MANGLED BODY OF A MAN IS FOUND ON RAILROAD TRACKS

Note Found in the Overalls Leads To Identification As Joe McDermott, of Bassett.

The mangled body of a man, later identified as Joe McDermott, of Bassett, 32, was found on the Northwestern railroad right-of-way about two and one-half miles west of this city last Tuesday morning, by Dave Miller, section foreman.

The body was badly mangled and until a note was found in a pocket of his overalls no one had any idea of his identity, but the note was a letter to Mr. Gilmore, who now resides on the Graver ranch near Ewing, who needed a man, and it was given to McDermott Monday by the local reemployment office.

When this was found relatives at Bassett were notified and his father, Pat McDermott, and a brother, Frank McDermott, came down from Bassett Wednesday morning. They recognized the handwriting on the note as being that of Joe McDermott, also a knife that was found along the railroad track. They took the body back to Bassett in the afternoon.

No one knows how the accident happened. It is believed that he was riding on the morning passenger going east, and that he either jumped or fell from the train as one of the mail cars of the morning passenger, when examined in Omaha had blood spattered over it.

Churchill-Pickering

One June 10th at 5 o'clock in the afternoon Miss Wilna Pickering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pickering, of Red Bird, was united in marriage to Howard G. Churchill, of Keswick, Iowa.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of pink and white gardenias.

Miss Vera Pickering, sister of the bride, wearing Nile green net, was maid of honor. Mrs. Claude Pickering as bridesmaid wore salmon pink taffeta. The bridesmaid and maid of honor carried bouquets of pink and white roses. Darlene Anderson, in a pink and white frock, carried the rings on a pink satin pillow.

The groom wore a platinum grey suit. Claude Pickering served as best man and wore a suit of oxford grey.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin played by Miss Iris Larson, and took their places beneath an archway of pink and white streamers and roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. A. Anderson.

Immediately after the ceremony a dinner was served to the bridal party and guests.

Guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Oral Pickering and daughters of Lynch; Charles Churchill of Keswick, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Emery Smith, of Keota, Iowa; Mrs. George Binkerd, of Neligh; Mrs. C. A. Anderson, of Anoka and Miss Olive Derickson, of O'Neill.

The happy couple left Monday for their home near Keswick, Iowa. Friends here extend congratulations and best wishes for the future. xxx

SOUTHWEST BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

A shower Tuesday morning.

Roy Backus is the newly elected moderator in the Berry school district.

Vic Howith has been named as republican committeeman for Swan and we will look for the indifferent voters to get a stirring up.

A Vanderbilt heir has been allowed $4,500 a month. A $200 pension don't look so big beside that.

It is difficult for a president on a junket of the country to make no reference to "his accomplishments" in public speeches.

Bluegrass stripping is setting in again in the southwest, a little earlier than last year. The seed crop appears very heavy and the market is about the same as last season.

Not having had the letter at hand at the time I did not mention in the paragraph concerning John Brennan at Salt Lake City what he said of Marie Biglin. To quote his letter, she "is holding down a very responsible position here with the Silver King mine."

H. L. James and Charley Peterson arrived home an hour after midnight Friday, having driven from Denver since shortly after noon. They were as far out as some points in Arizona but bought no cattle as neither quality nor price were satisfactory. They went through the "dust bowl" near Delhart, Texas, and found the country "coming back" after a period of rains which have brought a nine-inch fall of water. Cattle men, generally through the west, they found were feeling much encouraged and they are asking a rather fancy price, 8 cents, for their steers.

At O'Neill last week I had the pleasure of a visit with Will Davis, who was making his mother and other relatives a visit. Will is a fellow craftsman and a close personal friend, but Father Time has touched us both with his grey tints since last we saw each other. He is still going strong as an operator on a display letter machine on the Trib at Oakland, Calif., and promises us a visit again next year. He found Holt county looking its best and O'Neill greatly improved, expressing the feeling that he had entertained a thought of "thin spacing" out the declining years at some future time in the old home town.

