and infidels in writing, the charter would never have been written. But he gave liberty of conscience to all in spite of the wise policy of asking only for what was safe and what was then far in advance of the intolerant age. Even more, the Jew was tolerated here and encouraged in his business affairs. Dr. Jacob Lumbrazo, a Jew, resided in the province and was given a license to practice his profession when he was charged with blasphemy used in a discussion, and it was brought to the attention of the court, the case was never brought up for trial. It was this broad toleration of Maryland that caused her to advance more in six months after her founding than Virginia did in six years."

Maryland was a refuge for the persecuted Puritans of Virginia, for Jews who were not received anywhere else, and for all who desired to settle there. Lord Baltimore gave secret instructions that on the voyage in the Dove and the Ark to their new home they were to be very careful to preserve unity and peace amongst all the passengers on board, many of whom were Puritans, and that they suffer no scandal nor offense to be given to any of the Protestants, whereby any just complaint might be made of them, and that for this end they cause all acts of the Roman Catholic Religion to be done as privately as could be; also that they be silent on all occasions of discourse concerning matters of religion and treat Protestants with as much mildness and favor as justice would permit. This was to be observed on land as well as on sea.

A movement for this same broad toleration was begun lately when a Jewish Rabbi, a Presbyterian minister, and a Catholic priest toured together the length and breadth of our land.

Brotherhood Day is to be observed, too, another indication of mutual understanding and good will among the citizens of the nation. When the charity of Christ is better known and practiced we shall have a better U. S. A.

"The Rise of Japan."

From the first activity in Europeanizing Japan, she has grown mighty, and holds an envious place among the world's great powers. Her power is evidenced by the fact that in 1904-1905 she completely routed gigantic Russia. The history of Japan's rise to power is a most interesting phase of modern learning. Japan set the example of Europeanization in the Orient for China who has followed in her footsteps a trifle falteringly and less efficiently. The small but mighty Kingdom of the Far East is densely populated, in fact over-populated.

She is seeking a place to transplant a portion of her inhabitants, and from late activities, seems to favor the Islands of the Philippines, recently freed by Uncle Sam. Hand in hand with the study of the white man's burden, goes the Civil Wars and revolutions of China and facts which are the pillars of her promotion from a most backward race cut off from the world at large to a fairly modern nation.

Now, Japan is taking the position of a "big father" to all of Asia and wants to establish an Oriental Monroe Doctrine—Asia for Asiatics. If this succeeds the "Open Door" of China will be closed to foreigners, but China and the Great Powers will no doubt, have a say in the matter.

Charged With Operating Unlicensed Whiskey Still

Deputy United States Marshal F. D. Harnish, of Norfolk, and Revenue Agent Jesse B. Owens, of Norfolk, paid O'Neill a visit last week and lodged in jail for a night one Kenneth N. Hannon, 23, allegedly having something to do with a still for whiskey making which exploded in a Norfolk residence about three weeks ago, setting the place afire and creating a disturbance.

Hannon spent the night in jail and the next day he was charged by the officers before United States Commissioner Frank Dishner, of O'Neill, with having operated an unlicensed whiskey still and having possessed whiskey on which no revenue had been paid. Dishner set Hannon's bond at $2,000 and Hannon said the bond would be furnished as soon as he reached Norfolk. They went down to Norfolk last Thursday afternoon. Hannon is married.

Owens is a newly appointed revenue agent, formerly being a prohibition agent with headquarters in Norfolk and covered this section of the state. Hannon was apprehended at Ainsworth. It was rumored another man is being sought in connection with the Norfolk still deal, his name being unobtainable here.

Will Hold County Sunday School Convention Here

Next Sunday at the local Methodist church members of the Epworth league of Spencer, Bristow and O'Neill will hold a meeting here. The chief speaker is to be Alfred Hunter, A.B., S.T.B., D.D. He is executive field secretary of the Epworth league.

The Holt county Sunday School convention starts next Monday here at the Methodist church and any Sunday school member of any church is welcome to participate. Members attending Monday will bring baskets and partake of a basket dinner.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to the giving of instructions for Sunday School teachers, instruction being given by Rev. J. C. White and Rev. Frank L. Finch. On these nights many people from other towns must be given sleeping quarters.

While the convention is to be at the Methodist church the Presbyterians will help with the entertainment. A few months ago at Osmond, Methodist Epworth leaguers from a dozen towns remained there several days, and were surprised and elated, and just about the finest spirit of Christian fellowship imaginable sprang from the fact many Catholic families housed their visiting Christian brothers and sisters without ostentation nor thought of remuneration.

William Burgess Hewett

William Burgess Hewett, son of of William Fonando and Sarah Penn Hewett, was born at Iowa City, Iowa, on November 10, 1868, and passed away at his home in Atkinson on April 30, 1934, aged 65 years, 5 months and 20 days.

At the age of 11 years he came to Holt county with his parents and they settled on a farm near Dustin. In that community Mr. Hewett grew to manhood and there, on September 9, 1890, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Corrigan. To this union seven children were born, one son and one daughter having died in infancy. For twenty-nine years Mr. Hewett and his family lived on the farm about five miles southeast of Dustin. In 1919 he moved to Atkinson and made his home there until his death.

