

In District Court

Emily J. Moore has filed suit in the district court to foreclose a mortgage given on October 19, 1932, for $3,200, by Frank M. Leach, et al., to the Federal Trust Co., on the southeast quarter and east half of the southwest quarter of section 5, township 29, range 11, west of the 6th P. M. In her petition she alleges that the interest payment due on May 1, 1933, has not been paid, nor has any payment been made since that time. In February, 1932, the Federal Trust company sold and assigned the notes and mortgage to the plaintiff herein, who is now owner and holder thereof. She further alleges that this year she was compelled to pay the taxes for the years 1932 and 1933 to protect her interest in the property. She asks the court to determine the amount due thereon and if not paid within a reasonable time that the land be sold.

The Lincoln Joint Stock Land Bank has filed suit against Joseph Disterhaupt, et al., and the west half of section 15, and the northwest quarter of section 22, in township 29, range 15, to foreclose a mortgage for $8,500 given on May 11, 1922, on the above premises. They allege that the defendant failed to pay a balance of $181.52 due on coupon No. 21, and that there is now due and payable the sum of $8,894.27. They ask the court to determine the amount due and that if same is not paid within a reasonable time that the land be sold.

This is a hot record. Down at Neligh not long ago the fire siren sounded and the fire proved to be at the Philbin hotel. After the blaze, the fire chief, George Ferguson, who had been on that job for 30 years, coming to Neligh about 47 years ago, when asked said he remembers every fire that occurred in the town in that time. He said firemen had been called to the Philbin hotel 33 times he knows of and that in his estimation the total damage to the hotel does not amount to over $1,000.

Potatoes are dropping rapidly, not referring to the price but to drops made back of horses and plow.

Old-fashioned whirl-winds skipped across the country here last Sunday, a sign the wind is blowing, pioneers say.

An authority says dogs going around this time of year with froth on their mouths is no sign of rabies and that it is a fact as many more dogs go rabid in winter than in summer. So, don't blame the dog.

George Withers, of the southwest part of the county, was transacting business in this city the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Todsen and children visited relatives and friends in Grand Island Sunday, returning that night.

Mrs. Matt Crilley, of Rapid City, South Dakota, came down last week to attend the funeral of her uncle, T. F. Donohoe.

Ed. Donohoe and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cash, of Bonesteel, South Dakota, attended the funeral of T. F. Donohoe last week.

County Judge Malone Tuesday granted a marriage license to Frank Bollowitt, 35, and Marcella Imsick, 22, both of Ewing.

Young grasshoppers and live potato bugs were found last Friday, while the gared at the home of John Lydon was being plowed.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kilmurray, of Atkinson, were in attendance at the funeral of their old friend, T. F. Donohoe, last week.

Hoboes are showing up here at an increasing rate and side door Pullman travel seems to be in for a record summer. Next January 1, according to reports, the railways and government officials are to forbid this sort of travel.

Dirt is flying here on main street as workers of the Roberts Construction company, of Lincoln, prepare for laying down paving. The work is very educational for the youngsters, especially those who have an engineering eye.

Four window lights were broken some time Wednesday morning at the public school building here, supposedly by someone throwing pieces of brick. There was one broken in the third grade room and three in the auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock are the proud parents of a little son, born Wednesday morning. The young man will be known as Warren Bruce.

Grading and laying of highway No. 281 a few miles south of here was expected to be completed in a few days. The next operation may be a veneer of gravel. It is thought the oil may not be spread for some months, a road man said.

Everybody is busy here either with chickens, gardens or bon fires. Gardeners report the ground is moist and no reason in sight why there should not be a bin-bursting crop this summer and fall, provided we get sufficient moisture during the summer months.

Nebraska News Items

On April 2 at St. Mary's Catholic church at Spencer, Boyd county, Father Felix J. Gebauer celebrated his jubilee. Many Sioux Indian children from the Marty Mission school in South Dakota rendered a program which included speaking and dancing.