Paving and court house now under way and postoffice soon to follow injects considerable activity at the county seat. They would feel a little more enthusiastic over it up there if the program was the outgrowth of a sound and widespread industrial revival rather than reflecting that much more indebtedness on the country. The employment feature is not satisfactory to some as local labor is not being employed to the extent citizens had been led to believe. Food and drink dealers are in green pastures, rooming houses and apartments haven't beds enough and the soft flutter of Uncle Sam's currency continues most lines of business will profit more or less.

Like plucking the bud before the rose blooms with full fragrance and crimson beauty, the pale reaper enter the Arnold home at Amelia and took their 15-year-old daughter Margaret. Death occurred at Stuart in the hospital on Friday last, resulting from an affected ear, the disease having worked inward to the brain. The funeral, very largely attended by Amelia and Atkinson friends, was held at the Methodist church in Atkinson Sunday at 2 o'clock. Margaret, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arnold, was born in Atkinson in 1920. The family has been living at Amelia in recent years. After an impressive and touching service at the church interment was made in the Atkinson cemetery.

Whether or not communism is being taught in Washington schools is problematical; however, there is communism in Washington. Women who attended the D. A. R. convention sometime ago learned this to be true. Two women who wanted to shop in a department store entered a taxicab, and they had their D. A. R. badges on. The cab driver told the women he was taking them for a ride, and the women screamed and jumped out of the taxicab. Two other women, also delegates, were said to have entered a taxicab to go to their hotel when the driver threatened to take them to a communistic headquarters, where he said they would hear the good points on communism—they too, jumped from the cab.

Thomas D. Mullin and his father, Patrick Mullin, of Albion, were in the city Tuesday and made this office a pleasant call. Mr. Mullin, Sr., being an old time friend of the editor. The Junior Mr. Mullin is the referee in the sale of the old Utley ranch southwest of this city. It will be offered for sale on Tuesday, June 23, 1936, at 1 p. m., in front of the court house in this city. The property is being sold to settle an estate.

Mrs. J. P. Gallagher and daughters, Helen and Hilda, and son, Dr. Frank Gallagher, returned last Friday from St. Louis, Mo., where the former went the latter part of May to visit relatives and attend the graduation of Dr. Frank from the St. Louis University. Dr. Frank will visit here until the latter part of the month when he returns to St. Louis to take a position as interne in one of the leading hospitals of that city.

Hundreds of people are coming over to Annapolis for the June week graduation ceremonies. Many relatives of young men who graduate with the new class, as usual have filled up practically all of the hotels and boarding places in the historic town of Annapolis. It cost the taxpayers about $15,000 to educate a midshipman for four years at Annapolis, and is costs them about $10,000 to educate a cadet at West Point.

Only about 263 members of the 435 are now usually present in the house when roll call is demanded. Members are becoming "jittery." Omnibus bills carrying hundreds of other bills, special bills, conference bills, conference reports; and the private calendar with 150 bills are being rushed thru the house. Senate officials appear hourly with reports from the senate indicating the senate has passed certain bills and requests the house to concur. All indication point to adjournment.

Members of the farm group are anxiously awaiting the action by the senate on the tax bill, because members of this group have been able to put new section into the bill to protect the market on domestic fats and oils, and also to continue the three cent per pound tax on coconut oil. This item is in the tax bill which is now being debated by the senate, and when the bill comes to the house an effort will be made on the part of foreign fats and oils businesses, plus the big soap industry, to eliminate that section.

Last year $160,000,000 was spent for farm-to-market roads from actual WPA funds, not counting what the counties and states put into this particular work. This farm-to-market road work in the WPA has nothing to do with the $25,000,000 which is contained in the regular road fund. Under agreement now between the senate and the house, there will not be a separate department in the Road Bureau for farm-to-market roads, but the farm-to-market road work will be administered thru the office of Road Supervisor McDonald.

