FIVE 4-H MEMBERS GET RECOGNITION FOR YEARS WORK

Margery Rees Winner of A North-western Free Trip to the Club Congress in Chicago.

Holt county 4-H Club members to receive state recognition for their work are: Margery Rees, winner of the Northwestern trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago on Nov. 28 to Dec. 5, as an outstanding club member, and is one out of thirteen in the state to win this trip. Henrietta Schrier of O'Neill receives the Montgomery Ward & Co. medal as County Home Economics champion. Margaret Kramer of Stuart, wins the Kerr Glass Manufacturing Co. medal as champion Canning Club member, and Edward Grimes of Chambers, wins the Thos. E. Wilson medal as champion Baby Beef Club member in the county.

These commercial companies as well as the local Armour company, the Chambers and Stuart fairs have increased the incentive for 4-H Club members in the county to carry on their projects to completion by offering premiums for outstanding work and exhibits. 4-H Club members are human the same as any other young folks and often need encouragement from outside sources and it is a fine attitude on the part of anyone or any company who will offer inducement, financial or otherwise, to the young folks of our county and nation to achieve the most from their efforts and to "make the best better."

School Notes

By the County Superintendent

When teachers examinations were given on Saturday, Nov. 21, there were a total of 134 applicants. Of this number there will be any where from sixty to seventy per cent qualify for teachers certificates. It depends largely upon the ambition and adaptability of the students themselves.

During the depression which had its beginning in 1929, positions were hard to obtain and salaries suffered accordingly. This is rather easy to account for, since other jobs could not be found. More folks turned to teaching as a means of gaining a livelihood. University graduates could not find work in the fields they had prepared for, and likewise turned to the teaching profession.

In the last year, more gains were made in the teaching profession, than had been made in any year since the beginning of the depression. In this county we had a shortage of teachers for the first time in a good many years. School boards had to import outside teachers. About fourteen per cent of our rural teachers are imported.

Teachers colleges and placement bureaus are expecting a large turnover of positions this year. The shortage may be due to a number of reasons. Many teachers have become discouraged, because of the low wages and have sought other forms of employment. Many have secured government employment and no longer cared to teach, while trades and other professions are taking a number of college graduates.

The normal training schools have served a good purpose. They have enabled many to qualify for certificates who would be unable to go to college. The qualifications of a normal training certificate are as high or higher than the corresponding requirement of a person having only one year of college training.

One In Jail On A Liquor Theft Charge and More Arrests Expected Soon

County law enforcement officials have been busy working on a case involving the stealing of about 30 cases of gin and whiskey from an Atkinson liquor store the past week and they are convinced that they know the identity of the hijackers. In fact, one of the suspects is already in jail and his companion is expected to be apprehended within the next 24 hours.

On Nov. 30 a warrant was issued in county court, on complaint of Frank Weber, for the arrest of Preston Pitcher who was charged by the state of Nebraska for burglary and entering, on or about Nov. 24, 1936, the building of Frank Weber in the city of Atkinson. Pitcher has been apprehended and is now in jail. Another of the parties suspected by the officers will probably be arrested this afternoon.

Following is an account of the theft from the Nov. 27 Graphic: "Atkinson's liquor store, Frank Weber, proprietor, was raided early Tuesday morning by hijackers who stole about thirty cases of gin and whiskey valued by Mr. Weber at between five and six hundred dollars.

"The thieves broke into a back window sometime between 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning. They could not get into the liquor store-room from that part of the building, so they went to the front door, did a fairly expert job of breaking a hole thru the heavy glass of the door so that they could reach in and release the night lock. They boldly carried the liquor out the front door and loaded it into two automobiles.

"That some member of the gang was keeping close tab on Night-watcher Geo. E. Spence, was indicated by the fact that one car had pulled away and was sounding a warning to the other one as Spence rounded the First National bank corner. He saw the car speed away, but did not get close enough to it to see the license number or obtain a description of the men.

LARGE THEFTS OF HAY REPORTED TO SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Hay Stolen With Some of the Losses Reported Being As High As Ten Tons.

For several years chicken stealing was quite an industry in this county, but the arrest and conviction of several parties proven guilty, with good stiff jail sentences, practically eliminated the theft of chickens and the light-fingered gents looked for other worlds to conquer.

The past week the sheriff's office has been busy looking up the complaints of numerous Holt county citizens who have reported the theft of baled hay from their meadows. Joe Skrdla living south of Stuart, reported Tuesday the loss of ten tons of hay. On the same day a Mr. Hales north of Page reported the loss of five tons. This was an exceptionally severe loss to Mr. Hales as he lost several tons of hay in the fire in the eastern part of the county a few months ago.

Another farmer living south of Atkinson reports the loss of ten tons, and a farmer living in the south country reported the loss of a ton and a half. The latter got help from the sheriff's office and the stolen hay was reported for. All the above were reported to the sheriff's office last Tuesday.

Fred Vitt, living a few miles southeast of this city, reported Wednesday the loss of three tons. If the officials can gather in a few of the thieves and convict them, this is a pasture that will rapidly become taboo in this county.

Court House Rapidly Nearing Completion

The work on the court house is rapidly nearing completion and the first of the year should see the new building practically completed. A full force of painters are now at work, every available painter in the city having secured work on the building. A full force of finishing carpenters are at work and those in charge of construction are of the opinion that the building will be practically completed by the first of the year. It was that for a time that it would be finished about Dec. 15, and that it would be occupied by Jan. 1, but delay in securing some of the material used in the finishing, has delayed its completion.

Last week the board received bids for lights, office fixtures and linoleum for the offices on the first and second floors, including the court room. The bid of $1,238.18 of O. F. Biglin of this city was low on the linoleum, being about $200 lower than the next low bidder. Their bid has been recommended for acceptance, but as yet no word has been received from headquarters as to accepting it. There will be no linoleum laid in the basement or on the third floor. The low bids for the other supplies were accepted but no acknowledgement of their acceptance has yet been received from the federal agency, who has to approve all contracts.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Walsh (Kathleen Doyle) after which Mr. and Mrs. Byrne left for a brief trip which will include Chicago and points in Wisconsin. They will make their home on the Byrne farm at Parnell.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Joseph Donnelly (Virginia Testman), Mrs. Edwin D. Bolger (Madeline Doyle) and Marguerite Doyle, of Grand Rapids.
