Legislators Pass Bill for Appropriations That Is Over 54 Million Dollars

The legislature has set a goal of May 12 as the date for adjournment, but many are doubtful as to whether the necessary work that must be done can be accomplished by that time.

Governor Cochran's veto of the air fuel refund bill has received the support of the legislature. Frank Brady moved to pass the bill over the governor's veto, but the motion was lost.

With almost unbelievable celerity the legislature worked on the morning of May 4, and succeeded in passing eighteen bills. Of these, one of the most important was LB 367, the revision of the blue sky law. By its provisions, all dealers and brokers in securities, and all corporations, except those whose stock is to be retained by the incorporators, are required to obtain permits to do business from the bureau of securities of the state insurance department. This bureau must pass upon securities before they can be offered for sale in Nebraska. Securities coming under blue sky provisions and those exempt are more clearly defined than they have ever been before.

Esther Sexsmith Wed Monday to John Selders

On Monday morning, May 10, the local Methodist church was the place of a beautiful ceremony when John Selders and Esther Sexsmith were joined in holy wedlock. At 10 o'clock Miss Alice Sexsmith, a sister of the bride, played a piano selection, "Sabbath Chimes" which was followed by "I Love You Truly" sung by Miss Ruth Kraemer. Then to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, the bridal couple marched down the aisle attended by Miss Velma Sexsmith and Mr. John Davis. The marriage lines were read by Rev. D. S. Conrad of O'Neill, the ring ceremony being used. After the benediction Rev. Conrad introduced the newly married couple who received the good wishes and congratulations of their friends.

The local Lions Club entertained for their ladies at their regular meeting last Thursday evening. Twenty-six Lions and their ladies were present together with twenty other guests.

Ira D. Kyle, district governor, was chief speaker of the evening and gave a very interesting address on "Lionism." L. P. DeWitt of Lynch demonstrated his ability as a ventriloquist to the delight of all present. Mrs. Vesta Van Dahl of Hartington entertained with several readings which were very well received. The ladies trio composed of Mrs. Harold Lindberg, Miss Ruth Kraemer and Mrs. Ted McElhane sang two excellent selections.

Jack Kersenbrock Is Holding His Own

John Kersenbrock drove down to Lincoln last Sunday morning and spent the day with his wife and son Jack. John says that Jack is doing as well as could be expected, considering the seriousness of his case. The long strain has had its effect on Mrs. Kersenbrock and she was under the weather a couple of days last week.

This neighborhood did what it could to help fill the churches at Amelia last Sunday. Miss Holbert was out from Emmet and preached to an audience which filled the Methodist church. The usual Sunday devotions were held at the Catholic church with a large attendance.

The closing of school in the Watson district was the occasion for a picnic Monday. A similar observance in the Berry district, with a program, was held Saturday. Mrs. Plank, drove to her home in eastern Wheeler county, returning a few days later with a trailer to convey her things home.

Anxiety ran high at E. E. Young's a day last week. Little Samy was missing. A little more than a baby but able to get around just the same, the little boy was eventually sighted on the hills, fed to the east with "Buster," a great Newfoundland dog belonging to the family. The child explained his wanderings on the grounds that "Buster was going away with Samy."

The figures disclose that the G. O. P. got 36.6 per cent of the popular vote last November with many sections going much in excess of that for their candidate for governor and other local offices. Of the three successive democratic defeats of 1920, 1924 and 1928 the lowest ebb in the popular vote was 29 per cent. The knockout blow of 1936, overwhelming as it was, so far as the failure to win office stands for defeat of the republican party was not as bad as more than one experience at the polls of those tenacious adherents of a political theory embodied in a donkey.

The national W. C. T. U., which organization had more to do with shaping sentiment that forced the adoption of the late lamented Eighteenth amendment than is generally conceded, professes to see again a swing of public fancy in that direction. Omaha started two years ago with between 800 and 900 saloons and no reduction in number since. Little country towns are adding to the amber flow with ten to fifteen licensed places for quenching of a mighty thirst that is never quenched, so we seem to not be in the reckoning of the ladies. So far as Nebraska is concerned the sow that was washed has definitely returned to her wallowing in the mire.

You fellows that roll out of free trade blankets in time to slouch down to a stuffy office by 9 or 10 o'clock are missing the allurements of nature that comes only with the early dawn out on the far-flung open spaces. In the calm of morning's brief period, the sky touched with the first pink tints of a new day, meadow and field lying wet under the night's dew and mists hanging low along the valley its a bit of fun that even all men cannot resist to swing into the saddle and ride out over the range to round in the milk stock. The profusion of floral bloom in enticing robes of blue and yellow and red winking up at you from the sod add color and fragrance to this commonplace morning chore that begins the day's activities at this season in the southwest.