CONGRESS—AS SEEN BY A NEBRASKAN

By Karl Stefan

Nothing more serious could have occurred at this particular time to "gum up" legislation than the sudden death of the Speaker of the House of Representatives. There were tears in the eyes of many members as they assembled. Mr. Bankhead, the new Speaker, seemed visibly affected, and his closest friends advised him to "take things easy." They are among those who know that his health is not the best and they fear strain and excitement may bring back the trouble from which he suffered all last year. He is the brother of Senator Bankhead who is leader in the senate. Their father was also in the house. The new speaker is considered one of the ablest men in congress.

Mr. Byrnes was a hard worker. He was always in his office at 8 o'clock in the morning and was never home until after 6 o'clock at night. He was a master parliamentary strategist and fair-minded chairman and presiding officer. Many members of the minority party found their life made just a little happier in congress because of the fair mindedness of the Speaker, and also because of his kindness to new members.

In 1880 with her parents she came to Niobrara where her father settled on a homestead at the mouth of Verdigris creek and on December 25, 1885, she was united in marriage with John A. Robertson. The next spring they came to Holt county and settled on an 80-acre pre-emption and in 1887 they bought and moved onto the place where she lived until the time of her death.

To this union were born 12 children, all living, as follows: Lottie Weidman, Plainview; Elsie Anderson and Helen Sundall, Wakefield; Harriett McElhaney, Omaha; John A. Robertson, Jr., Chicago; Ray R. Robertson, Hubbard; Sam, Dick, George and Rachel Robertson and Rebecca Ernst, O'Neill, and James Robertson, Sioux City, Iowa. She also leaves nineteen grandchildren to join with their grandfather and children in mourning the passing of a kind and affectionate wife and mother.

In early life she joined the Presbyterian church at Niobrara and has always been a consistent member and until the time of her failing health always took an active interest in the religious and social welfare of the community. A better mother or neighbor never lived and she gave the best of her life for her family and her community and she will be sadly missed by all.

On last Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. Robertson celebrated their Golden wedding at their home with all their children and grandchildren present.

Funeral Services Are Held Wednesday For Mrs. John A. Robertson

Rachel Rebecca Hindman was born at Coloma, Maryland, February 5, 1870, and died at her home north of O'Neill June 15, 1936, aged 66 years, 4 months and 10 days.

In 1880 with her parents she came to Niobrara where her father settled on a homestead at the mouth of Verdigris creek and on December 25, 1885, she was united in marriage with John A. Robertson. sey neighborhood ever since. Mr. Wiley has been the Dorsey postmaster for 16 years.

Their children were all born and raised here, all finished the Dorsey school, which is the same school their father attended. Three sons and three daughters were born to them; one daughter, Ruth, died at the age of 6 years. The other children are Eliza of Honolulu, Mrs. Ellen Marsten of Omaha, Walter and Marvin of Verdigris and Judith at home. Mrs. Marsten and Ella were unable to attend but the others were all present.

Those attending from a distance were Walter and Marvin of Verdigris, Mr. and Mrs. Art Wiley and sons of Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Binkerd and family of Verdel, Albert Ellis of O'Neill and Fae Bear of Lynch.

NEWS OF PEOPLE YOU KNOW

J. J. Schweitzer, C. K. Yantzi and J. K. Hershberger, of Milford, arrived in the city last Saturday evening for a couple of days visit with relatives and old friends here. Mr. Yantzi is a brother of J. U. Yantzi and lived for several years northwest of this city. Mr. Schweitzer was also a resident of this county for many years, owning a farm and operating a blacksmith shop thereon about 12 miles northwest of this city. Mr. Hershberger was also a pioneer resident of this county, living northwest of this city near the Schweitzer place. He left the county about forty years ago and this was his first visit since he left, although Mr. Schweitzer and Mr. Yantzi have been frequent visitors. Mr. Hershberger was astonished at the looks of the town and the splendid appearance of the farming section of the county. He says that everything looks nicer here than it does down in his part of the state and that O'Neill is the best looking town he seen since he left home and that the evidences of business activity on all sides convinces him that the people in this section are a lot better off than they are in the southern part of the state. They returned home Monday.

