

"Save Your Old Inner Tubes," Says Miami

THESE girls at the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun club in Miami Beach, Fla., looking for something new to swim in, have taken discarded inner tubes of automobiles tires and are fashioning them into the latest in bathing suits.

BEDTIME STORY

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

LIGHTFOOT VISITS PADDY THE BEAVER

DEEP in the Green Forest is the pond where lives Paddy the Beaver. It is Paddy's own pond, for he made it himself. He made it by building a dam across the Laughing Brook.

When Lightfoot the Deer bounded away through the Green Forest after watching the hunter pass through the hollow below him, he remembered Paddy's pond. "That's where I'll go," thought Lightfoot. "It is such a lonesome part of the Green Forest that I do not believe that hunter will come there. I'll run over and make Paddy a friendly call."

So Lightfoot bounded along deeper and deeper into the Green Forest. Presently through the trees he caught the gleam of water. It was Paddy's pond. Lightfoot approached it cautiously. He felt sure he was rid of the hunter who had followed him so far that morning, but he knew that there might be other hunters in the Green Forest. He knew that he couldn't afford to be careless for even one little minute. Lightfoot had lived long enough to know that most of the sad things and dreadful things that happen in the Green Forest are due to carelessness. No one who is hunted, be he big or little, can afford ever to be careless.

Now Lightfoot had know of hunters hiding near water, hoping to shoot him when he came to drink. That always seemed to Lightfoot a dreadful thing, an unfair thing. But hunters had done it before and they might do it again. So Lightfoot was careful to approach Paddy's pond up wind. That is, he approached the side of the pond from which the Merry Little Breezes were blowing towards him, and all the time he kept his nose working. He knew that if any hunters were hidden there, the Merry Little Breezes would bring him their scent and thus warn him. He had almost reached the edge of Paddy's pond when from the farther shore there came a sudden crash. It startled Lightfoot terribly for just an instant. Then he guessed what it meant. That crash was the falling of a tree. There had been no sound of axes, so he knew it could not have been chopped down by men. It must be that Paddy the Beaver had cut it, and if Paddy was working by daylight it was certain that no one had been around that pond for a long time.

So Lightfoot hurried forward eagerly, but still cautiously. When he reached the bank he looked across towards where the sound of that falling tree had come from. A branch of a tree was moving along in the water and half hidden by it was a brown head. It was Paddy the Beaver taking the branch to his woodpile.

Ship Canal Builder

Col. Brehon Somervell, U. S. A., is in charge of the construction of the Gulf-Atlantic ship canal that is being dug across Florida. It will be a sea-level waterway 200 miles long and will cost $146,000,000. It is expected the canal will be completed in six years.

The First Sleeping Car

The first sleeping car was used in 1836 when the Cumberland Valley railroad of Pennsylvania installed a sleeping car service between Harrisburg and Chambersburg. The sleeping car was an adaptation of an ordinary day coach to sleeping requirements. The first fundamental improvement came in 1858, when George Pullman remodeled two Chicago & Alton coaches into sleeping cars.

DOWN ST. CLAIR COUNTY WAY

By ANNE CAMPBELL

DOWN St. Clair County way, the summer lingers. The dawn comes leading Day with rosy fingers. There is no hint of autumn rain. The wildwood is green and fragrant as the lane to childhood.

The bees are humming still. Mid summer gladness Brings to the silver rill no hint of sadness. The winter snows will fall, but in the glowing Red sunshine, green and tall the corn is growing.

Down St. Clair County way, were I a sparrow, I'd fly at close of day straight as an arrow. Alone in the dark wood, I'd need no guiding. For in the solitude a dream is hiding.

QUESTION BOX

by ED WYNN, The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn: I am writing a play but can't seem to get a finish for it. I have it all completed up to the last curtain. The last scene shows the heroine starving to death. What do you suggest for a finish?

Yours truly,
LENA GAINSTMEE.

Answer: Have the heroine kneel on the stage, lift up her hands and beg for bread, then have the curtain come down with a roll.

Dear Mr. Wynn: Is it true the best way to make a vegetable speak is to cut out the inside of a melon and make it hollow? (holier).

Yours truly,
Q. KUMBER

Answer: Your guess.

Dear Mr. Wynn: Is it unlucky to postpone your wedding day?

Yours truly,
I. M. DOINGIT.

Answer: Not if you keep on postponing it.

