SHIELDS

This community was saddened by the death of an old time pioneer, Mrs. Catherine Matthews, one of the first of a colony that immigrated here from Beaver Meadows, Carbon county, Pa., about ten years after Nebraska was admitted to statehood. And it was she who could tell the incidents of the hardships and sacrifice this colony was compelled to endure to make the necessary provisions for the families. She was one of the first school teachers in district No. 9, when it was first organized, also in district 24, her home district, where she taught for several years. The model which these great

Telephone wires and cable connecting O'Neill with New York City cost many millions of dollars and required years to build . . . but you can use them for only $2.25 plus 20 cents federal tax. (This is the night and all day Sunday rate for a three-minute conversation when you ask to talk with anyone available at the telephone called.)

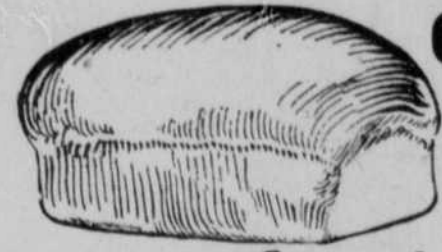

Efficiency and economy in providing telephone service has given the United States the best and, for its value and quality, the lowest priced telephone service in the world.

pioneers—men and women—present, modern men and women seem to be lacking compared with the advantages we have today. Determined to conquer at a great disadvantage, the closest railroad station 80 miles from O'Neill, Mrs. Matthews and her husband, who preceded here in death in 1907, is part of the endowment of the first period in the history of this county. Silver or treasure was not so much a part of that period as the lives and devotion of those who contributed to its making.

Mrs. Matthews was a Catholic woman whose strong faith, cheerfulness and her interest in the welfare of others formed the best index of her character. Always interested in everything that pertained to the welfare of the community in which she lived. The Table at their home invariably found many friends, young and old, who liked to go there because they found a friendly atmosphere that prevailed among all those original pioneers, that were compelled to live in either a sod or log house that decorated these prairies when we first arrived here from the same town and county in Pennsylvania (Continued on page 8, column 4.)

CHEVROLET TRUCKS

Chevrolet users say:

"They're the most economical trucks for all-round duty"

- Perfected Hydraulic Brakes . . . Greatest Pulling Power in Their Price Range . . . New Steelstream Styling

Thousands of Chevrolet users will tell you that the best answer to your transportation needs is—Chevrolet trucks!

Chevrolet trucks have the greatest pulling power in their price range . . . because they have a New High-Compression Valve-in-Head Engine which wrings the last ounce of power out of every gallon of fuel.

Chevrolet trucks are the most economical for all-round duty . . . because they give maximum gas and oil mileage, and will keep on serving over a long period with minimum care and attention.

And Chevrolet trucks are safer, more modern, more durable . . . because they're the only low-priced trucks with Perfected Hydraulic Brakes, New Steelstream Styling, and extra-strong Chevrolet construction throughout.
