Don't Skimp ... But Save!

Sometimes we confuse skimping with saving. We measure our purchasing by someone else's price rule.

Saving means getting full value for every penny while paying less than we would have to pay elsewhere.

Skimping means doing without what we need because the price includes something we are not getting.

The ads in this newspaper are open doors to your savings department. Skimping is unpleasant... saving is a pleasure. Follow our ad pages and discover the difference.