Fourteen years ago Mr. Hewett established the Atkinson Oil company and was one of the community's leading business men during this period. He was actively engaged in this business at the time of his death.

He leaves to mourn his death his widow, Mrs. Mary Hewett of Atkinson; four sons and one daughter, Elmer Thomas Hewett, of Ainsworth; William Fonando Hewett, of Rushville; Dayle Everett Hewett, of Ainsworth; Mrs. Laura Agnes Parker, of O'Neill; Burgess Claire Hewett, of Atkinson; ten grandchildren; a sister-in-law, Mrs. W. R. Hewett, of Blackwell, Okla., and a host of friends in the Dustin and Atkinson communities where he lived most of his life.

Services were held at the house at 2:30 Wednesday, Rev. Charles Kirkland, of Atkinson, officiating. xxx

Will Graduate 26 From O'Neill High This Spring

A group of 26 is to graduate this spring from the O'Neill public school, and again the girls are leading the boys as to number, there being 21 girls and 5 boys. The girls are Genevieve Wilkinson, Birdie Doolittle, Pearl Burge, Hazel Anderson, Ruth Leach, Nona Bressler, Opal Harbottle, Grace Loy, Elva Stauffer, Cleta Van Every, Margaret Mitchell, Luella Hartford, Willa Wilson, Ruth Evans, Mary Emma Spindler, Hazel Johnson, Vivian Clouse, Lorraine Ennis, Elizabeth Medcalf, Arleen Page and Nila Renner.

The boys are Norman Medcalf, Bennett Sanders, Jack Deines, Robert Cook and Fred Cole.

The sponsors of this graduating class are Superintendent Roy W. Carroll and Miss Ruth Kraemer, the latter the Latin teacher. The class flower is sweet pea, the class colors pink and silver, and the class motto is "Tonight We Launch, Where Do We Anchor?"

Graduation exercises are to be held May 24 and Rev. F. J. Auckock is to deliver the commencement address. The baccalaureate sermon is to be delivered by Rev. H. D. Johnson at the Methodist church perhaps May 20, Sunday. Class night is to be announced soon.

Former O'Neill Boy Makes Good On Eastern Stage

The Creighton Alumnus, official publication of the graduates of Creighton University at Omaha, has this to say of a young man who was born in O'Neill:

"Damian Flynn, ex-Commerce '31, who left Omaha on a cattle train last September bound for Broadway and the legitimate stage, has won favorable acclaim from theatre critics for his leading part in "Biography," a revival of the recent Broadway success. The play opened April 2 in Philadelphia with Flynn in the masculine lead. Both Philadelphia papers, the Public Ledger and the Inquirer, praised Flynn's work highly. Flynn goes by the stage name of O'Flynn, the ancient spelling of the family name. The play is scheduled to open at the Boulevard theatre in New York.

"While at Creighton, Flynn was prominent in dramatic productions of the Creighton Players and starred in many Omaha Community Playhouse productions during the past five years."

BRIEFLY STATED

George Van Every went to Bartlett Monday morning on business.

People here enjoyed a regular sea breeze Tuesday with everything but the sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bollen, of Stuart, visited friends and relatives here Sunday.

C. H. Bratt, of Huron, South Dakota, was greeting his many friends in this city this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Chudomilka, of Inman, were business callers in the city last Wednesday.

Swimming season opened officially Monday with some thermometers nervously hanging around 94.

Harlan Agnes, attending Wayne normal school, was home from Friday night to Monday morning.

Stuart has leased 160 acres one and one-fourth mile east of that city for use as a municipal airport.

James Crowley, Jr., left last Monday night for Morcraft, Wyoming, where he will be employed the coming year.

The Library circulation for Grattan township and the city of O'Neill for March and April was 1,741 and 24 new readers were added.

Leo Adams, who has filed for the republican nomination for clerk of the district court, was up from Chambers last Tuesday, greeting his many friends in this city.

C. J. Gatz went down to Omaha last Monday where he is attending a meeting of the Storz distributors, being held there this week.

The Seniors of the public school put on a play, "Can You Beat It" in the auditorium of the school Wednesday to a fair sized audience.

Mrs. James Boyle went to visit at the Patrick Boyle farm a few miles south of Chambers and 28 miles south of O'Neill on Wednesday.

Light rains have been reported in parts of South Dakota and in parts of Nebraska the past few days. Indications point to rain here.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Halva and family visited at the home of their brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pavlik at Verdigris last Sunday.

Peter Boyle, of Chambers, was here shopping and visiting his brothers, Patrick and James and their families. His wife and children accompanied him.

Will Mady, of Verdigris, visited at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Halva and family, several days last week, returning home Sunday.

The Library will be open one more afternoon for circulation commencing Wednesday afternoon, May 23, from 2 to 6 P. M.—Mary McLaughlin, Librarian.

Grasshoppers were reported as hatching in some sections and in others as not. A few reports from various parts of Holt county on this should be interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parker, of Lincoln, arrived in the city last Saturday and visited at the home of his brother, J. C. Parker, until Monday when they returned home.

