

Troops Move In to Clean Up Kentucky "Crime Zone"

KENTUCKY National Guardsmen moved secretly into Manchester, Ky., to carry out an order to "clean up" Clay county, whose bloody history led a federal investigator to call it "the worst criminal stronghold in the United States." The troops descended upon the town in the early morning hours in a surprise move by Gov. Ruby Laffoon to break up an alleged automobile theft ring and end other lawlessness. The town is practically under martial law, and Brig. Gen. Ellerbe W. Carter is in command. Photograph shows an air view of Manchester, Ky., with the state guardsmen encamped in trucks in the center of the town.

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE VISITS THE SMILING POOL

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE had taken it into his funny little head to go over to the Smiling Pool. Just why he did it nobody knows. Perhaps it was he wanted to consult Grandfather Frog, who, you know, is accounted very wise. Perhaps he wanted to call on his big cousin, Jerry Muskrat. Perhaps it was because he felt uneasy and wanted to go somewhere for a change of scene. Whatever the reason, Danny unexpectedly appeared one morning on the bank of the Smiling Pool.

"What Are You Doing Over Here, Danny Meadow Mouse?"

The very first person he saw was Grandfather Frog, sitting on his big, green lily pad. "Good morning, Grandfather Frog," squeaked Danny.

Grandfather Frog turned about in a funny little hop of startled surprise and blinked his great, goggle eyes at Danny Meadow Mouse. "Chugarum," said he in a deep gruff voice. "What are you doing over here, Danny Meadow Mouse?"

"Nothing in particular," replied Danny.

"People who are doing nothing in particular are very likely to get into trouble. Don't you know that, Danny Meadow Mouse?" demanded Grandfather Frog.

"Oh, I guess I can keep out of trouble around here. You're looking very fine, Grandfather Frog. You don't look a day older than when I last saw you."

"I don't feel a day older," replied Grandfather Frog, and his voice was not quite so gruff. You see, it rather tickled him to be told that he looked no older. "Of course I'm glad to see you, Danny," he continued, "but just the same I think you are taking chances in coming here. Longlegs' the Blue Heron comes over here almost every day, and I have an idea that he would just as soon and perhaps a little rather, have a fat Meadow Mouse for his dinner than an old frog like me."

"I believe you're not glad to see me at all," declared Danny. "You are trying to scare me."

"No such thing," replied Grandfather Frog gruffly. "But I never like to see anybody take unnecessary risks. You know, I believe in safety first. Now what would you do if Reddy Fox should suddenly appear right behind you? You would be in such a tight place. There isn't a thing you could hide under, and hiding in the grass wouldn't do you a bit of good, for that keen nose of Reddy's would soon find you."

"Reddy isn't here, so what's the good of borrowing trouble?" squeaked Danny. "It's time enough to worry when there is something to worry about. Did you ever know a finer day, Grandfather Frog?"

MOTHER'S COOK BOOK

THIS AND THAT

CANDIES make a delicious garnish for simple desserts, and save the time necessary for preparing more elaborate ones. A bit of chocolate or maple fudge crumbled over ice cream, cornstarch pudding, custard, or junket, makes an otherwise plain dessert very stylish.

To make an old dust mop practically as good as new put a large tablespoonful of concentrated lye in a pail half full of boiling water and let the mop boil in it. Rinse thoroughly several times and put in the sun to dry.

One or two tablespoonfuls of kerosene put into the boiler with the clothes will whiten them.

Begin early and start right with the child; this is especially important if he is to be strong, well and an efficient citizen.

The normal child eats with zest the food placed before him. Dawdling over food or refusing to eat it will need hard work to overcome. It is far easier to form good habits than to break bad ones.

If the child is accustomed to a variety of foods very early, before he begins to form likes and dislikes, he will like and eat everything as he grows older.

It is the very exceptional child who is made ill by certain foods; of course, one must eliminate them

QUESTION BOX

by ED WYNN, The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn: I am a boy twelve years of age and have been offered a job after my school hours. I am supposed to set 15 rat traps in the basement of an office building every day. Is it hard to learn to set a rat trap? Sincerely, I. D. CLARE.

Answer: It is very easy to learn how to set a rat trap after you once get your hand in.

Dear Mr. Wynn: I have a girl friend who is a good swimmer. She told me, yesterday, that she once fell off a boat into the water and a large shark came after her, looked her over, then went away without even touching her. Do you believe that? Yours truly, IKE ANT'BEE LEEVIT.

Answer: Sure I believe it. It must have been a man-eating shark.

Dear Mr. Wynn: I am the mother of a girl seventeen years of age. I want her to take up golf, tennis, swimming and other outdoor sports. She refuses and stays in the house. She says she prefers indoor sport. Are indoor sports all right for a girl her age? Truly yours, I. WORRIE.

Answer: An indoor sport is all right for a girl, if she knows when to send him home.

Dear Mr. Wynn: I am in love with a boy twenty-one years of age. He wants me to marry him but he is a spendthrift. Is it all right for me to marry a spendthrift? Yours truly, WANDA WHAT'EDU.

Answer: It is all right if he is just starting on his career as a spendthrift. Get in on it, kid.

Dear Mr. Wynn: My husband, who was a fireman, was discharged by the city. The only reason given in his discharge was "For acting childish at the last fire." What do they mean by saying, "he acted childish"? Truly yours, HOOKER LADDER.

Answer: Your husband probably was in charge of the hose crew and "by acting childish," they mean he played on the ruins after the fire was out.

Dear Mr. Wynn: My next door neighbor told me he got a wireless from London, England, from his brother, and it only cost two cents. Do you believe that? Yours truly, U. MAYNO.

Answer: Sure I believe it. It was a postcard. © the Associated Newspapers. WNU Service

THE OLD HOME GOES

By ANNE CAMPBELL

THE house went long ago. . . Its walls are crumbled; And the barn door, once painted red, has tumbled. I heard they sold the lumber for old wood To start the autumn fires with . . . not much good. This roof that sheltered me, this house Granddad Built for his bride when he was yet a lad.

He made the house, and planted the green tree Back of the outdoor kitchen . . . Valiantly, Where so much ruin is, the tree still stands. It is a gift from God. . . The meadowlands Beyond were razed a hundred times, but still The tree is green upon the sunny hill.

Nothing the years have done to it has mattered. Against its strong old heart the years have battered. The sun of happiness, the rain of tears Have beaten on its boughs for fifty years. And it remains the same—constant—kept whole— As if it, too, had an immortal soul! Copyright.—WNU Service.

College-Trained Girls Seek Domestic Service

A few years ago college-bred girls would have disdained domestic service. The depression has changed that—to some extent at least. Some of them are willing to try their hands at anything to make an honest living.

So it is that the Y. W. C. A. of Orange, N. J., has begun a new venture. Under the direction of Miss Anna Davis, general secretary of the local branch, unemployed young women of high school or college education, will be used to supply the demand for cooks, housekeepers, nursemaids, and companions to elderly persons.

"From time to time," said Miss Davis, "young women, educated for a business career, but unable to find work, have told us they would take any respectable job, even though it entailed working in homes as cooks, nurses, or companions."

An investigation disclosed that there was a shortage of efficient domestic workers. A new bureau established by the Y. W. C. A. will serve as an employment-contact agency, and all negotiations will be carried on secretly.—Literary Digest.

CONSTIPATION Can be Helped!

(Use what Doctors do)

Why do the bowels usually move regularly and thoroughly, long after a physician has given you treatment for constipation?

Because the doctor gives a liquid laxative that can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced usage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Your druggist has it; ask for—
