EDUCATIONAL NOTES

The annual school board meeting will be held in the various schools over the county on next Monday, June 11th.

A number of inquiries have been received regarding the change in valuation of land in school districts. We have been advised that there will be very little change for the coming year. Levies for the school expenses should be made on the past year's valuation.

At the annual meeting a question often arises as to who has a right to vote in each school district. Any person twenty-one years of age who has lived in the district forty days and who was assessed for real or personal property in that district before the annual meeting or whose wife or husband is assessed in that district or who has children of school age shall be entitled to vote at any district meeting.

Any person transferred into a district has a right to vote on any question that may arise, except that of a bond issue or moving the school house site. He also may vote on the election of officers, however, no transferred person may legally hold office.

A moderator, although presiding at the meeting, may vote on any question the same as any other qualified voter in the district.

If the question should arise as to a person's qualifications as a voter, that person should be challenged and asked to take the oath of a voter as found in Section 79-205 Nebraska School Laws. Any person taking this oath shall be permitted to vote on any question. However, if he has taken the oath falsely he may be prosecuted for perjury.

The annual school meeting should be conducted in an orderly, business-like manner. All questions should be taken up that pertain to the affairs of the district, both financial and otherwise, during the year. If anyone tries to cause a disturbance at the annual meeting the moderator should request the troublesome parties to leave. If he or she refuses to do so the moderator may legally appoint some one to take them into custody.

The change of school site may be voted on at the annual meeting, only. We note one error on the legal blank forms. It reads "that a levy up to 7 mills may be made without a special levy." It should read, "a levy up to 8 mills."

All annual reports and other reports reports are due in the county superintendent's office within ten days after the annual meeting. Each district should make a special effort to send the reports in within this time.

A change was found necessary in the apportionment after the last half year cards were sent out in February. The statement of the apportionment on the yellow slip which accompanied the legal blanks is correct for each district. Use this as your figure on your annual report.

All matters of interest to the school district such as hauling coal, cleaning the school house, repairing building, etc., should be discussed and voted on at the annual meeting. These are minor matters but if not settled at the annual meeting often cause a great amount of disturbance in the district later.

Ak-Sar-Ben Show Will Be Open Mondays Dur-Months Of June-July

The famous Ak-Sar-Ben Shows, at which thousands of visitors are entertained each summer, will start their 40th season at the Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum in Omaha on Monday, June 11, continuing each Monday night thru June and July, with the single exception of July 2.

Residents of nearby communities and all other visitors to Omaha are invited to attend these shows as guests of Ak-Sar-Ben. Admission tickets may be obtained from Ak-Sar-Ben's Ambassadors in the various communities. The ambassador for O'Neill is S. J. Weekes.

The night assigned to this community is July 9th.

This year's Ak-Sar-Ben show is expected to surpass all previous offerings in beauty and splendor of production. Special effort has been placed on this year's show because of the 40th anniversary of the organization. The story is about the cattle country of western Nebraska.

The initiation this year will likewise receive more attention than in recent years, and prospective victims may expect the worst sort of "tortures," none of which, however, have ever proved serious or fatal in the past.

Ak-Sar-Ben officials point out that visitors who happen to be in Omaha on any Monday night during the season are invited to attend the show, even tho it is not the night assigned to their community. Tickets should be obtained in advance from the local ambassador, or visitors will be admitted upon presenting proper identification at the Coliseum.

Once again, women will be permitted to attend the show, and now that real beer is back it will be served free as part of the buffet luncheon which follows every Den Show.