Dear Mr. Wynn: My brother and I have an argument for you to settle. He says the "Eye Teeth" are the last teeth people get; while I say it's the "Wisdom Teeth." Please tell us who is right?

Yours truly,
DENT L. FLOSS.

Answer: You are both wrong.

The teeth which people get last are "False Teeth."

Dear Mr. Wynn: I am a boy nineteen years of age, and intend being a chef. I love to cook. Can you tell me the best way to preserve peaches?

Truly yours,
F. M. ENIT.

Answer: The best way for you to preserve peaches is not to introduce them to any other fellows.

Someone Stole the Minute Hand

KENTUCKY Colonel C. H. Emerson, floor manager in charge of the majority side of the house, inspects the famous clock below the gallery of the house of representatives. Sad to relate, a tourist had "borrowed" the minute hand, the same one that was set back so often last session so that it would not be later than 12 when the house adjourned. As a result the chamber has been locked until the next session convenes.

No Core, No War Sloan Sees Light The Holy City Falls G. B. Shaw Writes

A small boy, asked for the core of his apple, said: "There ain't going to be no core."

Laval, French premier, tired of dangerous goings-on in the Mediterranean, important back-door of France, announces bluntly: "There ain't going to be no war," requesting England to remove her battle-ships from the Mediterranean.

The wise British have known all along that there was to be no war, but thought it well to indulge in virtuous demonstrations.

Britons rarely make diplomatic mistakes; diplomats of other countries are children to them, although France is an exception to that rule.

Washington believes the war will end in 60 days, and has probably been told so by somebody in Europe.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, announces "all signals set for increased automobile sales next year," and no doubt about it.

He approves an automobile show in November, instead of January, as giving the people more time to realize that the important car is the winter car, when the automobile "wears the rubbers" for the whole family.

Capturing Aksum will impress Ethiopians. The holy city, surrendered by the Ethiopians without a shot, contains the tombs of all Ethiopian rulers since the time of Sheba. The Coptic Christian bishop of Aksum voluntarily gave the keys of the city to the Italian Gen. Emilio de Bono, at Aduwa. He accepted the keys, proclaimed Italy's annexation of Aksum, sent a force to surround the city and prevent looting the monasteries and the ancient cathedral of St. Mary Zion.

In that cathedral the original Ark of the Covenant is believed to be preserved. Ethiopian history relates that when Solomon sent the son of his high priest, with other sons of great dignitaries, to accompany Sheba's son after his visit to his father, the son of the high priest took the original Ark of the Covenant with him, substituting an imitation ark, much to the indignation of Solomon and that high priest. In justice to the high priest's son, it must be stated that an angel appeared and gave him instructions about stealing the ark.

George Bernard Shaw discovers that Ethiopia, so-called, is an aggregation of tribes, one ruled fairly well by Haile Selassie, who is called "Emperor," the others doing about as they please.

In some of these tribes, what pleases the natives would seem strange to us. For instance, among the Danakils a lady will not marry a gentleman until he proves that he has killed at least four men. And he must prove it by bringing back the easily identified fragments of four mutilated bodies. Married life with such a lady should never be dull.

Wars come, wars go, Standard Oil goes on forever, working.

Walter Teagle, head of Standard Oil of New Jersey, with oil wells scattered over the world, offers to buy every barrel of oil that Russia exports, many million barrels a year. To avoid ill feeling, Mr. Teagle would let British Royal Dutch-Shell and Anglo-Iranian have part of Russia's surplus.

Your Uncle Sam is very rich now, never had so much gold in his life. The total pile, "an all time high," amounts to more than fifteen billions of dollars.

It wouldn't be such a big pile of gold if the government had not ingeniously raised the price of the gold ounce.

Gold has been coming rapidly from Europe lately, including some gold that frightened Americans sent abroad for its health.

The United States is becoming more and more a gambling nation, and, in consequence, less and less a thinking, working nation. Gambling makes real work seem not worth while. Why work if you can play the horses? Can you imagine Washington, Lincoln or Edison studying "past performances"?

Mr. Damon Runyon writes: "A few years ago the Broadway betting men would have sneered at the idea of wagering on college football games. Now it is the biggest betting medium of any sport, with betting brokers issuing regular printed quotations on the various games every week."

New Jersey justice decides that Hauptmann, convicted of murdering the Lindbergh child, may live a little longer to take an appeal to the United States Supreme court. The Supreme court may, in its discretion, decline to investigate Hauptmann's conviction. In that case the curtain falls.