It was reported here Tuesday that one of the prairie fires near Chambers last Sunday destroyed eight stacks of hay owned by William Krotter, of Stuart.

Gophers were reported out and tearing around last Sunday all over the north country, but so far as the eye can see, there is not much in sight yet for them to gopher.

A small boy went over a street here a few days ago in a kid wagon hooked to the rear of an automobile at a speed estimated at six times as fast as the average funeral procession travels.

Jack Frost did little damage to prospective fruits here according to advertisements hung in all parts of town in the shape of blossoms, on apple, cherry, plum and other fruit bearing trees.

Mrs. R. E. Benson, Mrs. R. L. McIntyre and Mrs. Ned Knapp, of Omaha, who had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Cronin for the past week, returned to their homes last Sunday.

The son of Charles Day, rancher near Bartlett, who suffered a broken leg 10 days ago when a dog chasing a rabbit struck him, was taken to Omaha to have the break treated by specialists.

Mrs. Anton Toy and Mrs. D. Abdoush went down to Sioux City last Monday morning to attend the funeral of an old friend, Abdos David, 27, who died there Sunday night after an illness of but four days.

While George Kumm, of Osmond, traveled along in his automobile at about thirty miles an hour, a jack-rabbit crashed through a windshield and fell dead on his lap. Kumm's face and hands were cut.

County Superintendent Luella Parker went down to Madison last Wednesday morning to attend a district meeting of the county superintendents of the state, being held in that city. She returned home Wednesday night.

Mrs. D. H. Cronin entertained twelve ladies Friday evening honoring her out of town guests. Mrs. Max Golden won high score at pinocle, Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell the all cut and Mrs. R. E. Benson the low score.

Mrs. Elmer Butterfield, farmer's wife, living on the Parker farm one mile southeast of here, has been in her bed of a serious illness, and according to Dr. J. P. Brown, is making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

George and Lester Autter, of Chambers, and "Shorty" Crumley, of near Amelia, left by automobile Thursday morning for points in Texas where they have business. The three visited here briefly before hitting the southern trail.

Grey smoke rolled this way out of the southwest last Saturday morning at 10:30 and telephone inquiries revealed nothing to this news agency. After half an hour smoke ceased its puffing up, and it was concluded another interesting piece of news did not register.

In the South Dakota primary election Tom Berry, another Holt county boy, raised out on the Niobrara river, got more than two to one votes against his nearest opponent. The coming gubernatorial election seems to be safely under the big cowboy hat of Tom Berry.

A frame garage is under construction at the rear of the old Pine property, one block south of the Catholic church. The residence and lot has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Lindberg, who expect to move there from their present location just north of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, son Donald, and daughter, Phyllis, went Sunday to the newly occupied farm of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sargent, north of Opportunity, and visited the Sargent's that afternoon. The Mitchells reported the Sargents have a fine farm and almost every convenience one might desire.

The Roberts Construction Company has moved its loading platform and drag line from the Northwestern siding, near the stock yards, to the Burlington tracks west of the depot. Sand to be used in the paving here will be hauled in over the Northwestern and the cement will come over the Burlington and both unloaded on Burlington tracks west of the depot.

The will of the late Nelson J. Tuller, pioneer of Atkinson, who died a few weeks ago, was probated last Friday. His will divided over $18,000 worth of personal property, his real estate having been disposed of prior to his death. His property was left to his daughters and their children. His daughters are Mrs. Lettie Tuller Collins, of Atkinson, and Mrs. Bertha Tuller Berger, of Iowa.

The Busy Hour club met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clyde Hershiser. All members were present and an afternoon of entertainment was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Bob Gartner was present as a visitor. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Hershiser after which the members departed for home. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lett Johnson.

Out near Dustin a few days ago a prairie fire started and burned six miles before hundreds of men whipped and plowed it out. The blaze flared about one half mile northeast of Dustin and burned southeast to Sand creek. Tractors and automobiles were used to drag plows making furrows, from where backfires were lighted. Repots says a large amount of property was saved from destruction by good judgment and fast work of the fire fighters.

Last Thursday evening Joel Parker had a formal opening of his new building on Fourth street. While not completed Joel thought it was a good time to have the formal opening and the evening was given over to the Old Timers Club, of which Joel is a charter member. It is said that all of the members had a good time, as well as the invited guests. In fact this meeting was such a success that Joel says he expects to repeat it when the building is completed.

Mrs. Mary Reider, of Gregory, S. D., long a resident of O'Neill, sent a relative tiny grasshoppers that hatched in her home. Mrs. Reider says more than a month ago she dug some earth at the edge of her garden and put it in a flower pot in the house. Three weeks later, some lettuce, growing indoors, and she went to get some for dinner when she noticed she had company. Here and there the jumpers were scampering away from the lettuce, having hatched and started eating right in her home. Several dozen were rounded up and sentenced to sudden death, she said.

According to Frank B. O'Connell, state game warden, 1,000,000 bull head and 100,000 catfish have been planted in Nebraska streams recently, the greatest spring plant on record, to bolster fishing for Nebraskans. The fish were seined from overstocked and isolated sand dune lakes and from state owned hatcheries.
