BRIEFLY STATED

The Red Bird Baseball nine are sure the scalps of the Ponca Indians are to dangle from Red Bird belts after the game scheduled to be played at the Midway diamond July 24.

Corn was reported as curling slightly on account of intense heat and a lack of moisture on the surface of the ground. A rain within one week should be page one news right now.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sausser, of Albuquerque, N. M., and Miss Mary Sausser, of San Bernardino, Calif., arrived here the latter part of last week for a visit at the home of their mother, Mrs. Mary Sausser and with other relatives here. They left for home last Tuesday.

E. H. Ennis and daughters, Helen Virginia and Carol June, of Chicago, arrived in the city last Friday for a short visit at the home of Mr. Ennis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ennis. Mr. Ennis is an employee of the General Motors corporation, with headquarters in Chicago.

Albert M. Timmerman, the 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Timmerman, drank some coal oil last Sunday, which resulted in the baby's death a few hours afterwards. The funeral was held last Monday afternoon, Rev. A. J. May officiating, and burial in the cemetery at Mineola.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis and daughter, Catherine, of Chicago, were in the city last week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McPharlin. Mrs. Lewis is a sister of Mr. McPharlin and they had not seen each other for twenty-three years, so it is needless to say they had an enjoyable visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sandy, of North Loup, and children, are visiting here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Calvert. Mr. Calvert is an uncle to Mr. Sandy and the latter is the superintendent of the public school at North Loup. He is also a second cousin to Mrs. Chester Calkins of this city.

A greased hobo several counties east of here has been fined for calling citizens aside, showing them a "diamond" that he says cost $23, then obtain a "loan" on it of one dollar. In the first place these "diamonds" cost each 15 cents. He is supposed to be headed this way but may work Hay Point first.

Dr. L. A. Carter, accompanied by Mrs. Dean Selah, took Al Strube to the veterans hospital at Lincoln last Monday evening for medical treatment. Al had a severe spell last Sunday and it was thought advisable to take him to the hospital at once. Dr. Carter and Mrs. Selah returned home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Noble went to Plankinton, S. D., by auto last Saturday and remained for several days, Mr. Noble attending to business and Mrs. Noble visiting. Mr. Noble says that rust has seriously damaged the wheat crop in that section of South Dakota and the yield will be small, but that corn is looking fine.

Howard, son of A. Ashton of the Westland photo studio at Neligh, formerly of this city, recently exhibited here stone hoe-heads that weighed one pound, leaf shaped and used in the hand, and three stone knives his father-in-law produced out near Clearwater with a peck of other artifacts left by ancients 1,000 years ago.

Clifford Davis, 48, son of Mrs. Fayetta Davis, widow of Charles Davis, lies seriously ill at the Davis home in southeast O'Neill. A heart ailment developed into asthma and bronchial tube complications. Late reports from the bedside indicate Clifford is feeling better and his many friends wish him a speedy and full recovery of his good health.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Malloy, of Chicago, arrived in the city last Saturday evening for a short visit with their niece, Mary Joan Finley. Mrs. Malloy was formerly Miss Ellen Donovan and several years ago was a frequent visitor to this city. They left Tuesday for Yellowstone Park and a tour of the west and southwest before returning to their home in Chicago.

Ira Moss, Rev. B. J. Leahy, Rev. W. J. O'Sullivan, of Tilden, and P. C. Donohoe returned last Saturday from the northern Minnesota lakes, where they had put in ten days fishing. The say they had an enjoyable time but not as much luck in getting nice fish as they had in other years. H. J. Hammond, William Martin and M. H. Horiskey, other members of the party, returned home Monday afternoon.

Last Sunday a splash-splash and mulberry expedition spent Sunday afternoon on the farm of Jim McDermott south of here on the Elkhorn. Those in the group were Morris and Lurleen Kirkpatrick, Junior Johnson, Harold and Jean Calkins, Betty, Zanaga and Vivian Henifin, Marie and Beatrice Harris and Willa and Donna Vanderlinden. The children reported plenty of big game there in the form of mosquitoes.

Cheer up, or down. Much cooler weather is coming. The plover, the first bird that starts south, already is on the way and those who sleep out can hear them any night as they slowly fly south, about 50 feet above the ground and that far apart, calling momentarily to each other. The ones farther north will be heard a month from now. So, cheer up, or down; the shadow of the scoop shovel is hiding behind the ice pick clutched in your hand.

Frank Nelson, one of the husling farmers of the Meek neighborhood, was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Nelson says that he finished harvesting his winter wheat and rye and he was looking for a good yield. His crop was damaged about 10 per cent by a hail storm that went thru that section about three weeks ago, but notwithstanding this he said that it required three and a half pounds of twine to bind his grain, whereas in the average year one pound and a half per acre was sufficient.

Mrs. Hugh Coyne and Mrs. W. J. Biglin drove up to Long Pine Tuesday morning taking up a bunch of little girls for a week's outing. Those in the party were: Mary and Ruth Ann Biglin, Mary Hart, Dorothy Ann Jordan, Margaret Hammond, Nadene Coyne, Veronica Coyne, Lou Dwyer, of Omaha, Jean Biglin, Margaret Martin and Leone Miles. Mrs. Biglin returned home that evening while Mrs. Coyne remained with the little girls as chaperone of the party. They expect to remain until the end of the week.

This office received a letter last week from C. J. Coffey, of Wichita Falls, Texas, enclosing a renewal of his subscription to The Frontier. Mr. Coffey was a former resident of this county, living just west of this city and later was for many years engaged in business at Spencer. He says that he always eagerly looks for The Frontier each week, so that he can keep posted on Holt county conditions, as well as of the people that come and go.

He says that their harvest is over and that they had plenty of rain, and good wheat and oats crops, and other crops very promising.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hough left here last Sunday afternoon, drove to Columbus that evening and on into Omaha the next morning. For the past couple of months Mr. Hough has not been feeling well and was advised to go to Omaha for medical treatment. Dr. J. A. Brown went down to Omaha Monday night and was present in the Methodist hospital Tuesday morning when Mr. Hough was operated on for gall stones. The operation was successful and Dr. Brown is of the opinion that Mr. Hough should shortly recover his old vigor and health. Dr. Brown returned home Tuesday night.

Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Henifin, in southeast O'Neill, neighboring children discovered that that day was the seventh birthday of Betty Jarie, so they at once got busy and staged a surprise party, informing Zanaga, 5, sister to Betty. Zanaga lost no time in whispering the great secret to Betty who hustled Zanaga to a neighbor's, fearing she might be scolded for letting the cat out of the bag. Betty was as surprised as possible under the circumstances. Those attending the party were Marion Boyle, Junior Johnson, Jacqueline Abbott, Phyllis Mitchell, Willa and Donna Vanderlinden, Alma, Dale, Irene, Orvil and Bernie Dailey, Jack Dempsey, Jean Calkins and Zanaga, Vivian, Gerald and Mary Lou Henifin, the latter 7 months old.
