

Over the County

SOUTHWEST BREEZES

Mrs. Saunders and the boys went to Atkinson and O'Neill Wednesday to do some winter shopping.

It can't all be laid onto liquor. License and tax collectors are doing all they can to make car drivers dizzy.

The Gargleiski family—I never guarantee the spelling of that name—were up from south of the lake New Year visiting the Carpenter family.

The three A program meets its fate in the supreme court. It remains to be seen if the administration will attempt to set aside constitutional government.

John Baker, accompanied by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. Baker, came up from southern Garfield county and visited a part of New Year's day with Mr. and Mrs. Hazel-baker, returning that afternoon.

As an apology for New Dealers, and Aurora paper says "only eight billion dollars" have been added to the national debt. Feature a country editor referring to a sum like that as though it were a pocket full of change.

Friends are glad to see Rody Adams, the southwest's popular notary, able to attend to business in his Amelia office again after several weeks just about down and out from an attack of a common ailment of the season.

One reactor was reported from the herd of Raymond Bly as the result of the T. B. test. As seems to be the case in most tests it proved to be the best milk cow on the place. Heavy milkers are particularly subject to tuberculosis, a price dairy men are paying for over-developed milk producers.

Perhaps it is somewhat venture-some but we will risk the interrogation at any rate, who is or was the handsomest man in Holt county—past or present? Dr. F. K. Murphy, an O'Neill physician at one time, had it by all odds. Remember him? Dark hair, blue eyes, classic features and exquisite complexion, large of form and unmarried—an alluring object to feminine fancy and envy of all the men.

Ed. Jones, of O'Neill, club in hand, navigated around Swan with the veterinary applying the T. B. tests. Whether the club was for service among the cattle or was deemed expedient coming out here was not explained. Dr. F. H. Christ of Arcadia, stationed at Atkinson at present and a fine gentleman at that, handled the hypo. Some T. B.

A number of friends were entertained New Year's day at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Minnehan in Amelia. Some twenty-five guests gathered at the festal board to partake of the bounteous and exquisitely prepared dinner, a feature of which was a number of fatted fowl done to a turn. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis and family, P. J. and Maurice Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. and Lloyd James, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waldman and daughter, Miss Mary Clare, Miss Dorothy Miller, Messrs. Tom Salem, Mike Otte, Mike Kearns and Stephen Price. The occasional was hugely enjoyed by the guests who pronounce the Minnehans charming entertainers.

The funeral of Will Sammons, held in the Methodist church at Amelia Thursday of last week, was largely attended, citizens of the community generally uniting in a last tribute over the remains of a departed pioneer. This paper carries the obituary elsewhere and need not be repeated here. The funeral was held at one in the afternoon under the direction of C. L. Barnham. Rev. Conrad, of O'Neill, formerly a resident of this community, occupied the pulpit and preached the sermon. A mixed quartet sang. The rostrum, Pulpit, organ and casket were banked with flowers. "If a man die, shall he live again," was a central thought of the discourse, the answer being in the death and resurrection of Christ. The body was taken to Chambers for burial.

Every old timer has an experience to relate dated Jan. 12, 1888. If one only sat at the fireside that day he has a memory of the worst blizzard there ever was, here or anywhere, recorded or unrecorded. As a boy in the teens, my own escape from being on the road with a team enroute for John Halloran's place near Inman was only a matter of minutes. With a bit of black cloth one catches a few flakes of falling snow and studies the beauty of form and geometrical shapes. Not so on Jan. 12, 1888. Snowflakes were not falling from the clouds. Something you can tie to about your winter gasoline

You will not hear your starter go slower, s-l-o-w-e-r, s-l-o-w-e-r before Winter Blend Conoco Bronze starts up in this weather. Hence your car will at last have some chance of doing the thing it was intended to do—keep the battery charged with no outside help.

And we promise that you will be able to un-learn your old habit of leaving the choke out for blocks and blocks, which is unnecessary with Conoco Bronze—meaning that you won't waste this gasoline, or get your oil so thin that it needs excessive changes this winter.

Those are the things that really count in choosing your winter gasoline—regardless of all the arguments. Please make a careful note of what this says about our Winter Blend Conoco Bronze, and see if you don't say exactly the same. Continental Oil Company, Established 1875
