BRIEFLY STATED

J. B. Fullerton, of Pleasantview township, one of the republican candidates for state representative, was visiting his many friends in this city last Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Aucock have been visiting relatives at Dallas, S. D., and Belden, Nebr. Rev. Aucock returned Tuesday and the family expect to be home in a few days.

S. J. Weekes returned Wednesday night from Omaha where he had been the forepart of the week sitting as a member of the loan committee of the Agricultural Credit corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pritchard, of Omaha, came up the latter part of the week for a few days visit at the home of Mrs. Pritchard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vitt south of this city.

Miss Gertrude Conard, one of the efficient employees in the Bowen Variety store, is enjoying a two weeks vacation. She plans on spending part of the time visiting in the Black Hills.

C. A. Ralston, of Ainsworth, one of the democratic candidates for the senatorial nomination in this district, was an O'Neill visitor last Saturday, getting acquainted with the voters in this city.

Miss Mary Sullivan and Mrs. Pierce, of Omaha came up the latter part of last week and are spending a few days visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. Jim Nichols, and with other relatives here.

H. J. Birmingham and daughter, Betty Lou, and C. E. Stout left last Friday for Chicago where they will spend a couple of weeks visiting relatives and taking in the sights in the Exposition city.

A large number of people from this city attended the annual picnic held at Amelia last Thursday. One candidate informed us that there were just about as many candidates there as there were picnickers.

J. M. Merritt, of Gretna, Nebr., was in the city last Tuesday. Mr. Merritt is the superintendent of the State Fish Hatcheries near Gretna and was on his way home from a visit to the hatcheries at Valentine.

A. E. Bowen returned last Saturday from his trip to Chicago, where he combined a stock-buying trip with a visit to the Exposition and a lake trip to Milwaukee. Archie says he had a delightful time on his trip.

Rev. Johnson and P. Marcellus returned last Sunday from their trip to Flint, Michigan, where Rev. Johnson visited relatives and Mr. Marcellus was purchasing some new cars for his patrons. They brought back three new cars.

Last Sunday evening while driving south on the section line on the east side of town Miss Meta Martin drove onto the highway without stopping and was hit by a car from Randolph and her car badly smashed, but she was uninjured.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Todson went down to Grand Island last Sunday where Mrs. Todson will visit relatives while Pete and his brother-in-law will make an extended tour of the Black Hills. They expect to be gone two weeks.

Orville Chatt, one of the democratic candidates for congress from this district, was in the city last Tuesday evening. Mr. Chatt is making an active campaign for the nomination and will poll a nice vote at the primaries in this county, according to reports from different sections of the county.

Eugene D. O'Sullivan, democratic candidate for governor, will be in this city tomorrow evening at 8:30 and will address the voters of this section on the street in front of the Golden heotel. Mr. O'Sullivan is one of the ablest men running for office in this state and he has a real message for the democratic voters. Be sure and hear him.

Garrett Janzing, one of the most energetic and active residents of this county, is one farmer who has not lost faith in this section of the country. He is now spending several hundred dollars in painting the buildings on the five farms he owns northwest of this city. He says that good times are bound to come back and now is the time to get ready for them.

A large bunch of government cattle, who are being pastured east of this city, having been shipped here from Wyoming a few weeks ago, are suffering from pink eye and have caused the farmers and stockmen in that section considerable worry. A state inspector was here and looked over the herd Tuesday and Wednesday and we understand that federal men are expected to arrive today to look them over. The cattle had been under quarantine.

Miss Angie Kolland is back on duty at the Corner Store after a two weeks vacation spent at the home of her folks at Tilden.

Miss Evelyn Furry, of Lincoln, arrived here Thursday afternoon to spend a week visiting with her sister, Mrs. Glenn Saunders.

A Vote for EDWARD R. BURKE for U. S. Senator Is a Vote for Roosevelt

Governor Bryan, now seeking to ride into the senate on the coat tail of the president said, only a few months ago: "THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION IS CUTTING THE FARMERS' THROAT FROM EAR TO EAR!" Congressman Burke, who has helped get millions of dollars for Nebraska farmers, has been and will continue to be a loyal supporter of the president.

"Keep the New Deal in Nebraska"

Nebraska's Next Governor!

Deserves Nomination

(From Valentine Republican)

Dwight Griswold deserves the Republican nomination for Governor this year. Two years ago, he made a personal campaign, single-handed and alone, which in spite of the Roosevelt land-slide, kept the Republican Party alive in this state. In 1932, Roosevelt carried Nebraska by 157,000 while Dwight Griswold was defeated for governor by only 35,000, leading the entire Republican state ticket by a wide margin.

But there was a reason why Dwight Griswold received such a flattering vote. In spite of the poor prospects for Republican success two years ago, he never faltered. He took his campaign direct to the people, speaking in 382 towns in the state. Other candidates for state office furnished very little help, but Griswold never stopped. He kept on fighting, bringing home to the people of the state the truth regarding political conditions existing in the state capitol.

The Democratic state machine was saved by Roosevelt's popularity, but Griswold's fight in 1932 has now borne fruit. Due to it, Nebraska in 1934 will elect a Republican governor. Who, then, deserves the nomination? Where were these other candidates in 1932 when Republican chances were not so bright? Is it fair for them to come around this year and ask for a nomination for governor, when the only reason it is worth having is because Dwight Griswold went out two years ago and made the most intensive, aggressive campaign ever made in the history of the state?

The answers to these questions are plain. It is only sportsmanship and fair play for the Republicans of Nebraska to again nominate Dwight Griswold for governor in 1934.

Mr. Griswold served four terms in the legislature, three of them in the state senate. He is one of the outstanding newspapermen of the state, having been president of the Nebraska Press Association. He has been state commander of the American Legion. He has the respect of all who know him. Surely this state needs the type of leadership which Dwight Griswold can furnish.

Griswold's Record

Dwight Griswold is the son of pioneer parents who homesteaded in northwestern Nebraska 50 years ago. He was educated in this state and since 1922 has been Editor of The Gordon Journal, one of Nebraska's outstanding weekly newspapers.

For three terms in the State Senate, he represented the largest legislative district in Nebraska. It is a district of diversified interests with dry farming, irrigation and large ranches. And every time Dwight Griswold was elected to the Senate, he won by a larger majority, the last time having a lead of more than 4,500 votes, the largest majority the district ever gave a candidate. This only proves he has the confidence of those who know him. He is a cleanhard fighter, who has both courage and ability.

Dwight Griswold's last term as State Senator was in 1929, and since then he has served as President of the Nebraska Press Association and as State Commander of the American Legion—being chosen for both of these positions by men who knew him well, again proving that Dwight Griswold has the respect and confidence of those who have come closest in touch with him.

In 1932, Dwight Griswold was nominated by Republicans as their candidate for Governor. And in that also, he was a success, running 15,000 votes ahead of any other Republican on the ticket and receiving a total of 261,000 votes, the largest number any person ever received in this state without being elected. He carried the fight directly to the people, speaking in 382 towns, and the fine impression he then made and his proven ability as a campaigner and fighter for Nebraska's best interests, certainly makes him the logical Republican candidate for Governor in 1934 and makes his election a certainty.

He is NEBRASKA'S NEXT GOVERNOR.
