Progress Can Be Seen In Dam Construction

The water conservation program of the WPA, which consist of constructing dams to form reservoirs for run-off water and the damming of small streams, has reached the stage where actual progress can be seen, according to D. F. Felton, state WPA administrator.

All persons interested in water conservation are urged to visit one or more of the following dams: C. W. Cronk farm, located in Township 38, Range 9, the southeast quarter of section 11; the E. J. Revell farm located in Township 31, Range 9, the southeast quarter of section 21; or the L. C. Mallory farm, located in Township 33, Range 11, the northeast quarter of section 32.

"After inspecting these WPA projects, I am convinced that many additional farmers will desire to have dams constructed on their land," Mr. Felton said. He urged that those desiring dams make their application with the local WPA supervisor or at the district office in Norfolk as soon as possible. This will permit work to be started before extreme cold weather will halt construction projects.

home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winkler northwest of town, returning home Saturday last.

Harold Sexsmith arrived in the city the latter part of last week from Klamath Falls, Ore., for a weeks visit with his mother, Mrs. Sexsmith, and with friends here.

Dr. J. P. Brown went down to Omaha Wednesday of last week to attend the Midwest Medical Clinic, held in that city the latter part of last week. He returned home Saturday.

J. D. Cronin left for Omaha this afternoon where he will attend the Creighton homecoming and meet with members of his class which graduated from Creighton twenty years ago.

Henry Snyder, of Walnut, and Miss Olive Keeling, of Stuart, were granted a marriage license in the county court Wednesday and were later united in marriage by Rev. A. J. May.

Local news items are rather scarce this week as most of the reporters time has been spent in compiling returns of the election for presentation to its readers this week, so they can see how the various precincts of the county voted last Tuesday.

Miss Betty McNally entertained fourteen of her friends at a Halloween party at her home last Saturday evening. The home was handsomely decorated with colors suitable to the occasion and the favors handed the guests were unique and pretty. The little folks report having a very enjoyable time.

Romaine Saunders and his southwest Holt neighbor, Jesse James, came up from Swan Wednesday morning, bringing up the returns of their precinct. Romaine was not feeling nearly as well over the result of the election as he had anticipated last week that he would, and on the other hand Jesse was feeling fine and had a broad smile on his phiz all morning.

Probably in no election in this city was there greater activity in hauling voters to the polls than was evident in the election Tuesday. Many WPA workers, and in some instances their wives also, were very active all day long. Walking was not very good in the early hours of the day and many voters were gratified at the opportunity to ride to the polls, even if they did not always vote the way they were expected to do.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Moore returned Friday last from a two weeks trip thru the south and east. They left here two weeks ago and went to Nebraska City where they were joined by Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bro, and they then journeyed south to the birthplace of Mrs. Moore at Hendersonville, N. C., a city she had not visited for forty years. They all had an enjoyable time and saw many points of interest in the east and south.
