

Over the County

SOUTHWEST BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

Miss Baker and Miss Saunders went to Atkinson a day last week.

Maybe the president would like to include the state and county courts.

Not many counties are so flooded with "important business" requiring the maintenance of two court houses.

With an historic background of less than six thousand years, man assumes to go back fifty million years in his guess work.

Sunday was a reminder of the dust-clouded days of '34 but the wind succeeded in bringing us a good rain during the night.

Fifteen liquor vending places in a town of less than three thousand is a step toward the reenactment of the prohibition amendment.

The Cuttler family were at Ericson several days last week, being called there by the illness and death of Mr. Cuttler's father.

Attention of the New Deal parity adjusters is invited to the drop of cream under 30 cents and cow feed remaining at prohibitory prices.

There are three perfectly good rain coats in the house but at this writing the outlook for the need of wearing them is not at all hopeful.

The labor fanatic that sent the insolent letter to the legislature should take a cruise out and discover that Omaha is not the State of Nebraska.

One of the most recent contributions to scientific achievements is a husky from the tall timber performing the act of shaving with a double-bitted ax.

Capitol Hill news writers are taking some liberties. One member of the cabinet is spoken of as a "washout," while the chief justice is described as a smart man held in great esteem in Washington.

It requires fifty-three lines of supervisors' proceedings in the granting of a measly $10 a month mother's pension for two months and five lines to disburse over $5,000 of county funds for claims against the bridge fund.

Miss Holbert, serving as Methodist Episcopal pastor at Emmet and Amelia, spent Friday night and Saturday as the guest of Mrs. Eu Dora Plank, teacher at the Berry school. Miss Holbert, accompanied by Mrs. Plank, visited a few homes, our own being among those favored.

Peculiar situations have arisen under the soil conservation administration. Two neighbors down here went into it last year. Each gave in a stated acreage and sowed crop as instructed. One reported receiving $82 and the other nothing. As to the net results in the two fields, they are identical—an abundant accumulation of dry weeds.

Just as it seemed possible that the next thing would be license plates for the wheel barrow, a group is now asking for a law exempting homes of from $3,000 to $5,000 from taxation. This would take from the tax rolls many properties in Holt county. It is suggested to substitute a sales tax. In all government planning, from county up, there seems to be no thought of cutting the cost.

Apparently not having had enough work in the field to subdue his vast energies, a gelding at a neighbor's ranch, when the team was brought in Friday evening and turned loose at the barn door, instead of heading for his stall took to his heels and put on a fast runway show. When he finally came to his senses by crashing into a cable stretched across a gate, the collar, harness and one tug was all that was left of his harness.

WE HAVE CHANGED NOTHING BUT THE PRICE

Table listing Gamble's tire prices for various sizes and ply ratings, showing a reduction in prices.

Here's perhaps the most drastic, startling change in price policy that has been made by anyone in the tire industry in many years.

How can we do it? Here's how. We believe the general public is sick and tired of all the confusion about 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th line tires. For that reason Gamble Stores are now carrying only one complete line of tires—our top grade 1st line CREST—the finest a great modern factory with almost 40 years experience knows how to build.
