

Over the County

SOUTHWEST BREEZES

One thing at a time. This year it is a bumper hay crop.

Chas. Coolige, Doc and Bud Clemens and the Saunders boys were at Chambers Saturday night.

Virgil Bailey was laid up a few days, the heat getting the best of his otherwise good health and youthful vigor.

Turkey has adopted the Sunday day of rest, minus religious significance. Little of that left anywhere.

J. Roblyer, a former citizen of Swan but now residing two miles south of Atkinson, threshed 640 bushels of rye from a 25 acre field last week. Also a small yield of wheat.

Mr. Young expects to thresh a 40-acre field of oats early this week. There are a number in the community who yet have to run the grain thru the thresher.

Mexico's president is advocating prohibition for his country, being convinced it is the only way to reduce the consumption of intoxicants by the Mexican people.

Howard Berry was seen out with his wolf hounds Friday, notwithstanding a hundred or so in the shade. Howard takes periodical turns over hills and valleys in search of specimens of a despised and vanishing race regardless of weather conditions. The result of Friday's hunt has not been disclosed.

Present indications are that the pheasants will not be numerous this season. A few coveys are encountered in "tall timber" but they are not plentiful. The young birds are the size of quail and show but little concern for their safety.

Tuesday evening last week lightning struck and destroyed the garage at the Ole Hansen place a few miles north of Amelia. The car was got out without damage.

The Hon. Sec. Wallace does not look like any type of dirt farmer familiar to this community. Perhaps close association with the numerous body of college professors has affected his choice of attire.

The loss of a horse at the James ranch a hot day last week is reported, gasping its last hot breath. The protracted heated spell brought the sweat on man and horse in the hay field and dried some of the vegetation like Japan tea.

The clergy, accorded the universal respect of mankind throughout the centuries, has fallen upon evil days. Mexico, Germany, Spain, Russia and elsewhere no longer extend the privilege of a free hand to priest and preacher. The measure of responsibility for changed conditions resting upon the gentlemen of the cloth is not fully disclosed.

Lester Thompson and son, Clinton, arrived Friday evening from Canada. Mr. Thompson moved to the British territory last spring and tells friends here he does not like it there a little bit, though his community is a rich, productive country. He and son are visiting at present among relatives in Wyoming and Swan precincts.

None advocate patronizing home industry more than the local merchant. There are manufacturers of good butter in more than one Holt county town, yet some grocery stores sell butter from adjacent counties.

Charlie Green, for thirty years living two miles west of Amelia, dropped dead Tuesday at the Peterson ranch. He had charge of a stacker team with a haying crew; had just spoken the word to the horses to start to hoist a sweep load to the stack when he dropped in his tracks. He had been living the past year in and around Atkinson. What arrangements for burial have not been learned.

Reminiscent of early days in Holt county towns when pitching, plunging wild horses carried their riders on to the board walks or thru a glass store front, it fell to the lot of a southwest Holt county woman, Mrs. Richard Kizer, to be the victim of the escapade of a wild horse at the Burwell show last week. The horse leaped the fence and crashed into the crowd in the grandstand. Mrs. Kizer fell from several steps up. She was taken to the local hospital and examination disclosed that the ligaments of her back were torn. At last word here it was said Mrs. Kizer would be able to return to her home, just east of Swan lake, the fore part of this week. Others of this community felt themselves in jeopardy when the bronc made his lunge to join the spectators on the reserved seats, among whom were the Wm. Carpenter family. Seeing themselves in line for the oncoming and maddened horse, they scrambled to safety. The rider slid from the saddle before the horse cleared the fence.

The rodeo performers do not take the precaution the old timers learned. Riders of early days did not let a horse get away though they might be tossed from the saddle or dismounted in a hurry. They had him by a fifteen-foot rope tied to his neck. Old men are disposed to fulminate more or less on the "days that wuz." We can't imagine the riders that hung around O'Neill forty years or so ago—Long Hair John, Bob Ingersoll, Hay McClure, Tim Bunnell, Puddle Haynes—abandoning their mount in a situation like that at Burwell. Of these men just mentioned, "Puddle" is the only one we know of today in Holt county, he now following the more peaceful occupation of blacksmithing in the village of Page.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Babl and family were Sunday visitors at Joe Winkler's.