Dishner Is Appointed Receiver of Northern Nebraska Power Corp.

A couple of weeks ago a suit was filed in the district court by the First Trust & Mortgage company of St. Paul, Minn., seeking to foreclose a mortgage given by the Northern Nebraska Power Corporation, owners of the Spencer dam.

According to their petition the Power Company is indebted to the Trust Company in the sum of $214,250, the mortgages being given to secure bonds for that amount issued by the Power company. The petition contains two counts. In the first count they sue for $114,500 and in the second cause of action for $95,750, the latter loan being received by the Power Company in February, 1936. The dam went out last September and since that time no effort has been made to repair the damage and the company is said to be broke. The petition asked that a receiver be appointed to conserve the property and they suggested that Frank J. Dishner be appointed as such receiver.

The cause came on for hearing last Tuesday on the application for a receiver and the court granted the prayer of the petitioners and M. Dishner was appointed receiver for the Northern Nebraska Power company.

Connolly Boys Celebrate Fathers Arrival In O'Neill

Wednesday the Connolly boys were celebrating the sixty-third anniversary of the arrival of their father in O'Neill. Mr. Connolly and his wife were members of the original General John O'Neill colony that came to this city on May 12, 1874, and founded O'Neill.

Of the original colony that came here with General O'Neill in 1874 there are the descendants of of but three of the original colonists left in the city or county. They are the children of the late Col. Neil Brennan, Thomas and Miss Bernadette, who are still residents of the city, and the children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connolly, who came here from Patterson, N. J., with the colony. There are three of his sons living, and all are residents of O'Neill. They are Patrick, Francis and Thomas and Pat's family. There is also the family of their eldest brother, James, who passed away several years ago. They are all direct descendants of the original colonists.

After sixty-three years the descendants of but three of the original colony here. It is evident that the children of these pioneers had faith in the selections made by their parents when Nebraska was young and we hope that they will reside here and be happy for many years to come in the city that was started by their forefathers.

One of Two Sentenced Here On Shoplifting Charges Makes Escape

Two tourists arrived in the city some time last Saturday. That evening one of them was caught getting away with three hats from the J. C. Penney store. He was captured by Manager Pete Todsens and was thrown in the city jail. A little later his partner was also picked up and in his room was found a couple of jackets that George Fox recognized as having been taken from his store.

They were arraigned before Judge Bay on Monday and were given thirty days in the "Hoosergow" at hard labor, the labor to be performed upon the streets of the city. They gave their names as W. A. Harrison of California, and Ed P. Settle of Colorado, the former being the one that was captured by Todsens.

Harrison was taken out on the streets for work Tuesday, under the street man, and he got away, and has shaken the dust of the city from his feet. The other man is still confined in the city jail. Local officials say that the two men are "dope heads."

Continental Oil Co. Finds Newspaper Advertising Is Best Sales Promotion

Convinced that newspaper space represents the most advantageous medium for merchandising its products as evidenced by substantial increases in sales of Conoco germ-processed motor oil following past newspaper advertising campaigns, Continental Oil company is again launching a large-scale advertising campaign in some 1,400 carefully selected papers in all sections of the nation. The campaign will continue into September and will be distinguished by the fact that it will feature the local dealer as well as the company's oil.

Surveys conducted by Continental's advertising department showed two factors which decided the nature of the forthcoming campaign. First, it was ascertained that the best sales results followed the use of newspaper advertising; and second, that the average motorist is far more concerned with the mileage he obtains from his motor oil than any other single factor.

Correlating this information with the fact that Continental distribution is now conducted entirely thru local independent dealers, the advertising campaign will stress that each dealer is a "mileage merchant" who, in order to retain his customers and gain new ones, must sell mileage in the form of a motor oil which will give efficient service.

Rev. Markey Gives His First Mass Here Sunday

Rev. Francis Markey arrived here last Friday night from Santa Fe, N. M., where on last Thursday he was ordained to the priesthood, and celebrated his first high mass in St. Patrick's church last Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Markey is a nephew of Mrs. F. E. McMillan and Miss Markey and John Markey and has visited on various occasions here during the past ten years. He left here Thursday morning for his old home town, Stockton, Cal., where he will visit relatives and friends until June 1, when he will report for duty at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Twelve Coyote Cubs Dug From One Den

E. A. Steskal, living northwest of this city, was in town last Monday having with him the scalps of twelve little coyotes that he had dug out of one hole on the Ed Early farm adjoining his place. These pups were all of one litter, so it can be seen that they multiply very rapidly. As their scalps are worth $1.00 a piece, it was a good morning's work.