Thomas Fullerton, of Riverside, Cal., was in the city Wednesday, accompanied by his brother, J. B. Fullerton of Atkinson. Mr. Fullerton was a resident of this county many years ago but for the past 26 years has been a resident of California. He arrived in the county the latter part of last week for a visit with his brother, J. B., and to look over boyhood scenes. He had been visiting a brother in Wyoming and will go from here over into Iowa for a visit with relatives and will then go to Florida for a visit with his brother, Wallace. He remarked that he could see a wonderful change in this country since he left here and that most of it was for the better.

Mrs. R. R. Dickson, Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell and Miss Anna O'Donnell entertained fifty guests at a delightful 7 o'clock dinner party at the Golden Hotel last Monday evening, honoring their sisters Mrs. Jay J. Simpson, of Leavenworth, Washington, and Mrs. Clarence Campbell, of Omaha. The dinner was followed by bridge. Mrs. Max Golden and Mrs. F. J. Biglin winning high scores; Miss Inez O'Connell and Mrs. F. N. Cronin the all cuts. The guest prize was won by Mrs. Ivan Kinsman, of Columbus. Mrs. George Stannard, of San Diego, California, was also an out of town guest.

Ben F. and James Barnaca, of Ogallala, Neb., were here last Thursday visiting old time friends. They formally resided on Oak Creek northwest of this city, but left here many years ago for the western part of the state. Sheriff Peter Duffy was a neighbor of theirs when they were residents of this county and he accompanied them on a trip to the old home place Thursday. They were surprised at the great improvement made in this city and county since their removal from here.

Hospital Notes
L. E. Skidmore, of Inman, came in the 10th and was operated on for ruptured gall bladder on Saturday evening, the 13th. At present he is improving as fast as could be expected.

Max Miller, 15, of Page, was operated on for hernia on Wednesday morning and is doing fine at present.

Anti-New Deal Meeting
There will be a meeting in the K. C. Hall in this city on Tuesday evening, June 30, at 8 o'clock in the evening for the purpose of organizing the Republican Volunteers, a "rank and file" organization of all those opposed to the New Deal.

The meeting will be addressed by Hon. James H. MacLafferty, former member of congress from California. In our next issue we will give you further particulars of this meeting. Plan now to be in O'Neill on the evening of June 30 and attend this meeting.

BRIEFLY STATED

Clark Hough, 27, while filling a Fresno on the streets just before noon, sustained two broken ribs when the Fresno struck a rock in the street, the handle flying up and striking him in the side.

L. T. Bonner, of Imperial, Nebr., was in the city the latter part of last week visiting his old time friend, Emil Sniggs. They had not met for fifty-two years and int is needless to say they had an enjoyable visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stannard and daughter, Lynn, of San Diego, California, arrived in the city Monday for a visit of a couple of weeks with relatives and old time friends, and incidentally to attend the golf tournament and the festivities of the week.

Mrs. Clarence Campell came up from Omaha last Sunday night for a weeks visit at the home of her sisters, Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell and Mrs. R. R. Dickson and with other relatives and friends here. Mr. Campell is expected to come up for the week end.

John J. Hancock of Casper, Wyo., formerly of this city, was in O'Neill last Saturday visiting some of his old time friends. John is now practicing law at Casper and says that it looks as if Wyoming would be in the republican fold this fall with a good strong majority.

C. F. W. Lehmann, one of the old timers of the southern part of the county and for years a Frontier reader, was a pleasant caller Tuesday extending his subscription for another year. Mr. Lehmann says that crops and pastures are looking fine in the southern part of the county.

Sixty-three war veterans received their bonuses thru the local postoffice since Tuesday morning. At 10 o'clock this morning there were still nineteen being held in the O'Neill postoffice for the veterans to call for them. The amount of bonus money paid to war veterans in this county is about $198,000.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Steele, of Harlan, Iowa, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Quigg Monday on their way home from a visit to Yellowstone Park. Another old time friend of the Quigg's
