too friendly with people of surrounding towns—ask her who lives on the main street of Inman. What's the answer??
A young man today remarked that he would have to chain his dog up if he (the dog) didn't soon change boot-leggers. What's the world coming to? Letting personal enmity ruin the fun of a dog!
Some young gentlemen have a line long enough to go for, yes, very far, but the trouble is they overstretch it. It's one of these lines without an elastic clause and women do compare things.
The song, "You're Going to Lose Your Gal," is quite popular—did you every try checking up? It will hang your eye-balls an your mustache—pardon me, you women don't have one—yes we both saw the same show.
Do you all know the tall, dark, handsome man about town who traverses said country with a "Look me over once or twice" air? I have heard some lamenting women say they could have him if he'd drop it. It just doesn't go. How about it my frand?
These young gigolos that take ladies to parties and don't take them home—man where's your chivalry? Women where's your appeal? I bet it's on a banana!
Why do boys who date six night a week go to the show alone on the seventh? You answer it—I'm not Mary Jane.
Well that's all for now. If you like me let me know. If you don't like

WHEN a man reaches the the point where he realizes his lack of money in bank is due to his own fault and not that of others, he has reached the starting point to success.
