"DO AS YOU ARE TOLD."

A prominent Seward county democrat has received a letter from the New Deal political organization asking for the names of five persons in his community, "willing to do as they are told" in carrying on the campaign to perpetuate the present administration.

The recipient of the letter is an old time democrat who for years has followed his own conscience and instructions to "do as you are told" did not appeal to him. The letter went into the waste basket and the old time democrat is said to have indulged in a little profanity.

A week of intense heat was broken by clouds and a little rain Thursday morning.

Over the County

SOUTHWEST BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

Tom Baker made a trip to Albion last Saturday.

Some make a garbage can out of the stomach then wonder why they are sick.

Bill Fryear and Ernest Young each have fields of corn that will produce at least a partial crop.

The fellows that are tinkering with the bank vault at Emmet should turn their attention to hen roosts.

A few thousand less than nine hundred thousand are now holding government jobs. Too bad there is not room for the ten millions of unemployed.

Most of our citizens felt their time was too valuable in the hay field to attend the exhibition at Burwell this season hence not many went there from here.

In the pursuit of fact newspaper writers encounter much fiction. Running down rumor more likely than not terminates like the rainbow chaser—nothing to it.

Intimations are coming from Washington that farmers are to be told to "go to it" in the future. An admission that the crop reduction program is another "mistake."

Corn has reached the "roasting ear" stage out this way. Ask a neighbor what are his prospects, "O, there'll probably be a few nubbins." But nubbins are preferable to empty stalks.

This 1936 political campaign is to be a contest as to which shall predominate, the property owner or those who have no property, real or personal. The outcome is going to be of interest in disclosing the trend of the times.

A visitor to the great southwest getting a glimpse of the countless stacks of hay expressed his concern as to how it would be got to market just now. It don't have to be taken here after it. The market is coming here after it.

Home for a few days, the collector of the Breezes got to participate in the paper-hanging and painting job then under way. The work was delayed from time to time hoping for cooler weather which does not come.

Haying was completed Tuesday at the Riley place. Mowers will probably be running in many places until October as there is a widespread inspiration on throughout the southwest to get the last blade of grass into a stack.

Not so much to put on exhibition of fruits, garden and farm produce this dry famine year. Chambers is promising other attractions when their fair opens September 8. Rodeo and theatre performance is supposed to make up the lack of an honest-to-goodness fair.

It was reported that a man known out here as Shag Andrews was cut to pieces by the eastbound midnight train at Atkinson early that morning. It was supposed he had lain or fallen on the track in a state of intoxication. He had worked in this community baling hay.

With withering heat, wilting, over powering and blistering sun boring down day after day, weeks running into months, even the verdant southwest has lost much of its summer charm. Conditions, too, are not at all conducive to the accumulation of material for the column of Breezes.

There has been franked from Washington a first-class democratic speech by Nebraska's senior senator, not long since supposed to be a republican. Uncle George seems to have found his true political affinity and the G. O. P. of Nebraska will no longer be hoodwinked. Politicians have their gall to send campaign literature through the mails without postage.

INMAN NEWS

Mrs. Cleve Roe and daughter, Hazel, have gone to Casper, Wyo., for a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Peterson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Donnelly, of Fullerton, Nebr., came Sunday to attend the funeral of Margaret Harte which was held Tuesday morning.

A prairie fire presumably caused by a cigarette consumed 13 stacks of hay on the Gallagher Brothers land and two stacks for Melvin Smith Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock. The fire had made considerable headway before it was discovered. About 1000 men from Inman, Page, Ewing and O'Neill fought the flames.

PLEASANT DALE

Several people from this community attended the Pine Creek Camp meeting near Bassett the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bradley and little daughter were callers at the Carl Lorenz home Friday evening.

Mrs. Oscar Bradley and son, John, were down from Ainsworth visiting relatives in O'Neill the past week.

Mrs. Wesley Cook has been quite ill for several days.

Thomas Peacock, of Ainsworth, was an overnight guest at the S. M. Ohmart home Monday night.

Dean Beckwith, Eva and Fred Garvin returned to Scottsbluff Wednesday morning. They had been visiting relatives here.

Little Miss Marlyn Reise spent Wednesday with her grandmother, Mrs. John Pruss, while her parents attended the rodeo at Burwell.

Several from here who saw the prairie fire a few miles east of Middlebranch report a loss of 90 stacks of hay Saturday afternoon. When the large crew of fire fighters had the fire practically under control the wind changed and the brisk breeze changed the course of the fire forcing the men to move their parked cars out of its way.

Quite a number out this way enjoyed the rodeo at Burwell last week.

Word from friends in the Black Hills they write: "We got hailed out last year and this year what the dry weather didn't do the grasshoppers did." To be exact they got 800 bushels of wheat this year when they usually get 5,000 in average years.

Mrs. Ed Heeb visited her daughter in Atkinson Saturday afternoon. Miss Heeb has been employed in a cafe there for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pongratz and little granddaughter, Marjorie Troshynski, visited relatives and friends in Stuart Saturday.

Pleasantdale school opens Monday, August 31.