District Court Filings

Esther A. Hibbard has filed suit in the district court against Helen E. Raymer, et al., to foreclose a mortgage for $2,500 given on June 1, 1925, on Lot 3, Block 27, Bitney's addition to the village of Atkinson. In her petition she alleges that the note and mortgage was due on June 1, 1930, and was extended for three years. She alleges that there has been no interest paid since June 1, 1932, and that there is now due and unpaid the sum of $2,968.75 for which she asks judgment. If same is not paid within a reasonable time she asks that same be sold.

Bills & Cline, Incorporated, of Lincoln, Neb., has brought suit against John W. Davis, et al., to foreclose a mortgage for $200 given on December 1, 1922, on the west half northeast quarter and northeast quarter of section 4, township 25, range 16. They allege that the note was due on December 1, 1927 and that an extension of time was secured. That the principal is now due and that the interest of $24, due on June 1, 1931, has not been paid or none since that date. They ask the court to determine the amount due and if same is not paid within a reasonable time that the land be sold.

The Travelers Insurance company has brought suit against Monica Bazelman to foreclose a mortgage on the west half southwest quarter and southeast quarter of section 8 and the north half of the northwest quarter of section 17, in township 29, north of range 12. In their petition they allege that on Sept. 5, 1923, Dennis Murphy secured from them $10,500 giving a mortgage on the above land for security. The loan became due on Oct. 1, 1928, and that on that date Martin Bazelman was the owner of the property and secured an extension to Oct. 1, 1933. They allege that all interest on the indebtedness is paid up to Oct. 1, 1933, and that $2,100 has been paid upon the principal. They allege that there is now due and unpaid the sum of $8,400 with interest from October 1, 1933. They ask the court to determine the amount due and that if same is not paid within a reasonable time that the land be sold.

E. E. Emminger had brought suit against James W. Gibson, et al., to quiet title to the east half of northeast quarter of section 26, township 27, range 10. He alleges that he is the owner of the above described property and that he and his grantors have been in continuous possession for more than ten years past. He asks the court to decree that he is the owner in fee simple of the above described real estate.

Kiva Taylor has filed suit for a divorce from Ralph Taylor, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. She alleges in her petition that they were married in O'Neill on May 14, 1915, and that ever since they have been residents of the state of Nebraska. She alleges that on or about August 26, 1932, when they were living at Merriman, Neb., that the defendant ordered her to get out and that she did so taking her children, of whom there are five, with her and that since that time he has contributed nothing to her support or the support of the children. The children range from 19 to 7 years of age. She asks for divorce and the custody of the children and asks that the court require him to contribute to the support of the children in such an amount as the court may deem proper.

Union Sunday School Group Gathering

The Twelfth Annual Group Gathering of Holt county Union Sunday Schools will be held in the grove on the Mrs. Johnson place on which John Clausen now lives, 12 miles north of O'Neill and one mile east of the Spencer highway, on Sunday, Aug. 18. This event will be open at 10 a. m. with a discussion of the Sunday School lesson. Members from several Sunday Schools will have a part on the program. Rev. E. E. Dillon, of York, Neb., will give an address in the afternoon. There will be a basket dinner at noon. Everybody is welcome to attend.—S. Hallgrimson.

County Has Fifteen 4-H Women's Project Clubs

The fifteenth Women's project club was recently organized in Holt county bringing the total number of members to approximately 250. This is quite an increase over last year both in number of clubs and club members.

Information from the Agricultural College Extension Service assures us that leader training will be given in Holt county on two days and that schedules of the demonstration agents are being made up with that in mind. The leaders and president will decide where the training meetings will be given.

This will make the work available to a larger number of clubs who have hesitated because of the distance traveled in going to the central meetings by making it possible to give the work in two towns. The towns in which the work will be given will be decided by a vote of the clubs, each club having one vote. Mrs. T. M. Harrington, county chairman feels any club organized before Sept. 10 would be entitled to vote.

A series of six lessons has again been worked out for the farm and town women taking the work. The topics: Variety in Vegetables, Suggestions for Christmas Giving, Homemake Entertains, Flowers for Every Yard, Home Needlework, and Laundry Methods. The achievement day in the spring closes the year's work.

That more farm and town women than ever before will be enrolled in the project clubs in 1935-36 was indicated this week by Mary-Ellen Brown, in charge of the work at the Nebraska college of agriculture. More than 19,000 women banded themselves together in clubs last year and the total enrollment this year in Nebraska will probably exceed 21,000.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN"
THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip—to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.
